SENATE PASSES FARM BILL OVER F. D. R. PROTEST

Price Boost Called Peril to Defense.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—A bill opposed by Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard on the ground that it would add a billion dollars a year to the food bill of American consumers and denounced by President Roosevelt as a menace to the nation's war effort was passed by the senate today by the overwhelming vote of 50 to 23.

The farm price boosting bill, which now goes to the house, forbids the sale of the huge stocks of farm commodities now held by the government at prices below parity.

Passage of the bill represented another major triumph for the farm state senators and a severe defeat for the administration. In a final effort to prevent adoption of the legislation, President Roosevelt sent a letter to Vice President Henry A. Wallace, which was read to the senate this afternoon.

Sees Damage to War Effort.

"I believe that irreparable damage to the war effort and to the farmers of this country would result from the enactment of this legislation," said the President.

"In this hour, when the very existence of our nation as a free people is at stake, we cannot afford to indulge in the promotion of selfish interests such as are involved in this legislation.

"Food production is playing a vital part in the conduct of the war. Not only this country but all of the united nations are relying upon abundant production of food by the farmers of America. The two classes of products, of which we have the greatest need for increased production, are live stock products and oil producing crops.

Expansion Impeded.

"Expansion in the production of both of these classes of products would be impeded by the enactment of legislation restricting the sale or disposition of the corn, wheat, and other products held by the Commodity Credit corporation."

The President stated that a favorable ratio between the price of food and the price of live stock products can be maintained only by an expansion of the production of live stock products. This expansion would be seriously impeded by an increase in the cost of feed to dairy, poultry, and live stock producers.

"The curtailment of the production of live stock products would, of course, be followed by higher prices for live stock products and substantial increases in the cost of living, which in turn would lead to more inflation and demands for higher wages," the President wrote.

This is how the Chicagoland senators voted:

For—Gillette [D., Ia.], Herring [D., Ia.], La Follette [P., Wis.], Wiley [R., Wis.]

Paired against—Vandenberg [R., Mich.].

Not voting but announced as for—Willis [R., Ind.].

Compromise Rejected.

The senate rejected, by a vote of 48 to 24, a compromise amendment by Sen. Prentiss M. Brown [D., Mich.] forbidding the sale of government held farm commodities at a price which, together with parity subsidies and soil conservation payments, would yield a return below parity.

Sen. Brown told the senate that the commodity credit corporation owns outright or controls under loans of 85 per cent of parity a total of 15,000,000 bushels of barley, 394,000,000 bushels of corn, 7,296,000 bales of cotton, 677,000 bushels of flaxseed, 3,067,000 bushels of rye, 338,000,000 pounds of tobacco, and 518,000,000 bushels of wheat. The book value of these commodities, he said, is between 1 billion

Movie Slayer Tells Why He Killed Girl

Feared Losing School Beauty to Other Boys

Dorothy Broz, Morton High school's 17 year old "All-American girl," was headed for college, a business career, and a happy future. Clarence McDonald, her swain, also 17, who lived near her in Berwyn, had left school and saw the gay and popular girl drifting away from him. And so, after planning the crime for three days, he shot her to death on Tuesday afternoon in the balcony of the Palace theater, 159 West Randolph street.

This motive for the sensational crime was accepted by police and coroner's investigators last night after questioning the slayer for 18 hours. McDonald talked freely of the murder and admitted it was premeditated, but baffled the investigators for hours as they sought a reason for the killing.

"Terribly Jealous," He Says.

Eventually, however, they came back to McDonald's explanation, made repeatedly during the day under questioning of Sergts. Francis Donohue and Ollie Karwoski of the coroner's office, Capt. Tom Duffy of the police department, and Wilbert Crowley, first assistant state's attorney.

"I was terribly jealous of her," McDonald told police. "I admit I wasn't jealous of any one else in particular. She didn't have a lot of dates. But she was terribly popular at school. All the boys were after her. I was afraid she'd never marry me.

"She told me about a year ago that we could eventually be married. But she said we would have to wait while she went to college. She was going to the University of Chicago. She said she planned to become a business secretary too. After she did all these other things, she said, we could be married.

A "Wonderful Girl."

"Finally she said we would have to be married according to church laws. She was a wonderful girl. She was devout because she wanted to be.

"I had drifted away from the church and I knew that her family objected to me. So I finally decided that if I couldn't have her I didn't want any one else to have her."

Sergeants Karwoski and Donohue said this did not sound reasonable. McDonald repeated his story to Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney's office, and Capt. Duffy. Then he retold it for a third time last night to Prosecutor Crowley.

"It was nothing else but what I've told you," McDonald said wearily. "I loved her and wanted nobody else to have her if I couldn't."

"Why, you seem satisfied with the terrible crime you've committed," Crowley said.

Earlier Threat of Death.

He first threatened Dorothy's life two weeks ago, McDonald said, about the time he conceived the idea of slaying her. He met her at that time in a Berwyn bowling alley, where she frequently went with her parents and with other boys and girls from Morton High school.

On this occasion, McDonald said, he called Dorothy aside and talked "seriously" with her.

"I asked her if she would go

A Union Agent Loses Bout to Plant Owner

There are minor points of difference in the stories told about what happened yesterday afternoon in the offices of the Superior Electrical Industries at 2614 North avenue. About the main fact there is no dispute—the president of the concern and a union business agent had a fight and the business agent, who came out of the fracas a bad second, complained to the police.

Richard Ross, 36 years old, 864 Newport avenue, is the rueful union agent. His organization is local 430, United Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, affiliated with the United Federation of Labor, of which Ross, who has a police record, is president. Burt Naster, 37, is the president of the electric company.

Threat Is Discussed.

"I went to the office," said Ross, "in answer to a call. Naster said he wanted to talk over a contract that expires March 15. When I went in Naster locked the door and said he had heard I was threatening to lock up his place.

"With that he went over to the corner of the room, got a short shotgun and held me while he hit me with it."

Police told Ross he would have to get out a warrant for Naster if he wanted action. Ross, whose lip had been cut, said he would think it over.

Naster denied having had a shotgun or any weapon. He said he used his fists after telling Ross he would throw him off the premises if he came around threatening anybody.

"Pretty Well Out!"

"He said I wasn't man enough to do that and took off his coat," said Naster. "I took mine off and we mixed. He was pretty well out."

"Our plant is doing defense work, making transformers for the armed forces. Ross hasn't any business in it and he's not going to cut our production. I'm going to see to that."

Sergt. George Barnes of the police labor detail recalled that Ross has been arrested several times. He said police will protect the plant if needed.

Ross was sentenced in 1921 to six months in the Bridewell for larceny; in August, 1939, he was put on probation for a year for assault, and he was fined $25 and costs last August for threatening workers who wouldn't join his union.

WARN BUSINESS: WATCH P'S AND Q'S, ALSO X, Y, AND Z'S

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 [Special].—An American business man must watch more than his P's and Q's in dealing with the government these days; he must be on the alert for the significance of all the other letters of the alphabet. Excerpts from a bulletin issued by the War Production board today for the guidance of industry follow:

"The date on which PD-1A and PD-3A forms must be used in place of forms PD-1, PD-3, PD-4, and PD-5 has been postponed from March 2 to March 15 by amendment No. 1 of priorities regulation No. 3, issued today by the director of industry operations.

"An addition to paragraph A provides that after March 15 preference ratings which have been assigned prior to that date on PD-3, PD-4, and PD-5 certificates must be extended in conformity with the provisions applicable to PD-3A."

CENSUS REVEALS 1 OUT OF 12 ON PUBLIC PAY ROLL

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—One employed person out of every 12 works for a governmental agency.

This estimate was made by the census bureau today on the basis of a study of federal, state, and local governmental pay rolls as they were at the beginning of the year.

The bureau said that—excluding the armed forces and relief recipients—federal, state, and local pay rolls included about 4,800,000 persons. Of these about 1,500,000 work for the federal government, 1,300,000 for public educational institutions, 500,000 for state governments, 940,000 for municipalities, and 500,000 for counties and other governmental units.

WPB Finally Lets It Out: No Rubber Girdles

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—After more than a month of indecision, the War Production board finally made up its mind today and prohibited the use of rubber in corsets and girdles.

Then, to balance bad news for the girls, the board threw in a general prohibition broad enough to cover men's garters and suspenders.

No More Rubber Thread.

Arthur Newhall, chief of the WPB rubber branch, and R. R. Guthrie, head of the textile branch, issued a joint announcement that rubber no longer would be available for the rubber thread used in making corsets, girdles, and other foundation garments, or any type of elastic bands used in clothing. Surgical type garments, made to WPB specifications, are exempt.

Guthrie declared the action was necessary—despite an announcement last month that some rubber would be made available for corsets and girdles—because of the "acute rubber situation when every pound of rubber saved contributes to the war program."

Substitutes Planned.

Every effort would be made, he said, to provide the industry with other materials for production of essential foundation garments.

In this connection, a spokesman for the corset and brassiere manufacturers declared that the industry was determined to use all possible ingenuity to produce as satisfactory garments as can be made with whatever materials are available.

7 SOLDIERS KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS BUS AT ENID, OKLA.

Enid, Okla., Feb. 26 [Thursday]—(AP).—Seven soldiers were killed and an undetermined number injured early today as a Rock Island freight train ploughed into a bus load of enlisted men during a snow storm a half mile west of Enid.

Maj. W. A. Stephens, post adjutant of the Enid Flying school, said the bus carried between 35 and 40 men.

The soldiers were returning to their barracks when the crash occurred.

STORY OF NAVAL DISASTER OFF NEWFOUNDLAND

200 Missing After Wreck in Gale.

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Feb. 25 (AP).—The rescue of an additional 125 survivors of the United States destroyer Truxtun and the naval supply ship Pollux was reported here tonight. At the same time the first thrilling details were told of a heroic battle which Newfoundlanders and the American officers and seamen waged against the elements as their vessels were pounded to pieces on Newfoundland's rocks in a blizzard.

There were 168 survivors [only 43 had been reported before], reports reaching here said tonight, while 200 others are known to be dead or missing. Late today 118 bodies had been recovered from the surf 200 feet below the tops of the towering cliffs near the village of St. Lawrence.

The navy in Washington, D. C., yesterday had identified 189 officers and men as lost in the recent double wreck. The two ships were part of a large American convoy, the destination of which was not disclosed.

Four Sailors Reach Shore.

The ships had been cast on the rocks by a driving southeasterly gale some four hours before Newfoundlanders were aware of the fact, and it might have been much longer if four Truxton sailors had not managed to reach shore on a raft.

The ships were smashed against the shore at 4:30 a. m., and at 8:30 a. m. one of the quartet on the raft walked into Iron Springs, location of the St. Lawrence fluorspar corporation, and asked the assistant manager, Howard Farrell, for assistance.

The 1,200 ton destroyer had grounded at Chamber's cove, just outside St. Lawrence harbor, while the 6,085 ton Pollux was aground at Laun's point, about a mile and a half farther west. Almost miraculously, a second American destroyer from the convoy which also had run aground was lifted from the trap by a huge wave, and the vessel was able to chug out to safety.

Stop Work; Rush to Rescue.

The scene of the wrecks was near the United States naval base of Argentia.

Upon learning of the Truxtun wreck Farrell immediately ordered all work stopped in the mine, and all employés hastened to the scene. Word spread, and other Newfoundlanders responded similarly.

A master of a coastal boat, a Capt. Connors, who was sheltering from the storm in St. Lawrence harbor steamed out to the scene of the wrecks, but from there was unable to assist because of the heavy seas. He then made his way to Chamber's cove and with others lowered men by ropes in a wobbly bosun's chair down the abrupt cliffs to a ledge near sea level 200 feet down, where many survivors had found a hazardous haven. The survivors were hauled up in the chair.

Every Move a Danger.

Heavy seas crashing over the ledge made every move a scrape with death. Survivors sometimes were swept back into the seas, and the rescuers plunged into the freezing water to bring them back. Other rescuers similarly braved the seas to help bring in survivors clinging to bits of wreckage.

The Newfoundlanders tried also to stretch ropes across the cove to reach men still aboard the battered Truxtun, but high winds prevented success there.

It was not until 2 p. m. that St. Lawrence villagers learned that the Pollux also had grounded. Part of the rescue party immediately went to Laun's point, and a salvage ship arrived, apparently from Argentia, but it could not help from the sea. One boat from the Pollux made shore safely.

Praised by Mr. Roosevelt.

Covered with oil, frost bitten and exhausted by exposure, the rescued men were taken to Iron Springs.

For their work the residents of St. Lawrence were praised today by President Roosevelt, who sent a message to them saying that he had "just learned of the magnificent and courageous work you have rendered and the sacrifices you made in rescuing and caring for the personnel of the United States ships which grounded on your shores."

DIGEST OF NEWS FROM ALL WAR FRONTS OF WORLD

Latest war developments:

In Burma, American and RAF pilots shot down 30 Japanese planes over Rangoon and attacked Japanese forces on the Sittang river while the British reorganized their lines, according to a dispatch from Rangoon. A Mandalay report said the British were demolishing oil and other vital installations below Rangoon to keep them from falling into the enemy's hands. Indians were reported evacuating the Bay of Bengal region adjoining Burma.

Six United States "flying fortresses" sank two large Japanese transports at Macassar, on Celebes Island, while other American flyers downed at least three enemy planes over Java, the war department announced. Batavia asserted that "allied planes" had sunk three transports at Macassar in attacking what was believed to be a new enemy concentration for a direct thrust at Java.

Admit Java "Encircled."

Dutch authorities admitted Java was "completely encircled" by Japanese forces and needed "considerable reënforcements," particularly planes. Tokio revealed that a Japanese admiral had been killed in fighting off Borneo.

Australian planes bombed Japanese forces massing for an expected invasion of that continent, a Canberra communique said. Guns, military buildings, planes, and three ships were reported smashed or fired from Timor Island on the northwest to New Britain on the northeast. The Japanese reënforced their units on Timor with new parachute troops and bombed Port Moresby, New Guinea, Australians admitted.

Lull in Philippines.

Sharp patrol clashes in the Philippines resulted successfully for Gen. MacArthur's troops, according to a war department communique.

In Moscow, Russian claims indicated the Red army had occupied Staraya Russa as part of a plan to trap all Germans in northwestern Russia. Important Red gains on other fronts also were claimed.

A severe sandstorm hampered fighting in Africa, according to a British communique from Cairo.

AUSTRALIAN GENERAL IN BATAVIA AFTER ESCAPING SINGAPORE

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Feb. 26 [Thursday]—(AP).—Maj. Gen. Henry Gordon Bennett, commander of the Australian imperial forces in Malaya, has reached Batavia after escaping from Singapore in a large Chinese junk which required four days to reach neighboring Sumatra.

With him were his aide-de-camp, Lieut. Gordon Walker, eight members of the Singapore volunteers and seven members of British regiments.

A group of Australian officers decided on a Thursday [date unspecified] that the great base inevitably would have to be given up, as it was on Sunday, Feb. 15. They decided to attempt to escape, taking Gen. Bennett with them, Lieut. Walker related in an interview after their arrival here.

Walker said he swam out to one large sampan three nights later, rowed it back to shore and the party set out. At midnight their sampan bumped into a large sea-going junk with six British officers aboard. Bennett and his group boarded the junk and at dawn they were only a half-mile from the fortified island of Blankang Mati which already was in Japanese hands.

But the group managed to thread their way thru all the islands off Singapore and reach Sumatra from which they were flown to Batavia.

U. S. FLYERS SINK 2 JAP SHIPS IN MACASSAR RAID

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—American pilots and bombardiers fighting in the Netherlands East Indies sank two large Japanese transports, shot down at least three enemy aircraft and damaged several more in three separate actions, the war department reported today. There were no American losses.

The transports were reported sunk by a flight of six army flying fortress bombers at Macassar, Japanese held port on the southwestern tip of the Island of Celebes, 400 miles northeast of Java.

[A Dutch communique from Bandoeng, Java, apparently referring to the same action, said allied bombing planes had sunk three large Japanese transports off Macassar. The Japanese transports were believed by the Dutch to be part of an enemy invasion fleet massing at Macassar for a direct assault on the main Dutch island of Java.]

Intercept 92 Jap Planes.

Over Surabaya, the Java north coast port and the last major naval base left to the united nations in the Indies, a formation of American P-40 pursuit planes intercepted 52 Japanese bombers, protected by 40 fighters.

In the ensuing battle, a communique said, one enemy bomber was shot down, and hits were scored on several other Japanese planes.

In an earlier action over Java, the war department reported, seven P-40s intercepted a formation of nine enemy bombers escorted by 14 fighters. In a swift attack, the American pilots shot down one bomber and one fighter, damaged four other bombers and two fighters, and forced the entire formation to turn back.

These encounters brought to at least 51 the total of enemy planes destroyed in the air or on the ground by American pilots in the Netherlands East Indies since Jan. 1.

Bomb Jap Field in Sumatra.

BANDOENG, Java, Feb. 25 (AP).—Despite allied aerial successes, including destruction of three grounded planes in a raid on a Japanese airdrome near Palembang, southern Sumatra, Dutch sources tonight warned that this island stronghold is completely surrounded by Japanese. "Considerable reënforcements" are greatly needed, it was stated.

Altho communications between Java and Australia were said to be functioning normally despite Japanese occupation of the Islands of Bali and Timor, an authoritative spokesman said the Nipponese encirclement of the main Dutch island was regarded as perilous.

"On the other hand," he added, "a favorable aspect of the situation is the fact that the Japanese forces are spread over a large area. If more planes are sent to Java, it will be possible to obtain local superiority and wipe out the Japanese invasion forces."

Japanese planes bombed Tandjong Priok, harbor of Batavia; an airdrome near Bandoeng, and naval objectives near Surabaya. Dutch defenders shot down at least one bomber and one fighter.

Japanese Admiral Killed.

TOKIO, Feb. 25 [from Japanese broadcasts]—(AP).—The Japanese navy ministry announced today that Rear Adm. Shusaku Shibuya had been killed in action yesterday off Borneo.

Imperial headquarters said Japanese air raiders had delivered a "mortal blow to the British and Dutch air forces" by destroying 68 allied warplanes based in Java yesterday at a cost of only one damaged.

Cigaret Case Aids Escape.

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Feb. 26 [Thursday]—(AP).—A tiny pictorial map on a souvenir cigaret case guided 17 American airmen flying several United States flying boats on their escape from the Philippines to the Netherlands Indies, it was disclosed today.

None of them ever had flown the route, which passes over a vast area of countless islands, and only the bare outlines of the main islands of Sumatra, Borneo, Java, Celebes, and New Guinea appeared on the treasured silver case the pilot of the leading plane had picked up on a previous visit to the Indies.

U. S. AND BRITISH BAG 30 PLANES ABOVE RANGOON

Indians Evacuating Bay Area Near Burma.

RANGOON, Burma, Feb. 25 (AP).—American and British pilots, defending the air over Rangoon by smashing some 30 enemy planes, struck out today in offensive sweeps against the packed masses of Japanese troops along the Sittang river while the British land forces reorganized their lines during a lull in action.

Aside from this high score in the destruction of enemy aircraft—and a communique made plain that the toll may exceed 30 when all reports are in—two Japanese river boats were sunk near fallen Moulmein on the Salween river, a rearward operational base for the invader.

[More than 400 miles northwest of Rangoon, certain areas of the Chittagong district of India, nearest to Burma on the shores of the Bay of Bengal, were being evacuated, a Madras official statement said, as a "purely precautionary measure." Chittagong is just east of Calcutta and the mouths of the Ganges. The Madras statement said there was no reason for panic.]

Set for Fateful Stand.

On the Sittang's west bank—in an area only 60 miles short of Rangoon, a city all but depopulated—the British field command deployed its forces for a fateful stand along that last natural barrier short of this ancient capital.

"On the northern front," the afternoon British communique announced, "there is nothing to report.

"On instructions from the governor of Burma, a military commander has been appointed in Rangoon to prevent looting and arson. Curfew has been ordered from tonight in Rangoon."

DEMOLISH OIL REFINERY

MANDALAY, Burma, Feb. 25 (AP).—Fires and explosions down river from Rangoon and demolition of a vital oil refinery by the British forces—according to plan—was reported today by civilians arriving from the Burmese capital.

The British forces north of Rangoon were reported maintaining their resistance against the Japanese west of the Sittang river after yet another withdrawal. But certain English and Indian battalions had lost heavily in the prolonged fighting against superior numbers.

The Japanese were reported unofficially to have bombed heavily the secondary Burmese port of Bassein, which lies 100 miles due west of Rangoon in southwest Burma and, like Rangoon, has a railway leading northward from it.

Expect New Jap Invasion.

In the north of Burma the long expected Japanese offensive against the southern Shan states was believed to be getting under way from the bases of Chiengmai and Chiengrai in Thailand. Thousands of Chinese troops are reported in that area.

Some observers considered, however, that this would be a mopping up operation, since the Rangoon delta is the heart of Burma and it already is at Japanese fingertips.

22 Fined and Jailed for Drunkenness in Honolulu

HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 25 (AP).—A military court imposed stiff sentences today on the first persons convicted of drunkenness since restrictions against the sale of liquor in the Hawaiian Islands were lifted. Five women and 17 men were fined from $100 to $500 each and sentenced to jail terms ranging from one to six months. Their permits to purchase liquor also were revoked.

HEROISM OF U. S. WOMEN IN BOMB ATTACK IS TOLD

2 Calm Children, Help Injured in Jap Raid.

MANDALAY, Burma, Feb. 25 (AP).—From two girl civilians injured by Japanese bombs in a raid Feb. 18 on Pyinmana railroad station, 170 miles north of Rangoon, came the first eyewitness accounts today of the heroism and cool nerve of two American women missionaries.

When 50 civilians were killed in the railroad yards and 100 were killed in a native bazar in that one 5 minute raid, Miss Mary Laughlin of Huron, S. D., and Miss Stell Ebersole of New Carlisle, O., gathered up the wounded.

Calm 69 Children.

They calmed 69 children whose school principal from Moulmein had been killed, bandaged the injured, and held flashlights while a surgeon amputated limbs and sewed up wounds the following night.

Besides the 150 killed, many were trapped by fire and many were wounded.

Girl Fatally Wounded.

Misses Ebersole and Laughlin, who had had charge of American Baptist schools in Rangoon, had been working in the civilian evacuation department there since the start of the war and were escorting 23 department employés, mostly girls, to the north when the attack came.

One girl, cowering beside Miss Ebersole, was wounded fatally. Altogether, five of the party were killed.

DUTCH CHIEFTAIN URGES: TAKE TIP FROM MacARTHUR

BATAVIA, N. E. I., Feb. 26 [Thursday]—(AP).—Lieut. Gov. Gen. Hubertus J. van Mook told the Netherlands East Indies people last night in a broadcast that "the foreign troops which are here will remain and will be maintained thru a regular stream of reënforcements."

He asked his listeners to consider Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the Philippines "who keeps up his resistance in circumstances which are much more difficult than ours," and added that the American general "has taught us that the enemy is not invincible if we only stand and attack."

"The time for destruction and withdrawal now has ended," he declared. "And the time for holding out and attacking has come."

PUPPET TROOPS KILL JAP CHIEFS IN CHINA, THEN JOIN REGULARS

CHUNGKING, China, Feb. 25 (AP).—Chinese puppet troops in Suiyuan in north Shansi province, northeast of the Yellow river, mutinied a week ago, killed their Japanese officers and advisers, and then joined Chinese forces attacking Japanese positions, a communique said today.

The defection was said to have occurred 10 days after the Japanese killed Gen. Pai Feng-hsiang, the army's commander, by poisoning and then disarmed his bodyguard. No indication of the strength of the army was given.

In southwest Shansi, Chinese forces are attacking south of Hotsin and are inflicting many casualties, the war bulletin said.

HOW A WOUNDED CAPTAIN STUCK TO BRIDGE TOLD

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—Capt. Mervyn S. Bennion of Vernon, Utah, mortally wounded on the bridge of his battleship in the Pearl Harbor attack, thought only of getting his wounded men to safety and his survivors to other ships where they could fight on, an associate related today.

The navy made public an eye-witness account of Bennion's heroic death by a junior officer who said:

"He was lying severely wounded in the abdomen and still conscious on the signal bridge. I was the only officer with him, and he was very anxious to know how the battle was proceeding and what action our own ship had taken. I moved him into a shelter, but he refused to be moved into the conning tower for protection.

"Later a senior officer arrived and attempted to direct his removal, but Capt. Bennion insisted upon remaining there. He wanted most of all to get all wounded men off the ship and to have all available men in condition to get on other ships to fight."

CANBERRA, Australia, Feb. 25 (AP).—The Australian air arm has fallen with strong effect on Japanese air and naval forces gathering within 400 to 500 miles above the continent for an expected full scale invasion, the RAAF announced today.

While enemy bombers struck in turn at the outer island approaches, Australian bombers ranged from the part Portuguese, part Dutch island of Timor on the northwest, to Rabaul on New Britain Island on the northeast, setting off big fires and smashing enemy anti-aircraft batteries, military buildings and grounded enemy aircraft, a communique said.

Off the port of Dilli, capital of the Portuguese half of enemy invaded Timor, several Japanese transports were aflame. There also a large Japanese naval force was sighted.

Reënforced by Chutists.

During the day it was reported the enemy had been able to reënforce his troops on the Dutch half of Timor with parachutists landed near Koepang, the capital.

The enemy's principal air action was against Port Moresby on the southern shore of New Guinea, north of the Australian mainland, where one person had been killed and five wounded in raids on Tuesday.

In parliament, debate was opened on the war situation. To the house of representatives H. V. Evatt, the Australian attorney general and minister of external affairs, declared:

"Direct thrusts against our homeland seem certain. When the invader comes he will be fought here by a people who know that they are not only defending their own homes but also are standing on one of the most critical battlegrounds in the history of mankind."

Will Not Creep to Safety.

Evatt spoke gratefully of "the immense strength of the United States" as an ally, saying, however, that a recognition of this fact does not mean that Australia hopes to creep into safety behind her."

Against the argument that Germany should be beaten down first and Japan later, he interposed the objection that this was poor tactics since the defeat of the Nazis would be indefinitely postponed should Japanese successes continue.

JAP DESCENDANTS ENLIST IN HAWAII LABOR BATTALION

[Copyright: 1942: By the New York Times.]

HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 25.—Young Americans of Japanese ancestry today left for a camp "somewhere on Oahu" as a volunteer labor battalion, having offered their services to Lieut. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, commander of the Hawaiian department, "for whatever service you see fit."

They were members of the Hawaii territorial guard, formed shortly after Dec. 7 to guard public utilities. There was criticism because most of them were of Japanese extraction and Gen. Emmons retired the corps to inactive status. They then volunteered.

TELLS HOW CRIPPLED DUTCH PLANE FELLED THREE JAP ATTACKERS

BATAVIA, Java, N. E. I., Feb. 26 [Thursday]—(AP).—A Dutch bomber pilot told today how his gunners shot down three of the four Japanese planes attacking his own crippled craft in a recent raid on Japanese-held airports in southern Sumatra.

One Japanese naval plane first knocked out one of the two engines of the Dutch bomber which began losing height. Then three other Japanese planes closed in, he said.

The Dutch pilot maneuvered his falling craft while the gunners disposed of three of the attackers. The Dutch pilot made an emergency landing with all hands uninjured. They set fire to their plane and found a boat to carry them back to Java.

BRITISH COMBAT FORCE OCCUPIES A NEW YORK POST

Purpose of Troops in U. S. Is Not Revealed.

AN ARMY POST IN THE NEW YORK METROPOLITAN AREA, Feb. 25 [Special].—The war department announced today that a contingent of British and Scotch troops have arrived here as the first combat force of the British empire to set foot on soil of the continental United States since the first World war.

A statement released at the post said:

"The Bureau of Public Relations, War Department, Washington, D. C., authorized the announcement that a small detachment of British troops is temporarily billeted in the New York metropolitan area. No information as to the identity of the units, the maximum of time they will remain, or their ultimate destination was made available by the Bureau of Public Information."

Accompanied by Bagpipes.

Accompanied by a bagpipe band and an ordinary army band, the Scots and Britons stirred considerable interest among the United States troops here.

Two changes in customs of the garrison have been made to accommodate the visitors. Women's silk stockings have been added to the sundry articles sold at the post canteen, to be sold to the visiting soldiers for shipment to England as gifts to relatives, and tea has been added to the mess hall menus.

Many of the Scotch troops wear kilts and plaid trousers, or trews; carry bamboo swagger sticks and skeandhus, or skinning knives, in their knee length stockings, and wear balmorals, resembling the American tam-o-shanter. The British soldiers wore uniforms of khaki.

Bills for Buttons.

One of the soldiers returned from New York with all brass buttons missing from his uniform and his pockets bulging with American bills. He explained that a group of civilian admirers in the city had ripped the buttons from his jacket, stuffing bills into his pocket as each souvenir button was removed.

In accents thick with the brogue of the Scottish moors and the streets of London, the soldiers related their impressions of American life. They said without exception that the food here was the best they had received in an army garrison, particularly the beans, but they would not talk with admiration of the American way of making tea.

Objections to the 5:45 a. m. reveille also were expressed, the visting soldiers saying they were accustomed to sleep until 7:30 a. m.

Officers of the post said the Scots and Britons were "there for exercise," often running on the parade ground in shorts.

Find Liquor Expensive.

Lieut. Colin Reay, 23 years old, of Wallasey, Cheshire, Britain, who is liaision officer between the visitors and the American troops, said his men objected to the prices charged for liquor, explaining that two officers went to a night club in New York and paid $1.60 for two drinks that they believed could be bought for 25 cents at home.

William Perry, 25, of London, a player of the double pig, or base fiddle, in an orchestra of the visitors, said a soldier lives better on his pay of 75 cents a day in Britain than the American soldier could live here on their pay of 70 cents.

He PRIED the crusty buttery cover off . . . . and LOOKED inside . . . . . and saw . . . . . .

. . . . what he saw was CHICKEN . . . . pieces, bites, chunks . . . . . . big chunks of white chicken meat . . . . . in a yellow-creamy chicken gravy . . . . along with new green peas . . . . and other garden things.

He poked his spoon beneath the crust and smiled and lifted out a spoonful on his plate and took one bite and dipped back in until his plate was heaped with steaming fragrant chicken 'n gravy . . . . with the crispy crust perched rakishly on top . . . .

J. M. PATTERSON FINDS HAWAII'S NEED IS TROOPS

More Planes Also Vital, Says Publisher.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Feb. 25 [Special].—The Hawaiian Islands need more trained troops and planes to protect them from a major Japanese assault, Capt. Joseph Medill Patterson, publisher of the New York News, said here tonight upon his return from an eight day visit to the islands.

"The military strength now in the America's Pacific outpost," the publisher said, "might be sufficient to meet any force the enemy can throw against them, but the important impression I gained is that we haven't the margin of safety there we should have. The next attack, and the people in the islands anticipate that there will be others, may be on a more extensive scale than that of last Dec. 7.

Need Trained Divisions.

"The pressing need, I would say, is for more planes and trained troops—not recruits but trained divisions. There are five major islands and three medium ones to protect and the Japanese have to some extent cut off communications between them."

The publisher praised the military administration on the islands, adding that what he has seen had strengthened his conviction that civil defense should be under the military, at least in probable combat areas.

Enforce 9 P. M. Curfew.

Every night the islands have a blackout, more complete than was ever achieved in London or Paris, Mr. Patterson reported. The blackout begins at 7 p. m. and a curfew is in effect at 9 p. m. No one but military officials and a few civilians with proper identification cards are permitted to be on the streets after that hour.

Smoking a cigaret on the street during the blackout calls for a minimum sentence of two days in jail. That a very strict policy is followed in authorizing civilians to move about after the curfew was indicated by the fact that the number of Mr. Patterson's permit was 179.

The publisher said the damage of the Pearl Harbor attack was rapidly being repaired but he declined to discuss details which might fall within the field of military information. Air fields are being built all over the islands so that planes can be dispersed.

Can't Intern All Japs.

As to the Japanese problem, Mr. Patterson said that it was obviously impossible to intern all members of that race inasmuch as they comprise about one-third of the population.

"They do most of the work," he commented, "and to remove them would wreck the economy of the islands."

He expressed the personal view that the third generation Japanese are loyal; that many of the second generation are trustworthy but that the loyalty of others would depend on "who comes marching down the street."

Gas Masks Carried.

Most civilians, Mr. Patterson continued, carry gas masks and preparations are being made to issue small sizes to children. This, he explained, is purely precautionary inasmuch as in the Dec. 7 attack the Japanese did not bomb the civilian population but confined their attack to military objectives.

Under the military rule all cases, even civil actions, are tried in provost courts. The only exceptions are civil cases on the calendar prior to Dec. 7.

As a sidelight on this, Mr. Patterson mentioned the case of an Hawaiian haled to court on an assault and battery charge in connection with a squabble over an acquaintance's wife. The native, highly conscious of his American rights, demanded a jury trial.

"All right," the provost judge commented, "you have a right to a jury trial. I will remand you to jail and the first day after a peace treaty is signed you shall have your jury trial."

DEATH HELD SUICIDE.

A verdict of suicide while despondent was returned yesterday at an inquest into the death of Ludwig Kordas, 60 years old, 4443 South Honore street, who was found strangled by a cord in his home on Tuesday. Kordas had been a semi-invalid for many years.

CONTRAST ARMS STRIKERS WITH BATAAN TROOPS

Soldiers' Buy 1 Plane Drive Stirs Congress.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—News of the campaign initiated by the gallant defenders of the Philippines under Gen. MacArthur to buy themselves at least one bomber from the United States stirred congress today.

The offer of American troops to buy fighting equipment from their homeland, "the arsenal of democracy," brought bitter protests from the floor of the house. Parallels were drawn between the efforts of our troops on the Bataan peninsula and the work stoppages in arms production at home resulting from strikes and labor disorders.

Troops Fight; Civilians Strike.

"Our own troops are collecting money for an airplane to defend themselves against the enemy and at the same time we read where union workers are walking out on their jobs in war production plants because of labor controversies," said Rep. Graham A. Barden [D., N. C.]. "Who in the name of God do these workmen expect to protect themselves and their families when the time comes if they refuse to do their share now?"

Rep. Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] recalled that foremost of the "high purposes" for Americans given by President Roosevelt in his Washington birthday radio address was that there shall be no work stoppages for a single day during the war.

CIO Answer Is a Walkout.

"Today," he continued, "we have two answers to the President. One is from Phil Murray's boys. Out in San Pedro, Cal., 5,000 CIO workers have walked out of the Bethlehem Steel company yards because they won't work a 10 hour shift on 81 million dollars of navy orders.

"The other answer is from American fighting men, defending American soil in the far-off Pacific. They are paying with their blood to insure the existence of the American way of life. And now they are opening their pocketbooks and asking only for a chance to contribute part of their pay to buy one lone airplane with which to carry on their historic fight."

Willing to Buy Bombs.

According to news dispatches published yesterday, MacArthur's men are offering to pay not only for the bomber but also for gasoline and bombs as well as the high shipping costs incident to its transportation. The President at his press conference yesterday said that if any one could tell him how to get a bomber to Bataan the men could have it. Mr. Roosevelt turned aside a question whether publication of the plans of the Philippine defenders for buying a bomber might not indicate that MacArthur was at odds with the war department over aerial reënforcements.

Several members were heard to suggest that inasmuch as the appropriations passed by congress for buying war materials had been unavailing for defense of the Philippines, the least the members could do would be to contribute part of their pay to aid the Bataan troops in buying their bomber.

NAVY LISTS 44 MORE AS JAP PRISONERS; 6 FROM CHICAGOLAND

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 [Special].—The names of six from Chicagoland were on a supplemental list of 44 naval enlisted men who were disclosed by the navy today to have been serving on the Island of Guam and are presumed to be prisoners of the Japanese.

They are Floyd Lumpkins, fireman first class, Granite City, Ill.; Edward Wayne Settles, seaman first class, Mason, Ill.; Norman Sidney Tattrie, machinist's mate first class, Belleville, Ill.; Edward Neal Howard, water tender second class, Carlisle, Ind.; Robert William O'Brien, chief boatswain's mate, Mount Morris, Mich., and Olin Sumner Lake, chief quartermaster, Omro, Wis.

Today's list was the third issued. In the first list 2,009 naval and marine corps officers and men serving at Wake and Guam Islands and in China were reported. The second named five nurses who were serving on Guam.

Restrictions on Clothing Hit Boy Scouts in Britain

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Wartime restrictions have had an adverse effect on the Boy Scout movement, the annual report of the Boy Scout association revealed today. It cited clothes rationing as the "greatest shock the movement has suffered in many years." The association said it would seek concessions from the government, since "there is the possibility of the Scout uniform disappearing during the war."

BATAAN HEROISM WINS LIEUTENANT MEDAL OF HONOR

Climbed Atop Tank to Fight Japs.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—The war department today announced the award of the congressional medal of honor to First Lieut. Willibald C. Bianchi of the Philippine Scouts for conspicuous gallantry in action in Bataan on Feb. 3.

Lieut. W. C. Bianchi.

"Willibald C. Bianchi, first lieutenant, 45th infantry, Philippine Scouts, United States army. For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy on Feb. 3, 1942, near Bagac, province of Bataan, Philippine Islands. When the rifle platoon of another company was ordered to wipe out two strong enemy machine gun nests, Lieut. Bianchi voluntarily and of his own initiative, advanced with the platoon leading part of the men.

Scorns Wounded Hand.

"When wounded early in the action by two bullets thru the left hand, he did not stop for first aid but discarded his rifle and began firing a pistol. He located a machine gun nest and personally silenced it with grenades.

"When wounded the second time by two machine gun bullets thru the chest muscles, Lieut. Bianchi climbed to the top of an American tank, manned its anti-aircraft machine gun and fired into a strongly held enemy position until knocked completely off the tank by a third severe wound.

Patrols Win Local Actions.

"Lieut. Bianchi was born in New Ulm, Minn., and was a resident of that city when commissioned in the officers reserve corps on June 3, 1940. His mother is Mrs. Carrie Bianchi, who resides at New Ulm, Minn."

The first clashes in several days between ground forces in Bataan were reported by the war department.

296 CANADIANS SLAIN OR LOST IN HONGKONG SIEGE, PUBLIC IS TOLD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 25.—Of the 1,985 Canadian soldiers who aided in the defense of Hongkong, 1,689 are prisoners and the other 296 are regarded as dead or missing, Defense Minister James Ralston told commons today. The figures, he said, were obtained thru the Argentine legation in Tokio.

Chief Justice Sir Lyman Duff has been commissioned to investigate the sending of the Canadian contingent to Hongkong and has announced that hearings will be private.

POWERFUL TRAPS BUILT IN JAVA TO CATCH INVADERS

BY F. TILLMAN DURDIN.

[Copyright: 1942: By the New York Times.]

BANDOENG, N. E. I., Feb. 26 [Thursday].—A maze of defense positions, bolstered by anti-tank guns and field artillery posts and linked by barbed wire barriers and anti-tank traps, bars the route to one of the main Dutch strongholds in the mountains of west Java.

Foreign newspaper men were taken for a tour of these positions today thru the beautiful hill country, lush with crops of cinchona, rubber, palm oil, tea, coffee, and tropical fruits.

The mountain defenses are lines from which the Dutch will resist if the Japanese forces take over Java's coastal areas.

Intensive work has been under way on these positions for more than two years, ever since the outbreak of the European war, when the Dutch foresaw the spreading of hostilities to the Pacific. The fortifications have been constructed with a thoroness characteristic of the Dutch and are the most formidable obstacles yet placed against the Japanese in the western Pacific. They are stronger, perhaps, than some of the Chinese defenses which the Japanese faced in their drive up the Yangtze valley.

The lines are cleverly concealed by camouflage, which seems to make many of the larger structures melt into the tropical landscape. Concealment is promoted by the uniforms of the defenders, which are entirely green.

Nothing to compare with the strength of these lines confronted the Japanese in Malaya and it seems evident that only Japanese superiority in the air, in numbers, and in equipment could take these lines from the Dutch.

Avoid Aging 14 Years in 4

By Consulting John E. Warner Associates

This young man has a fine head of hair and doesn't feel that he will ever be bald. Yet, his scalp is laden with dandruff, itches constantly, and he loses a great deal of hair each day. Right now, a short period of the pleasant, low-cost, scientific treatment used by John E. Warner and Associates would rid his scalp of dandruff, check the hair-fall and normalize his scalp. He could keep this fine head of hair.

Four years later, it is too late, his appearance is permanently marred, a serious handicap to anyone. A youthful appearance is necessary these days to success in the social and business worlds. Statistics show that as much as 85% of all baldness can be prevented if properly treated in time; but once you are bald you can never hope to regrow hair (except in rare cases of alopecia areata).

There is no charge or obligation for a scalp examination and consultation. Examination and treatment are given in strictest privacy. FEES FOR TREATMENT ARE VERY MODERATE AND ARE PAYABLE AS THE TREATMENTS ARE TAKEN—NOT IN ADVANCE. Hours 10 A. M. to 8 P. M. daily, Saturdays to 6 P. M.

There is a separate department for women. Other Warner offices located in Boston, Hartford, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Detroit, and Los Angeles.

COL. M'CORMICK SEES 3 POSSIBLE DRIVES BY JAPAN

India, Australia, Islands Listed as Alternatives.

Having captured Singapore, Japan has three alternatives of attack in the southwestern Pacific, Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, said yesterday in an address at the Chicago Association of Commerce luncheon meeting in the Hotel Sherman. Col. McCormick spoke before an audience of 650 on "After the Fall of Singapore."

The three courses open to the Japanese, the speaker said, are:

1. To push on from Rangoon into India and seize the principal Indian ports. Col McCormick predicted that the enemy could carry out such an attack successfully, but said he could not guess how long it would take or what Japan would do after that. An attack on India would leave Australia unflanked and would give the Australians further time to prepare their defenses, he added.

Australia May Be Next.

2. To attack Australia first. Such an attack would meet fierce resistance from a volunteer Australian army fighting for existence, and would be much costlier and longer than previous Japanese victories at Hongkong, the Malayan peninsula, and Singapore, Col. McCormick declared. Altho Australia has only a small regular army of trained troops and officers, he said, history shows that volunteer forces fight desperately and well on their own soil.

3. To try to secure all the important island stepping stones in the Pacific ocean west of Hawaii. It is entirely possible that this will be Japan's next move, Col. McCormick said.

Expects Early Revelation.

"It is not for us to say what military strategy will follow the fall of Singapore," Col. McCormick said. "It is for the Japanese to say. They have control of the ocean, the air, and most of the land. I don't know which course they will take, but I think you will all know within the next 10 days."

Japs' Alternatives of Attack Told by Col. McCormick

Three alternatives of attack open to the Japanese since their capture of Singapore, as outlined by Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of The Tribune, speaking yesterday before the Chicago Association of Commerce. The alternatives are: 1. A drive thru Rangoon into India. 2. An attack on Australia, which Col. McCormick said would meet fierce resistance from a volunteer Australian army. 3. An attempt to gain control of the important stepping stone islands west of Hawaii.

TEXT OF SPEECH

Following is the text of Col. McCormick's speech:

"I call your attention to the map at the right of our table, as I am going to mention many features on it as we go along.

"To begin with, Alaska. In 1872 Secretary Seward bought Alaska from Russia, and the mystery attached to that purchase has never thoroly been solved.

"A few years later, the natives of Samoa petitioned the United States to send them a governor, or rather an assistant to the king. From that date we possessed Pago Pago harbor, which was formally annexed to the United States, certainly during my lifetime, because I remember the Hawaii disaster, which was contemporaneous. The American population of Hawaii revolted, overthrew the native king or queen, and petitioned admission to the Union. President Cleveland denied it, but in 1898 it was taken in.

Forces Sent to Philippines.

"The circumstances were that a crusade was undertaken in this country to free Cuba from Spain and, as a peculiar development of this crusade to free Cuba, we sent a navy, and after that an army, to the Philippines.

"Hawaii was annexed as a stepping stone. Then you remember, we obtained the Philippines. Congress claimed the acquisition was beyond the Constitution of the United States.

"We had a period of imperialism. We had a governor general. We subdued the native population, and then shortly afterwards—one of the sad points in our history—we took part in the attack on Peking, but I am glad to say, we returned the loot, which no other country did.

"The imperialist spirit failed pretty rapidly. We are a nation of producers, of workers. We do not admire job holders. There is no romance attached to being governor of the Philippines. The democratic spirit persisted.

Vote to Free Philippines.

"Then after the Russian-Japanese war, when Port Arthur fell, our military men began to advocate getting out while we could, and after the Japanese took Shantung from the Germans, their requests became more persistent. Certain western cities, whose products competed with Philippine products, joined the movement, and in 1933, if I am correct, congress voted to free the Philippines in 1946.

"In the meantime Panama had been acquired, giving us dominance of the route between the Pacific and Atlantic oceans; and in 1918 the Marshall Islands were given to Japan. By that time the friction with Japan began. Not much was known about it among the public.

"In 1921 there came the five-five-three naval treaty and the cessation of fortifications in the Pacific.

"Until 1931 the fleet was moved around the United States pretty much as a pork barrel proposition to take money into every port on both sides of the ocean; but in 1931 the fleet was based at San Diego in the Pacific. Talk of war with Japan became rife in naval circles.

"There were three schools of thought in the navy. One was that the Pacific was too wide and nothing could be done. That school has been expressed very recently by Adm. Yarnell. Another school of thought was that the navy could proceed west, thru the Marshall Islands—island by island as it were—and finally come, in the course of time, to Japan.

"The third was to mass the fleet either at Honolulu or Seattle and move boldly across in one jump.

"Then in 1937 the British completed the naval base at Singapore, and some of you remember they declared it was open to the American navy, but to no other navy, and so a fourth school of strategy arose to fight Japan from Singapore.

War Brings Surprises.

"Now, of course, I do not know which of these schools of thought was in the ascendancy last December.

"All of these schools of thought are based on the theory that the battleship was the dominant feature of sea warfare; on the belief that airplanes could not sink battleships. Now that, of course, is a totally erroneous belief, and the first weeks of the Japanese war have brought two very great surprises. I do not refer to the technical surprise at Pearl Harbor. I refer to the scientific surprise—that the airplanes were able to come into that harbor and greatly damage the fleet.

"The other great surprise—how terrible a one it was, we only learned today—was that Singapore was very far from being impregnable. As we know Hongkong fell; the Japanese army marched down the Malayan peninsula; had no trouble in crossing the straits of Singapore, and captured the entire garrison in a very few days.

Military World Changes.

"The military world has greatly changed. Now, what after Singapore? Well, it is not for us to say. It is for the Japanese to say. They have control. They have control of the ocean. They have control of the air, and almost everywhere they have control of the land.

"There are three courses open to the Japanese. The first would be to push on from Rangoon and move into India. From what we have seen of the war in Malaya, Singapore, and Burma there does not seem to be any doubt that the Japanese can move into India and take its principal ports if they want to.

"What would happen in India after that I will not venture to guess. How long it would take to mop up India I do not know. But if they move into India, they would have to leave Australia unflanked and give Australia all the time to prepare while the Japanese clean up in India and come back.

Fight Best on Own Soil.

"Now maybe the Japanese think they can take Australia as easily as they have taken everything else. I do not think so. The Australian army is what we used to call a 'volunteer' army as opposed to a 'regular' army, less trained troops and less trained officers. I am speaking historically when I say that volunteer armies have never fought well outside of their own countries.

"If we go into our own history, we will find that our volunteer armies were never able to invade Canada, but were always able to defeat the regular armies that came to our shores. To go back to our much regretted Civil war, we find the volunteer armies always fought best on their own soil.

"If the Japanese invade Australia they will not meet so many divisions of troops—they will meet a population fighting for its very existence. Desperation and patriotism will do what regular armies have done thru military pride and discipline.

Something Like Boer War.

"It will be a war something like the Boer war. The Boers were volunteers, with no educated officers, and yet what a battle they put up. So I say if the Japanese attack Australia as an alternative, they will have a long campaign, maybe several campaigns, before they can conquer Australia, but they will be taking valuable time.

"There are only two possible enemies of Japan: Russia, which is Japan's traditional enemy, which is now very busy, I hope, mopping up the German army and is too busy to attack Japan; and ourselves.

"The conception of warfare has changed in the last few weeks. There still is a school of thought which thinks the Pacific is too wide to be crossed offensively. There is another school of thought which thinks it can be crossed by a combined force of ships, airplanes, and landing parties.

Japanese Crossing Cited.

"It knows it can be crossed, I might say, because the Japanese have done that very thing and are doing it today. Whichever side is stronger in combined weapons should be able to go wherever it wants to, just as a strong land army can go anywhere it wants to on land.

"It is no longer a case where ships can stand offshore and bomb land batteries. Airplanes can bomb them; they can land air-borne infantry; they can land parachute troops, and they can come in landing boats.

"It therefore seems to me entirely possible that Japan's next move will be to try to secure all of the stepping stones. You will notice from the map that the islands are much closer together in the western Pacific than the eastern Pacific. An attack starting from Hawaii would have a much easier time than an attack starting from California.

Lauds MacArthur's Stand.

"I have talked about two very unhappy surprises which came to us. A very unhappy surprise has also come to the Japanese, and that is the fighting power of MacArthur's army.

"It is hard to realize, but in the history of Japan's modern warfare, this is the first time her plans have been frustrated. She walked thru Manchuria to get at Russia; down the Kwantung peninsula against the Russians, and proceeded to take Port Arthur.

"There is this to be said about MacArthur's army. It is a regular army. The American troops are regulars, and at least a good part of the Filipino troops are regulars, which means they know their weapons, they are disciplined, and they have a great pride of service. By the time we move across the Pacific, I trust our whole army will be an army of regulars.

Praises American Weapons.

"I think I can give you another word of good cheer. I read in the Field Artillery Journal last night about the weapons that the ground forces of the Japanese possess. I cannot refer to their aviation—I do not know anything about it—but the ground forces of Japan are using the old 75, which I am glad to say I have been instrumental in having discarded in this country for the 105 modern weapon; and they use the old, useless bolt action rifle while we have substituted for it the Garand rifle and the tommy gun. Gen. MacArthur has told us that the Garand rifle is entirely satisfactory in the service.

"So after Singapore there is one of three alternatives, and which one it is, of course, I do not know, but I think you all will know within the next 10 days.

HOWLING STORM HALTS ACTION OF LIBYAN ARMIES

Both Sides Wait for a Chance to Thrust.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 25.—Axis movements in the Libyan desert that seemed to foreshadow some sort of attack or effort at attack now have fizzled out, and both sides are sitting back in a howling, blinding sandstorm waiting for a chance to make an effective move.

Sunday it looked as if the enemy intended to start something. His forces were getting active, moving about along the El Mekili-Tmimi track that has come to be the boundary of his territory by the force of circumstances. British air reconnaissance reported much enemy movement from Martuba toward Tmimi; that is to say, toward front line positions on the coast.

Meet New Resistance.

At the same time, British patrols sent out for information and mobile columns sent out with field guns and anti-tank guns to shoot up the enemy sent back word they met stiffer opposition than for a long time past, and were putting up a fight.

All that faded out on Monday. Yesterday the sandstorm began and only British armored cars and infantry patrols were out prowling to see if anybody was trying to catch them off guard.

Both sides have settled into strong defensive lines, and there is a slight intermission while waiting for the next act.

Take Advantage of Terrain.

The British forces are along what generally is called the Gazala line, stretching from Ain el Gazala southward or southwestward—the exact position is naturally taboo—and taking advantage of the desert terrain following escarpments and patches of badlands. The enemy is in more difficult terrain than the British.

Besides the Libyan desert the British middle east command includes everything as far to the east as Baluchistan [India] and Afghanistan. It covers the protection of the vital oil fields of Iran [Persia], Iraq, and the Bahrein Islands.

Bomb Objectives at Malta.

ROME, Feb. 25 [from Italian broadcasts]—(AP).—The Italian air force, continuing attacks on the British island base of Malta in the Mediterranean, reported today that important military objectives were hit and several enemy planes destroyed in day and night operations against the island.

AIRCRAFT MAKERS BUILDING PLANTS IN FROM COASTS

Seek to Avoid Chance of Bombings.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 [Special].—Seven aircraft manufacturers are already erecting duplicate plants, or completing arrangements for construction, away from the Pacific and Atlantic coasts. This was told as the air raid alarm at Los Angeles today focused attention on the fact that more than half of our airplane plants are on or near the Pacific coast, where they are subject to air attacks.

That decentralization of the industry was under way, with three west coast manufacturers involved, was learned as Secretary Frank Knox told a press conference that, in his judgment, vital industries on the sea coast would have to be removed piecemeal so "we won't have all our eggs in one basket."

Plant Expansion Stopped.

Expansion of west coast plants has been virtually ended since Dec. 7, it was learned. Meanwhile, Knox said that aircraft production centers near the California coast, are receiving all possible protection.

Within Los Angeles county, where today's air alarm was sounded, are many of the nation's key aircraft plants, including the Douglas plant at Santa Monica, the Douglas plant at Long Beach, the Douglas company's El Segundo division, 40 or 50 miles inland, and the Lockheed Burbank plant.

Transfer to Be Gradual.

Other plants are the Consolidated Aircraft factory at San Diego, North American at Englewood, and Vultee at Downey.

Secretary Knox indicated that if production facilities are moved to the army "safe zone" between the Rockies and the Alleghenies, they probably will be transferred by units and thus not interfere with output. Lord Beaverbrook had told him on a recent trip to this country that Britain's aircraft factories were transferred in this way under war conditions.

All details regarding establishment of duplicate factories are military secrets. Establishment of these additional plants and the "farming out" to smaller manufacturers of much initial work on aircraft—a policy employed by the British—are expected to play a large part in increasing production to 125,000 planes a year.

Scorched Earth Plans.

So far as the remote contingency of successful enemy landings and invasion of industrial areas is concerned, steps are being considered by the government to apply a scorched earth policy at points which might have to be yielded.

Secretary Knox said of the west coast aircraft plants that, "like Topsy, they just growed there." Behind their presence in California lies "booster" and political activity by California and other west coast politicians, chambers of commerce, and newspapers.

California newspapers have insisted that the plants not only remain where they are, but that they should be expanded. One California chamber of commerce has used maps to show that distances are so great in that state that the danger of bombing, or shelling from the sea, may be minimized.

Advice on Anti-Freeze: Save It When It's Drained

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—When you have the anti-freeze drained from your car this spring, take a can to the filling station and save the mixture for next winter. This advice was given motorists today by Dan A. West, consumer chief of the Office of Price administration.

SOVIET TIGHTENS RING ON ARMY OF TRAPPED NAZIS

Drive to Clear Leningrad Area Foreseen.

MOSCOW, Feb. 26 [Thursday]—(AP).—The Red army's "ring around the 16th Nazi army on the Staraya Russa front is tightening," a dispatch direct from that front said today, "and several more enemy garrisons have been surrounded and are being annihilated."

Russia's heavy blow at the German troops appeared to be only the first part of a maneuver aimed at trapping all Nazi troops in that bloody northwestern corner of Russia, and some Red units were reported striking on westward toward the Estonian frontier, less than 100 miles away.

[A Stockholm report received in London said 100,000 German troops were threatened in the Staraya Russa area, but failed to specify whether all these men were caught in the Russian ring. Farther south, these reports said other German troops were in danger of encirclement in the vast Rzhev-Vyazma pocket. The Reds were reported fighting southward from Bely to meet those fighting northward from Dorogobuzh in an area about 50 miles east of Smolensk.]

"The German-Fascist forces are suffering great losses in man power and equipment," the midnight communique said. "During Feb. 25 our troops continued to advance and occupied a number of populated places."

Hint at New Developments.

An indication that the Red army had captured strategic Staraya Russa, 140 miles south of Leningrad just below Lake Ilmen, came in a Russian dispatch date lined from that city. This dispatch said furious fighting was continuing after yesterday's official announcement that the 16th Nazi army had been surrounded, with 12,000 Germans already killed, and intimated new developments were imminent.

Staraya Russa in peacetime is only a summer resort, but militarily it can serve as the springboard for many-phased operations. Its capture menaces not only the thousands of Germans now being pummelled on the Leningrad outposts, but also from this base operations are possible to cut off all the Nazi armies north of Lake Ilmen to the Estonian shores of the Gulf of Finland.

Staraya Russa is a junction of three rivers—the Pola, Polista, and Lovat—which will be highly usable for communications as soon as the thaw comes. Some 110 miles to the south and slightly to the west of Staraya Russa on the Lovat is the important Nazi position of Velikie Luki, itself endangered by Russian encirclement tactics.

[The British radio quoted the Moscow radio as saying 6,000 Germans had been slain in the southern Donets basin where "there still is violent fighting."]

Claim Reds Lose 14,000.

BERLIN, Feb. 25 [from German broadcasts]—(AP).—The Russians have lost more than 14,000 killed and several times that number in wounded in fighting southeast of Lake Ilmen [in the Staraya Russa area] in the last four weeks, it was announced in Berlin military quarters tonight. The Germans were declared to have repulsed 387 attacks by strong soviet forces, counterattacking successfully several times.

Serb Guerrillas Battle Croats; Offensive Hinted

JERUSALEM, Feb. 25 (AP).—New heavy encounters between Serbian Chetniks [patriots] and the axis allied Croatian Ustachis northwest of Belgrade were regarded here by Jugo-Slav circles as the first signs of a spring offensive on the part of Gen. Draja Mihailovitch's Serbian troops.

HEAR NAZI MEAT RATIONS WILL BE CUT 25 PER CENT

But Workers Hope for More Bread.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Feb. 25.—Germany's potato shortage has forced the government to reorganize the distribution and rationing of bread, according to reports from Berlin, which state that workers are hoping for an increased bread ration as compensation for the potato famine.

But it also is indicated that an increase in the bread ration probably would abolish the cake ration, which has been about half a pound weekly per inhabitant.

Meat Ration to Be Cut.

Beginning April 4, the meat ration will be reduced 25 per cent, each person being entitled to 10½ ounces weekly instead of the present 14 ounces. Another unpleasant innovation will be that the weight of the bone, up to 30 per cent of the ration, will be included.

The Germans heard more bad news, for the supply ministry warned the people not to anticipate miracles from the cultivation of Ukrainian occupied territory this year. In contradiction to previous food propaganda, the ministry indirectly admitted that organization of the Ukraine stretched the German capabilities to the limit. Former Russian state and collectivized farms will be continued indefinitely, as it has been found impossible to devise them into greater producing units.

Reasons for Food Shortage.

Germany's food shortage is said to be due to three factors:

1. The acute shortage and inability of the distributing organization to provide the people with their full rations.

2. The crisis in German transportation, due to the severe winter, which has frozen potatoes en route to consumers and prevented adequate quantities of other foods from being transported, because of frozen canals, snowblocked roads, and railroads jammed with war materials en route to Norway and Africa.

3. Large quantities of potatoes which are commonly stored under ground have frozen and are unsuitable for seed, while Germany will be compelled to supply, besides herself, many other countries with seed potatoes this spring.

REVEAL THAT MANY U. S. MISSIONARIES IN PHILIPPINES ARE SAFE

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—Messages announcing the safety of many American missionaries in the western Pacific were released today by the Maryknoll [N. Y.] Missioners and the Foreign Missions Conference of North America. First word since Manila's fall of the 59 Maryknoll Missioners in the Philippines was contained in a cable from Cebu which reported, "All Maryknollers free."

Rev. R. E. Sheridan.

The general conference of Seventh Day Adventists received a cable indicating its missionaries in the Philippines had been released from concentration camps.

The Maryknoll priests and sisters in the Philippines were announced as including: The Rev. Robert E. Sheridan, Chicago; Sister Miriam Agnes Tibesar, Quincy, Ill.; Sr. M. Celeste Rieman, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Sr. Miriam Thomas Thornton, Waterloo, Ia., and Sr. M. Justin Greenwood, Milwaukee.

HARRIMAN CALLS CHURCHILL 'U. S. SYMBOL OF HOPE'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Prime Minister Winston Churchill has become the symbol of hope to the American people, W. Averell Harriman, President Roosevelt's special representative on supplies to Great Britain, told guests at a national defense committee luncheon in London today.

Making his first public speech in this country, Harriman spoke of the friendship between Mr. Roosevelt and the prime minister, and its part in establishing the relationships of the two countries. Thru this friendship, he said, chiefs of staff have been brought into intimate contact and the "jealousies of the last war have not existed in this."

Churchill, he said, was regarded as the symbol epitomizing the great qualities of the British people.

"No matter how rough the sea, no matter how hard the going, Churchill to us is hope," Harriman declared. He was also lavish in praise of Lord Beaverbrook.

DOG RACING AND BOXING MUST GO, BRITISH WARNED

End 'Pleasure as Usual,' Cripps Demands.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Sir Stafford Cripps, lord privy seal, winding up the two day war debate, today told the house of commons that dog racing and boxing exhibitions will be stopped.

When soldiers are dying on the battlefield, these exhibitions are "completely out of accord with the true spirit and determination of the people," he said. Elimination of personal extravagance of every kind, as well as other forms of wastage, including unnecessary expenditure, were promised. He declared the government would not permit a "pleasure as usual" attitude toward the war.

Cripps' declaration seems less drastic than was first supposed, however. According to the Daily Telegraph, no immediate ban is being imposed on dog racing, boxing and other sports, but the cabinet is planning to cut down on the number of midweek meetings to curtail transport facilities.

May Question Spectators.

It is also suggested that the police might question spectators at sports meetings to find out why they are not working, but it is believed this is not feasible, owing to the danger of causing friction and discontent. The main object of the curtailment of sports, it is explained, is to reduce absenteeism from factories.

Cripps' reference to the subject caused considerable anxiety in sporting circles, and the government has been asked to make a detailed statement as soon as possible.

Other plans to swing the home front into line with total war conditions now under discussion in the cabinet include restrictions on luxuries and a limit to the amount any one can spend on a meal in a hotel or restaurant.

Hopes for India Debate.

The government, said Cripps, making his first speech to commons in his new post, is wholly in accord with the necessity to present a true picture to the people, and he is taking up with the minister of information the question of improvement of the present home news presentations. Complaints have been made that the people have been given "soothing sirup."

With the question of unity and strength of the India government, he said he was as much concerned as everybody else and fully realized the importance of Britain doing her utmost "to make a full contribution toward unity." The government hoped he added, that debate would be possible shortly on the basis of government decision in this matter.

Before Cripps spoke, members of all parties continued the barrage of criticism, indicating a unanimity on many aspects of the war effort. Cripps referred "to these differences in discussion," saying the debates and questions "should invigorate and vitalize our effort."

Reverses so far suffered are "not the last straw and will not break the back of the British people," he said. He said the "government is proposing to prevent" abuse of the wishes of the majority of the people "by any small selfish groups."

Answers Bombing Critics.

To criticism regarding the futility of the nonstop bombing offensive on Germany, he replied that this policy was initiated when Britain was fighting alone. The original policy, with the Russian armies and the United States now in the war, is now being reconsidered.

He pointed out that it would be very bad for the government to give publicity to reports of bad treatment of white populations in Hongkong and Malaya by the Japanese, as "many hundreds of people would be intimately affected because of relations and friends." However, if rumors are proved true, they will be given the fullest publicity, he said.

Dealing with criticism offered earlier by Leslie Hore-Belisha, former war secretary who is Churchill's harshest critic, Sir Stafford said "everything possible will be done" to increase the active coöperation of the fighting services.

He did not answer directly Hore-Belisha's charge that neither the army nor navy has the aircraft required for the present war—including dive-bombers, anti-tank aircraft, and adequate transport planes.

Women and Children Leave Island of Aruba by Plane

ARUBA, N. W. I., Feb. 25 (AP).—One hundred and ten American women and children have been removed by airplane from this oil refining island off Venezuela, it was disclosed today.

[Altho this dispatch did not give the time of the removal of the women and children, it is presumed it took place some time since Feb. 16, when enemy submarines first made their appearance, sank several tankers, and shelled the oil refinery.]

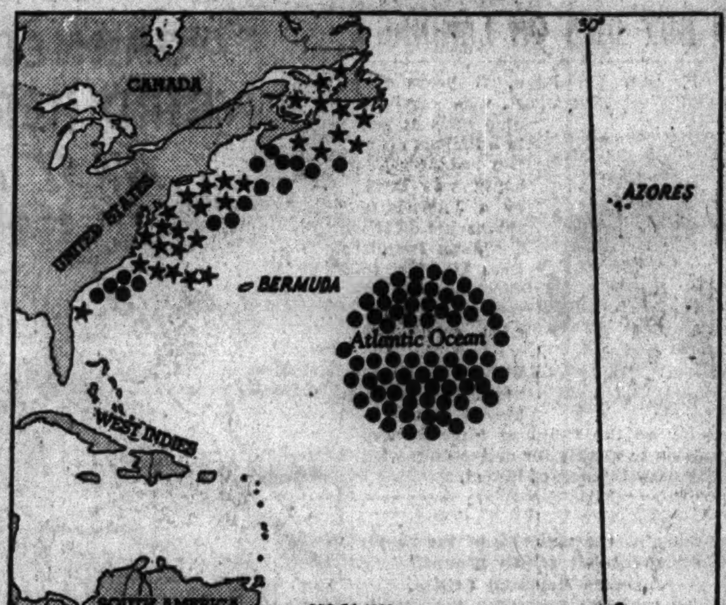
Ship Losses in Atlantic Told

(Stories in adjoining columns.)



Navy Secretary Knox announced yesterday that between Jan. 1 and Feb. 23 114 allied ships had been attacked in the western Atlantic ocean. He said 45 of these attacks occurred along the American coast. Previously the navy had announced from day to day the sinking of 29 ships along the coast. Secretary Knox said the other 69 allied ships had been attacked in the Atlantic west of the 30th meridian. Star symbols along the coast are placed approximately at the points where the actions occurred. The other symbols are placed without regard to location of the actions, which was not revealed.

17 GO MAD, DIE; 6 LIVE TO TELL OF TORPEDOING

Lifeboat Capsized 3 Times in Atlantic.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 25 (AP).—Six men, the only known survivors of the torpedoed Norwegian freighter Blink whose sinking two weeks ago was announced by the navy department today, arrived here and told haltingly of their 66 hour fight for life in a swamped lifeboat in rough, shark infested seas.

The 2,700 ton freighter was torpedoed without warning off the Atlantic coast with a probable loss of 24 lives.

The survivors believe the chief engineer, donkeyman, and a fireman of the 22 year year old ship were killed when two torpedoes exploded in the engine room. They believe four others were lost on a life raft.

Seventeen Died in Boat.

They watched 17 other crewmates in their crowded lifeboat go mad, then die of thirst and exposure. Their bodies were thrown or washed overboard.

The six were brought to Baltimore on an unidentified vessel last week and taken to the United States Marine hospital. There were no Americans in the mixed crew.

Five survivors are Norwegian—Chief Officer Briger Lunde, 28 years old; able bodied seamen Odd Nunne, 25, and Naker Thorbjornsen, 20; Steward Harry Friis, 31, and Fireman Godtfried Gullkisen, 29; the sixth is British—Ordinary Seaman George Johnson.

Hit by Three Torpedoes.

Lunde, veteran of another sinking last May, said a torpedo hit the No. 2 hold without exploding 50 seconds before the two torpedoes crashed into the engine room.

Within five minutes 23 men were in the starboard lifeboat—the port boat was smashed in the explosion. They moved away from the Blink which sank 15 minutes later.

Lunde said, "we dragged anchors all night waiting to see if there were any men in the water.

Lost Food and Water.

"Then we tried to raise the sail and the lifeboat capsized. Everybody went in the heavy sea. We lost our food, our water, our oars, our sail."

Two men clambered aboard to bail out, he said, but waves poured water in as fast as it could be bailed. The other seamen boarded the boat, sitting on the gunwales or cross seats in icy water up to their waists.

The lifeboat capsized twice more that day. The men repeatedly were washed overboard by huge waves.

Went Mad, One by One.

"One by one the men went mad," the officer said. "They would talk of a comfortable bed, a cup of hot coffee.

"Several men tried to jump overboard but we kept them inside. . . . Sharks came close. They were waiting for some one. . . . We saw two steamers. We waved but they didn't see us. But that gave us hope. We knew ships were near."

BRITISH TANKER SUNK OFF PUERTO RICO BY A SUB, 23 REACH SAFETY

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Feb. 25 (AP).—The 5,685 ton British tanker La Carriere was sunk today by a submarine attack 75 miles south of Puerto Rico, survivors reaching the port of Guanica reported.

Two boatloads of survivors reached here and two others were reported still adrift. In the first two boats were 23 survivors and the bodies of four men, including the captain.

The ship, first described from Ponce as an American freighter, was torpedoed late last night and sank four hours later, the survivors said. She was unable to send an SOS.

4 of 28 in Lifeboat Saved.

LISBON, Portugal, Feb. 25 (AP).—Four exhausted survivors of the torpedoed 9,262 ton Belgian freighter Gandia who saw 24 of their comrades die while adrift 25 days in their lifeboat were landed here today by a Portuguese trawler.

"It was a gallant but doomed band of men," said Chief Officer Hubert, one of the survivors. "The 28 men in our boat, out of an original crew of 40 on the Gandia, knew there wasn't enough food and water. But we prayed and sang hymns and refused to give up hope. . . . Those of us who lived saw wounds, hunger, thirst, and cold take 24 men, one by one. Two men went insane, stood up screaming, and jumped overboard. But men willingly gave up their rations to those weaker than themselves."

40 Survivors Reach Colombia.

BARRANQUILLA, Colombia, Feb. 25 (AP).—Forty survivors of the motor tanker Thalia, an 8,329 ton Panama registered ship which was torpedoed and shelled to the bottom two days ago 50 miles off Colombia, were landed today at Uribia, a small port. Eleven survivors were wounded slightly and they were flown here by airplane for treatment. One member of the crew was killed.

The survivors said the Thalia, owned by the Standard Oil company, received one torpedo hit and from 60 to 80 shells before sinking while en route from New York to Aruba, Dutch West Indies.

The ministry's holiday list advises that the annual summer vacation of workers should not exceed one week, with an additional one day break during the Easter period, August bank holiday [first Monday in August], and two days at Christmas or New Years.

MYSTERY VEILS 5 HOUR 'BATTLE' AT LOS ANGELES

Statement of Knox Is Criticized.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 25 [Special].—Last night's thrilling spectacle of anti-aircraft guns pumping thousands of rounds of ammunition into the sky as a mysterious object passed over this city remained a mystery tonight. The object, presumed by some observers to be a blimp, was not identified.

In Washington, D. C., Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said it was "just a false alarm."

"There were no planes over Los Angeles last night," he said. "At least that's our understanding. None has been found and a very wide reconnaissance has been carried on."

Knox Statement Criticized.

Sheriff Eugene Biscailluz, chairman of the Los Angeles county civilian defense committee, and its executive director, Harold W. Kennedy, declared in a joint statement:

"We jointly decry the very great damage done to civilian defense morale by the reported statement of Secretary of the Navy Knox that today's air raid was a 'false alarm' . . .

"We believe that it is highly important that we deal in good faith with the thousands of air raid wardens, auxiliary policemen, and other volunteers in the defense effort.

"These volunteers are ready to respond to their posts of duty as often as the real emergency requires, but must be dealt with in good faith to sustain their continued morale and patriotic service."

Army Remains Silent.

The western defense command in San Francisco said no enemy bombs were dropped and no planes shot down, but there was official silence about virtually everything else that happened in a spectacular blackout which lasted from 2:25 a. m. until 7:21 a. m.

"Cities in the Los Angeles area were blacked out at 2:25 a. m. today on orders from the 4th interceptor command when unidentified aircraft were reported in the area," the defense command announcement said.

"There was a considerable amount of anti-aircraft firing. The all-clear signal came at 7:21 a. m."

NORMANDIE FIRED BY NAZI AGENTS, CHARGE IN HOUSE

30 Put on Ship by Guard Service, Says Dickstein.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—Rep. Samuel Dickstein, [D., N. Y.], charged in the house today that the liner Normandie, which burned and capsized at its New York pier on Feb. 9, was "sabotaged with a deliberate design to destroy," and that more than 30 "Nazi agents" were employed as workmen on the ship at the time.

These agents, Dickstein said, were supplied by William Drechsel of New York City, whom he described as the "number one Nazi" in the United States and organizer of the Oceanic Service Corporation of New York City.

U. S. Inquiry Goes On.

A subcommittee of the house naval affairs committee heard four witnesses testify on the disaster, and planned to move its inquiry to New York City next week after hearing further testimony tomorrow.

Today's witnesses were Rear Adm. Alexander H. Van Keuren, chief of the navy bureau of ships; Rear Adm. Russell P. Waesche, commandant of the coast guard; Hamilton Morse, assistant to Rear Adm. Emory S. Land, chairman of the United States Maritime commission; and Rep. Walter A. Lynch of New York.

Lynch was called, Chairman Patrick H. Drewry said, because he had indicated in a floor speech a few days ago that he had considerable information about the possible causes of the disaster.

Tomorrow the committee plans to hear witnesses from the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which is charged with preventing sabotage.

Company Denies Charge.

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—Officials of the Oceanic Service Corporation tonight said that William Drechsel, whom Rep. Samuel Dickstein, [D., N. Y.], charged supplied "Nazi agents" for employment on the liner Normandie, severed connection with the company on Oct. 5, 1939.

Charles H. Robillard, treasurer, said that guards in the corporation's employ were assigned to the gate at the Normandie's pier at the time of the fire, but said that the men were old employés of unquestioned reliability.

Robillard said Drechsel served nine years as a director of the company, but was not its organizer, as Dickstein charged. Drechsel at one time was captain of the port for the North German Lloyd line, Robillard said, and took no active part in the business of the Oceanic company.

Robillard said the company had been organized in 1923 and had since supplied guards and watchmen for the waterfront.

Says He Planned Crime for Three Days.

steady with me," he told Crowley. "She said she couldn't go steady with any boy because her mother objected. She said her mother believed she was too young to be serious about any one.

"I told her then that if she didn't marry me I would kill her. She just laughed and said: 'O, Stevie'—she called me Stevie—'I know you too well. You wouldn't do anything like that.'

Shows Her Gun.

"But I meant it. I had my gun with me. I showed it to her, but she just laughed again. A few minutes later, when there was a crowd around, I pulled the gun out and held it up to her head and said: 'Will it be now?'

"Somebody else there said: 'O, put that thing away.' Dorothy just laughed, so I did and felt rather foolish. The gun wasn't loaded anyway. I didn't have any shells."

After the bowling alley meeting, McDonald said, he did not see Dorothy again until the day he killed her. He reached the fateful decision last Saturday, he said, and made the date on Sunday to carry out the shooting Tuesday afternoon. Meanwhile, he bought a box of cartridges to fit the revolver—a .38 caliber weapon stolen from a watchman at the Great Western railroad freight house at Harrison and Franklin streets, where he worked during the Christmas holidays.

"On the day of the killing I met Dotty at 12:45 at school," he said. "We got on the elevated and rode to the loop. We got into the theater at 1:50 p. m. I bought the tickets but Dorothy put them in her pocket. It was a game we had, she took them one time, I the next.

"We slipped up into the balcony because it was dark. There was almost nobody there at the time. I had my gun, loaded this time, in my left suit coat pocket."

Tells Her He Loves Her.

McDonald, nervously smoking a cigaret and carefully stroking a wave in his pale blond hair, recalled that he had held her hand and whispered to her that he loved her. They talked, watched the pictures, talked again.

"Finally, I put my right arm around her. She was sitting at my right. I pulled her over and kissed her and at the same time took the gun out and held it against her heart. I'm left handed, and it was easy.

"Then as I kissed her again I shot her."

McDonald said the girl had not known at first that he was carrying the gun. She felt it in his pocket finally and demanded that he give it to her. He refused and calmed her by kissing her, he said.

A point emphasizing the premeditation of the crime, police said, was McDonald's explanation of the tearing out of a page in a book—"Gulliver's Travels"—that was found beside the two theater seats they had occupied. He said her name was on the page and that he had torn it out while on the way down town "because I didn't want it there if I killed her."

McDonald's explanation for and story of the killing came at intervals in a busy day. After being seized early yesterday morning while asleep in the home of his sister, Mrs. Robert Wagner, 6836 West 34th street, Berwyn, he was questioned for an hour, after which he confessed the murder.

Jests with Police.

He ate a substantial breakfast and then reënacted, quickly and without any visible emotion, the killing in the theater balcony. He appeared to enjoy the attention his appearance at the theater aroused.

At lunch he laughed and jested with police, read over stenographic reports of various statements he had made, and then refused to sign them.

He was taken to the county morgue for the inquest shortly before 2 p. m. At his own request he was allowed to see Dorothy's body, and he shed a few tears—almost his only sign of emotion during the day. After this visit he told police he constantly was tempted to "jump out windows" or "get to a prescription counter where I could get some swift poison."

McDonald recovered his poise for the inquest. He was unruffled even when John Broz, elder uncle of Dorothy slugged him as he was walking to the witness chair.

Broz, who is in his 50s, was led away after policemen intervened. Later Broz said he had lost his head in sudden rage as the boy stepped close to him.

The coroner's jury heard McDonald refuse to testify and then quickly directed that he be held to the grand jury on a charge of murder. He will be taken before the jury today. Prosecutor Crowley said he would have a swift trial.

Not until after the inquest did McDonald sign a confession. This took place in Capt. Gilbert's office in the Criminal Courts building after the youth had read carefully the stenographic reports of his various statements and remarks.

Melee in the county morgue just after Clarence McDonald, 17 years old, was struck on the chin by John Broz. Broz is the uncle of Dorothy Broz, 17, whom Clarence shot to death as they sat together in the Palace theater on Tuesday. McDonald is being restrained by Sergt. Ollie Karwoski of the coroner's office.

Miss Dorothy Broz, who was slain by Clarence McDonald in the Palace theater.

Dorothy Ann Broz, 17 years old, 2124 Scoville avenue, Berwyn, killed in the tragic Palace theater shooting on Tuesday, was a vivacious child just growing into young womanhood. She was merry and charming and almost idolized by her school mates at Morton Township High school, Cicero.

Teachers and friends alike gave this testimony for their slain chum yesterday. Her teachers said that she had a quick intelligence which enabled her to earn excellent grades and simultaneously engage in school activities. She was a normal and charming girl, they said, who spent far more time at home with her parents than away from home on dates.

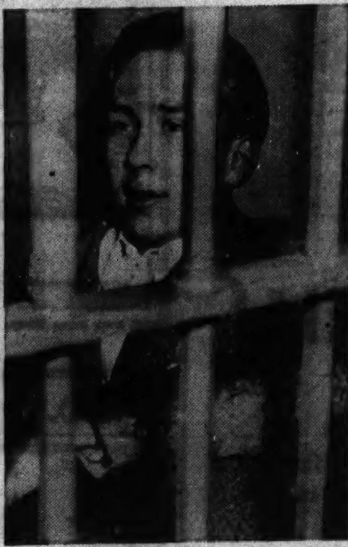
Indeed, they said, she had few friends among the boys of the school. She was much with other girls. She was interested in swimming, bowling—often with her parents—and tennis.

The girl's father, Frank J. Broz, has been in the automobile business in the community for [illegible]0 years. He said Dorothy frequently talked of Clarence McDonald, her slayer, but never mentioned that he wanted to marry her.

"She told us everything she did," he said. "I drove her to school yesterday [Tuesday] and she told me she was going to a loop movie with McDonald. She said she would be home at 6:30. When she wasn't we began to worry, but not for an hour or two later did we call police."

Broz said he and his wife, Marie, had always thought McDonald was a quiet, fine boy.

Funeral services for Dorothy will be held at 8:30 a. m. Saturday in St. Odillo's church, Berwyn. Burial will be in St. Adalbert's cemetery.



[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Clarence McDonald, 17 year old slayer of his sweetheart, is a slender, blond youth, who was a junior at Morton Township High school until one week ago, when he informed authorities there he was quitting. He was known as an intelligent boy—his teachers said his intelligence quotient was 105 or about average for the school—and he earned average grades.

Altho he had been at Morton High for only three semesters, he was known to most of the school. He was athletic in a desultory manner—going out for basketball and boxing teams. He was a natty dresser. In general his conduct was exemplary, D. W. Burford, dean of boys at Morton, said yesterday.

McDonald was born in Chicago on Aug. 17, 1924. His parents lived in Riverdale, Harvey and other suburban towns. In 1936, his father, Virgil, committed suicide after a daughter charged him with incest. The boy's mother, who later married Carl Wagner, said yesterday her son never held a job for any period of time, and apparently "just wasn't trying." She said a federal pension of $15 a month—given him as a dependent of a war veteran—enabled the boy to buy his own clothing and have pocket money.

He had tried to join the Marine corps, but was turned down because of poor eyes, his mother, who lives at 2823 South Ridgeland avenue, Berwyn, said last night. Mrs. Robert Wagner, a sister, of 6836 West 34th street, Berwyn, said her brother had been moody and "changed" ever since his father's suicide.

Counsel Is Ill; Abortion Trial Again Postponed

Illness again delayed the abortion conspiracy trial of Mrs. Ada Martin yesterday, but this time it was one of her attorneys, W. W. Smith, who was ill. Mrs. Martin has recovered from a recent illness apparently brought on by an overdose of sleeping powders. Judge John F. Haas of the Criminal court continued the case until Monday and told Defense Attorney Everett Jennings he and Smith must decide by that time whether they will demand a jury trial.

Two Stolen Tires Roll Thief Into Prison for 3 to 5 Years

Flemington, N. J., Feb. 25 (AP).—Hunterdon County Judge Horace G. Prall has sentenced Lawrence Lohman to three to five years in state prison on a charge of stealing two automobile tires and tubes. The tires were owned by Lohman's employer, Francis Bianchi, a Lebanon township farmer.

Three Changes Are Made in Fort Sheridan Staff

Col. Fredrick C. Rogers, commandant of Fort Sheridan, yesterday announced three administrative changes at the post. Maj. Edward H. Clouser has been appointed post quartermaster and Capt. Henry I. Stubblefield has assumed the position of chemical warfare officer. Both men fill vacancies that have existed several weeks. Lieut. Philip A. Hart has replaced Maj. William S. Allison as special services officer. Maj. Allison, responsible for the social and athletic program for enlisted men at the fort, will go to Fort Meade, Md., to attend the special services school.

PONDER MYSTERY IN SHOOTING OF PARK POLICEMAN

Lester Fenton.

Police were investigating the fatal shooting of Park Policeman Lester Fenton, 36 years old, whose body was found with a bullet wound near his heart early yesterday at 86th street and Winchester avenue. Fenton's service revolver was lying nearby and powder burns were found on his right hand, clothing, and chest.

Capt. William Doyle of the Gresham station said he believed Fenton shot himself. Police, however, could not find any motive for suicide. Fenton left his home at 1137 West 78th street Tuesday afternoon to report for target practice and duty at 4 p. m. He did not appear for work and later was seen drinking in a tavern, police said.

Fenton had been a park policeman since May 11, 1933, and had received two citations for good police work. He leaves his widow, Mary, and a daughter, Mary Beth, 6. An inquest will be conducted today at 7949 South Halsted street.

Two Warehouses Burn on Seattle Waterfront

LUNDEEN WIDOW TESTIFIES FOR SUSPECTED SPY

Says She Never Heard Viereck Criticize U. S.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 [Special].—George Sylvester Viereck, registered agent of German interests, never made any un-American remarks in her hearing and would have been unwelcome in the Lundeen home if he had, Mrs. Norma Lundeen, widow of Minnesota's late farmer-labor senator, testified today.

Mrs. Lundeen was called as a defense witness in Viereck's trial on charges of withholding essential information when he registered with the state department. She will resume her testimony tomorrow.

Tells of Intercepted Letter.

The government closed its case against Viereck with testimony purporting to show that Viereck had been in communication with the Wilhelmstrasse in Berlin. Nadya Gardner, British censorship worker at Hamilton, Bermuda, told of intercepting an envelope addressed to the alleged Portuguese alias of the German ambassador to Lisbon and containing an inner envelope addressed to Dr. Hans Dieckhoff, former German ambassador to the United States, then in Berlin.

This envelope, Miss Gardner testified, contained the manuscript of a book by former Sen. Rush Holt of West Virginia entitled "Who's Who Among the War Mongers." An FBI handwriting and typewriting expert identified the typing on the envelope as from the same typewriter as letters known to have been written and signed by Viereck.

Hill Tells of Reformation.

Earlier in the day George Hill, former office employé of Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.], was recalled by the government. Hill, now under a prison sentence for perjury, testified that his trial attorney, John J. O'Connor, former Democratic congressman from New York, had advised him against telling the truth during the perjury hearing.

When he advised O'Connor he had decided to tell the truth, O'Connor said, "You're going nuts," Hill testified. Hill said he reached his decision to be truthful at the communion rail at the Epiphany church on Sunday.

SO! NO SOUTHERN STYLE BISCUITS? DIVORCE UPHELD!

Tallahassee, Fla., Feb. 24 [Special].—A young man from the deep south who leads a northern belle to the altar does not thereby forfeit his inherent right to hot biscuits and corn pone three times a day and is entitled to a divorce if he doesn't get them.

This is the inference left by a Florida supreme court decision today refusing to reopen a suit in which Warren S. Hyman, Georgia born, won a divorce from Hermina Hallett Hyman, Minnesota reared.

"The husband was raised on southern cooking, and northern cooking interfered with his digestion," Justice Roy Chapman pointed out in his opinion. "He liked hot biscuits and corn bread at every meal, and light bread and crackers were not on the Georgia menu. It is indisputable that the parties possessed distinct and conflicting views on religion, education, habits, standards, concepts, and cultural backgrounds."

ORDER CAPTAINS TO NAME 60,000 RAID WARDENS

Orders were issued yesterday to block captains in the Chicago defense organization to recommend four persons in each block to serve as air raid wardens. Sixty thousand wardens will be appointed in the city, according to the Chicago Office of Civilian Defense. Each will be given a 25 hour course and will be equipped with identifying arm bands, helmets, emergency lights, gas masks, and special gloves and boots.

A committee of three named by the Chicago OCD to supervise collection of operating funds by local defense units will meet, probably tomorrow, to approve methods of soliciting the funds. Frank Rathje, president of the Chicago City bank, was named chairman of the committee. Wallace McClay of the O. D. Jennings company and Lee Ross of the Chicago park district are the other two members.

SENATE PASSES FARM BILL OVER F. D. R. PROTEST

Price Hike Called Peril to War Effort.

Brown reminded the senate that the government thus far has lost 170 million dollars thru the operations of the commodity credit corporation. "Prices have so risen," he said, "that at the present time we can wipe out entirely the 170 million loss and can break even in the immense financial undertaking which the government has assumed."

Senators John H. Bankhead [D., Ala.], Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.], Elmer Thomas [D., Okla.], and Richard B. Russell [D., Ga.], co-authors of the bill passed today, all argued that the sale of government held farm commodities below the parity price would depress farm prices generally and work undue hardships on the farmers.

Sen. Thomas denied Secretary Wickard's contention that the bill would boost farm prices by 15 per cent—from the present loan rate of 85 per cent of parity to 100 per cent of parity—and add 1 billion dollars a year to the nation's food bill.

Dismiss Charges Against 25 Hotel Strike Pickets

Twenty-five pickets, who were arrested by the police last Monday in a one day strike called against three north side hotels, were discharged yesterday for want of prosecution when they were arraigned before Judge J. M. Braude in Women's court. The strike was called by local 593 of the Hotel and Restaurant Employés International union against the Belden-Stratford, 2300 Lincoln Park West; the Webster and the Parkway at 2150 and 2100 Lincoln Park West, respectively.

45, a Day's Record, Sworn Into Naval Building Corps

Recruiting for the 1st Naval Construction corps here set a new record yesterday when 45 men were sworn in by Lieut. Richard E. Harrison, in charge of the midwest office. The previous peak day was Feb. 11, when 30 men were enlisted. After a short training period, members of the construction corps will be sent as building crews to bases around the world.

15,000 Aliens in Chicago Must Register in 3 Days

With only three days remaining before the Feb. 28 deadline, an estimated 15,000 German, Italian, and Japanese aliens in Chicago have failed to apply for certificates of identification, Postmaster Ernest J. Kruetgen said yesterday.

5,151 ARRESTED AS ENEMY ALIENS SINCE WAR BROKE

3,250 Japs and 1,532 Germans Seized.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has apprehended 5,151 enemy aliens since the outbreak of the war, Attorney General Francis Biddle announced today, as reports from western and southern cities told of continuing activity by government raiders.

A former German countess and an Italian prince were taken into custody at Miami, while at San Antonio, Tex., FBI men said they had arrested a Japanese who had in his possession gas guns, gas masks, blackjacks and a map of San Antonio with vital military establishments outlined in red pencil.

Biddle said that thru Feb. 19 he had acted on 1,084 of 5,151 enemy alien cases and had ordered 448 aliens interned for the duration of the war, 421 paroled, and 215 released outright. Those interned included 255 Germans, 37 Italians, and 156 Japanese.

4,067 Not Acted Upon.

Cases of the remaining 4,067 have yet to be acted upon. Local alien enemy hearing boards investigate the cases and their decisions are subject to review by the attorney general.

Biddle's announcement showed that those apprehended included 3,250 Japanese, 1,532 Germans, and 369 Italians.

There were 274 Germans paroled and 145 released; 102 Japanese paroled and 34 released, and 45 Italians paroled and 36 released.

In the San Francisco area, federal agents moved into 46 areas forbidden to alien enemies today with orders to arrest or investigate any remaining.

Three Held as Signalers.

Near Los Angeles, three Japanese, two men and a woman, were taken into custody by city police at the beach city of Venice on suspicion of signaling with flash lights during the air raid alarm.

At Miami, R. G. Danner, FBI agent in charge, announced 29 Germans, Italians, and Japanese had been taken into custody. These included the former Countess Erica von Haacke of Germany and an Italian prince.

NEUTRALITY ACT FUGITIVE SINCE 1937 SURRENDERS

New York, Feb. 25 [Special].—Heustis Wells, former president of the Tampa-New Orleans-Tampico Airlines, Inc., has surrendered here to answer a 1937 indictment charging conspiracy to violate a neutrality resolution of 1934, Assistant United States Attorney Edward C. Wallace said today.

Wells was held in $5,000 bail and will plead to the indictment tomorrow, it was said. A fugitive who has spent recent years in Bolivia and Peru, Wells is accused of conspiring with others to send four Curtiss-Wright Condor bombers to Bolivia at the time of that nation's Gran Chaco boundary dispute with Paraguay.

CHORINES SPARK WHITE WAY'S WAR ON LA GUARDIA

Broadway Fears Mayor's 'Hysteria' Wave.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Feb. 25.—Chorus girls were mustered in for picket duty, show people made plans for a big massmeeting, and a legal counteroffensive was started today as Broadway girded itself for a finish fight against Mayor Fiorello La Guardia.

Hostilities broke out in the theatrical sector last night when the Gaiety, a burlesque house, was padlocked by Paul Moss, license commissioner. Moss wielded the club of censorship on orders from the mayor. It was the third theater of this kind darkened by city officials since the first of the year.

Broadway is fearful that La Guardia, who, his friends say, is motivated by "war hysteria" in many of his acts these days, will go after other branches of the theater next. And the theater, after all, is one of New York City's biggest industries.

Producers Plan Battle.

Members of the board of governors of the League of New York Theaters—the producers of legitimate shows—met behind closed doors this afternoon and mapped out a secret program to combat what they regard as a threat. If La Guardia can close a burlesque house and put a policeman in the box office to keep it closed, then he can shut up any kind of show in town, it is argued.

The pickets, who will be stationed at Moss' home, were being recruited from the unemployed chorines of the erstwhile burlesque theaters. Five hundred chorines, including some highly touted strip tease artists, stagehands, musicians, ushers, and other employés are out of work as a result of the censorship orders.

A battle committee of former burlesque entertainers who graduated into the big time was also being formed. Among the group were Abbott and Costello, popular movie comedians who are only two years out of burlesque; Fanny Brice, Sophie Tucker, Bobby Clark, and Jimmie Savo.

Hearing Was Unusual.

Commissioner Moss held yesterday's hearing, when the Gaiety's application for a license renewal was denied, under unusual circumstances. Witnesses were excluded and Moss refused to let Morris L. Ernst, counsel for the burlesque theaters, enter the room.

The commissioner's grounds for denying the license consisted of letters from churches protesting at the type of entertainment. On the other hand, it was pointed out that the mayor's own appointed committee to look into the burlesque situation had recommended all three theaters be granted a license.

One of the principal objectors was the Lord's Day Alliance, which opposes baseball and movies on Sunday.

Not Guilty of Overt Act.

There was no overt act on which to base the action. The Gaiety had never seen an arrest or summons during the last four years.

"Closing the theaters in this way is more dangerous to democracy than a few offenses against taste," Ernst declared.

Ernst said the mayor's recent tantrums, his fights with friends, and summary firing of old and trusted employés were the result of "frustration" because he hadn't been allowed to keep his job as national director of the Office of Civil Defense. He charged the mayor was gripped by "war hysteria" and the whole theater business might suffer.

REPORT CIO-AFL URGE F. D. R. TO BAR PAY CEILING

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 [Special].—Leaders of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations jointly asked President Roosevelt today to renounce any plan to bar general wage increases, and to create an independent agency within the department of labor to handle the problems of mobilizing millions of men and women for the war effort on the industrial front.

These were the highlights of a proposed war labor policy placed before the chief executive by his "combined labor war board," consisting of three representatives each from the AFL and CIO, it was reported today.

Significance was attached to the plan, since it represented one of the few occasions on which the two rival labor groups have presented a united front on a major policy question.

There was no public intimation tonight of the President's reaction to the policy proposed. It would be necessary for the President to differ with at least three key administration officials in order to accept labor's plan.

BYRD DEMANDS PERKINS' OUSTER FOR 'INCAPACITY'

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—Sen. Harry F. Byrd [D., Va.] demanded in the senate today the removal from office of Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins, asserting her record had been one of "inefficiency and incapacity."

Detailing what he termed "nine years of incompetence" on the part of Miss Perkins, Byrd asked that she be replaced by one who would be fair and just to labor but at the same time would insist upon no work stoppages in defense industries.

30,000 CONCERNS MUST REGISTER IN SUGAR SIGNUP

Groceries and Taverns Are Included.

Preparations for the sugar ration registration of 30,000 retail business outlets were begun yesterday by Michael J. Mulcahy, metropolitan rationing administrator. At the same time all schools in the area and their personnel were placed at the disposal of the federal government for the vast registration task.

Mulcahy said the roster of companies will be compiled so that their present stocks of sugar may be determined. Only high schools and their personnel will be used in this registration.

Use of All Schools.

The registration of individuals will require the use of all schools and undoubtedly necessitate their closing on the days now slated for the signup—the last four days of the last full week in March. The business registration is expected to be made the week before in one day.

Mulcahy said the business registration will include 1,558 drug stores, 2,755 restaurants, 967 taverns serving food and 9,845 taverns using sugar in mixed drinks, 9,331 groceries and delicatessen stores in the city, and other such businesses thruout the county. He placed the total at 30,000.

The registration of individuals—there are 4,277,000 in the metropolitan area—will be specifically for sugar ration books, but it will serve also as the basis for issuance of buying permits for any other commodities that subsequently may be added to the ration list.

Registrars to Take Oath.

Mulcahy said all teachers and other registrars will be asked to take the oath of allegiance to the United States. This was suggested by Oscar E. Hewitt, commissioner of public works, who said the workers should be impressed with the seriousness of the job.

"Yes, they should," Mulachy replied. "They will be asked to take the same oath of allegiance that a soldier or sailor takes. Then they will be made to realize they are dealing with the government and chiselers who would impose on the registrars will be stopped."

Reappointment of Kruetgen for Third Term Confirmed

Reappointment of Ernest J. Kruetgen to his third term as postmaster in Chicago was confirmed yesterday by the senate in Washington. His name was submitted by President Roosevelt. Kruetgen became postmaster in 1933 and was reappointed in 1937.

CONSULATE TO BE MOVED.

A. Del Carril, Argentine consul in Chicago, announced yesterday that after March 1 the consulate would be in suite 4 H, 1400 Lake Shore drive.

ASKS HOUSE SIFT DRY LOBBY'S USE OF U. S. PROPERTY

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—Congress today was called upon to investigate use of government property by the World Prohibition association, which is engaged in a campaign to resuscitate the "noble experiment" during the present war.

Rep. Sweeney [top], and E. Page Gaston.

Rep. Martin L. Sweeney [D., O.] told the house that one Edward Page Gaston, head of the association, is using room 153 in the house of representatives office building as headquarters in his attempts to bring back the "horrible nightmare" of prohibition.

The room in question is set aside for the use of minority members of the house. Sweeney said Gaston uses the mimeograph services of the room to print propaganda which is distributed widely.

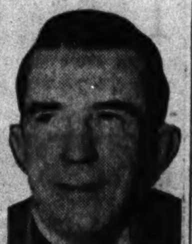
"Gaston's organization is made up of the old Anti-Saloon league, the Methodist Board of Temperance and Morals, and kindred organizations," Sweeney declared. "It has been described as the holding company for more than 100 anti-liquor outfits.

NEW WAR POWERS BILL AROUSING FEARS IN HOUSE

Labor Laws' Suspension, Inflation Forecast.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—Altho many members confessed their misgivings concerning the extraordinary authority granted President Roosevelt in the latest war powers bill, the house today was preparing to pass the measure late tomorrow. The senate passed the bill Jan. 28.



Rep. H. W. Smith.

The main controversy will center about a proposal by Rep. Howard W. Smith [D., Va] to suspend during the war period all the existing laws regarding labor. This would permit elimination of the 40 hour week and other standards regarding wages and working conditions. If house leaders are not successful in preventing consideration of the Smith amendment on a point of order, its chances of house passage are considered excellent.

"Printing Press Money" Seen.

Attention today was focused upon the provision in the bill which has been termed "an act to set up a printing press in the treasury." It authorizes the federal reserve banks to purchase government securities directly from the government instead of limiting such purchases to the open market.

"This provision might appear innocuous to the casual reader," declared Rep. Jesse P. Wolcott [R., Mich.], known as the outstanding financial expert in the house, "but not a sound economist in the nation favors it. Almost without exception they have denounced it as highly inflationary. It won't help us much to win this war if we have to go thru the inflation period that Germany suffered after the World war."

Minority "In a Hole."

Rep. Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] expressed the feelings of many minority members when he said:

"This bill gets us into a hole. We must vote for it or be charged with retarding the war effort. We have to go along with the majority, but we will hold the administration strictly accountable in the use of these powers."

"People are suspicious of this measure," agreed Rep. Clarence E. Hancock [R., N. Y.]. "They see in it a complete destruction of our civil liberties and rights. There has never been in congress a bill so farreaching."

—Stephen Decatur.

THE ROYAL ROAD TO DEFEAT.

Mr. Churchill has told the house of commons that fully 100,000 officers and men of the imperial armies were taken prisoner at the fall of Singapore. Of these, 40,000 had arrived only a few weeks before the surrender. Hongkong also was reënforced shortly before it fell, with the loss of 10,000 or more prisoners. Not long ago the arrival of additional troops in Burma was reported. Accounts of the appearance of British and American soldiers in Java have also been published. Other dispatches have recorded the presence of American troops in New Zealand and Australia.

These items establish the lack of sound military management in the southwestern Pacific area and therefore in Washington and London. The cardinal military blunder—the dispersion of force—has been committed and the results thus far are precisely what might have been expected. Whatever strength is hastily brought to a threatened point is promptly overmatched by the Japanese who have control of the sea and air and the further advantage of nearby depots of men and supplies. Our side is being defeated in detail because its men, its guns, its planes, and its ships are scattered.

This is an old story in war and particularly in this war, but the lesson of Norway, Jugo-Slavia, Greece, Libya, and Hawaii has not been learned. Instead of massing enough strength at one point to achieve a positive result we have seen our scattered forces, time and again, bowled over by an aggressive and realistic enemy. It seems incredible, but it is a fact, that men and equipment were thrown away in the hopeless effort to hold Singapore and the equally hopeless effort to hold Hongkong. When these men were sent it must already have been apparent to the general staff, as it was to laymen, that the positions could not be successfully defended.

Mr. Roosevelt's speech on Monday evening was, in large measure, an argument for a continuance of the policy of dispersion. It is true he spoke of keeping the many lines of communication open until American forces could be massed for a decisive attack, but his present emphasis is plainly upon the scattering of effort. By the time he judges we are ready to launch our offensive we may find it exceedingly difficult and costly to reach any of the fronts on which an effective attack might be made. The effort to maintain all our lines of communication across all the oceans necessitates a thin defense everywhere.

Maj. Gen. Fuqua, writing recently in Newsweek, said: "If we do not fall victim to the ever beckoning siren of dispersion, we can name our own war front, make our own battle, and win it." That is sound military advice. Gen. Fuqua suggested that we might concentrate on Norway or North Africa. We might move down from the White sea to relieve Leningrad and then turn the German flank. He considered the southwest Pacific, but feared that the distances would "require piecemeal reënforcements, a policy unfair to our armed forces and to the allied cause." The Siberian front offered another possibility.

Still another suggestion has come from Lieut. Col. W. F. Kernan of our army. He suggests that the weak spot is Italy and argues persuasively for an attack there which, in his judgment, would clear the Mediterranean and North Africa and upset Hitler's plans for a spring offensive in Russia. Col. Kernan's choice of a front can be debated, but there can be no quarrel with the thesis stated in the title of his little book: "Defense Will Not Win the War." [Little, Brown & Co.] We cannot win by trying to hold a score of widely separated positions against enemies who are in a position to concentrate against them one at a time. If that policy is pursued it will lead to an endless series of Singapores and Hongkongs.

STEEL FOR GOLD.

Japan has passed thru three steps in its development as an important industrial nation. At first it imported finished manufactured products and paid for them with raw materials. The second step involved the purchase of raw materials abroad, which were paid for with the raw materials of which Japan had an excess, principally silk, and some finished products. In the third step Japan took over nearby territory as a source of raw materials. At this stage it was manufacturing its loot partly for home use and partly to pay for other raw materials needed for its manufactures or for building up a war pile.

But here was a hitch. The countries which formerly had sold their finished goods to the raw material nations tried to keep the new competition out of their market. Here is where the United States came to Japan's rescue. Early in 1934 the Washington government raised the price of gold from $20 an ounce to $35, and offered to purchase all at that price which any nation wanted to sell us.

Our higher price acted as a powerful stimulus to Japanese gold production. In 1931 gold output of the Japanese empire amounted to 21,860 kilograms. By 1936 this had been increased to 42,375 kilograms, and by 1939 to 70,000 kilograms. Seeking to expand the gold output of the country to the very maximum, Tokio raised its buying price and offered subsidies in addition.

Having taken steps to increase its output of gold, the Japs saw to it that little of the new production was drained off in domestic consumption. Restrictions were imposed confining the use of gold in Japan to government decorations and medical purposes. Meanwhile plans were laid to acquire the old gold of the country. In 1939 a census was taken of gold watches, brooches, bracelets, rings, ornaments, bullion, and coin held by institutions and individuals. The Japs meant to get all of the gold they could possibly assemble for the purpose of dumping it in the United States.

Gold purchased by this country from Japan totaled 246 million dollars in 1937. The next year the total was 169 million dollars. In 1938 we paid 166 million dollars to the Japanese for their gold, and 111 million dollars more the next year.

The Japanese not only sold us all the gold they could produce or acquire from their people, but they also let us have at $35 an ounce most of their monetary gold stock. Between 1936 and February, 1941, the last date for which figures have been made public, Japan's gold reserve declined from 463 million dollars to 164 million dollars.

The balances created by the sale of gold to us were used to acquire great stocks of scrap iron, copper, and other war materials. Their gold, which we received in return, lies buried at Fort Knox. If we hadn't been willing to pay $35 an ounce Japan wouldn't have had the means with which to arm herself so well. These are some facts which will be taken into consideration when the wisdom of our gold policy is appraised some years hence.

A BILL TO BE WATCHED.

Attorney General Biddle met the criticism of his censorship bill by disclaiming responsibility for it. He said he didn't know who got hold of his rubber stamp and sent the bill to congress in his name. Later he appeared before a senate subcommittee in support of the measure.

He cited a number of instances in which access had been gained to important records of various sorts, some of which would probably be of military value to the enemy. It is hard to see that these facts justify the repressive measure which he indorses. The present laws for dealing with espionage surely go as far as the law can go to protect military secrets and prevent communication with the enemy.

Mr. Biddle's bill would make it a crime to divulge any information marked secret or confidential by the department originating it, and would allow every federal agency almost complete discretion in deciding what would be called confidential. He himself concedes the validity of the objection that department and agency heads could stifle any criticism of their acts, whether connected with the war effort or not, by misuse of the provisions of the bill. The bill as written is not confined to information valuable to the enemy, which is already covered, of course, by the espionage act, and while Biddle said that he would not oppose an amendment restricting its application to war secrets he argued against such a restriction.

The bill is so obviously dangerous to a free press and to the criticism which must be permitted if incompetents in office are not to sabotage our war effort that it appears to have little chance of getting out of committee. Nevertheless, the trickery and evasion that have characterized its legislative course to date give every reason for keeping it under close public surveillance.

THE GARAND RIFLE.

Gen. MacArthur's praise of the high combat efficiency shown by the Garand semi-automatic rifle on the Bataan peninsula was received with satisfaction by the ordnance corps of the army. The weapon was designed by John C. Garand, a civilian employé of the Springfield armory.

Gen. MacArthur himself should share with the ordnance department the congratulations for the success of the weapon. The design of the rifle was taken up during his incumbency as chief of staff. The original plan was for a rifle of .25 caliber in which the smaller weight of projectile and lighter propelling charge would have greatly simplified the problem of design. The general insisted, very properly, upon a .30 caliber rifle in order to give the bullet more hitting power. The superiority of the weapon over the .25 caliber arms used by the Japanese troops fighting him is, in part, the result of this insistence.

The Garand when it reached the testing stage was subjected to considerable criticism, the basis of most of which was that it was not as effective a weapon as a privately developed semi-automatic rifle. Whether the Garand is really the best semi-automatic on the market is immaterial today, because its semi-automatic principle is so vastly superior to the outmoded bolt action arm. It is equally unimportant whether it is as good a weapon as the Thompson submachine gun, or "tommy" gun, which is less accurate at longer ranges but has greater shock power and automatic fire. Both guns are good weapons. Bataan is the laboratory where both are in use and it will provide experience to show which should be the predominant weapon of the riflemen or, more probably, to show the conditions in which one or the other is to be preferred.

STRANGE PRELUDE.

The murder of the Berwyn girl had a strange prelude. The confession of the youthful killer showed that a week before he killed her he threatened her life with a revolver. This occurred in a candy store in the presence of a group of her friends, whose protests caused him to put the gun away. Even allowing for unusual times and the vagaries of the younger generation, it is bewildering that this could occur without some one reporting the incident to the police.

Editorial of the Day

A TOUGH PEOPLE.

[Pulaski Enterprise, Mound City, Ill.]

We are in the period of the fifth anniversary of the great Ohio flood that filled this town with water from 10 to 20 feet deep and left it some six weeks later a mass of ruins and wreckage. We recall the return of people to homes where they walked about, dazed and numb, poking in the wreckage of their homes and clutching some muddy or bedraggled article which seemed, for the moment, to be precious. As we see pictures of people looking at bombed homes or searching in wreckage, we think of these people in this flood town, walking about, searching about, and seemingly in despair.

Yet work began. Mud began to be scooped and scraped out. Floors began to be washed. The work, industry, and resolution of some inspired others. Aid from outside came in. The American spirit began to move, and a town that once seemed wrecked beyond repair is now a vastly changed place.

And from the return in five years we can say that it is a tough people. The Galveston flood brought a new Galveston. The Chicago fire brought a new Chicago. We do not quit when we are down.

Out of that spirit is our hope in this war. Blundering we will do and are doing. We are still trying to carry on social reform, and work, and fight. We are still spending millions for things not remotely connected with war, using up precious machinery and rubber and burning gas and oil and consuming man power needed for military work.

But despite these it is the spirit, the spirit of a tough people, who refuse to be overawed by reverses and setbacks, and who refuse to quit because of defeats, that must and can win. We are, fundamentally, a tough people, and we may walk about in a daze for a time, but we will begin in earnest soon. Our days of walking about, looking about, picking up this object and that, will give way to work and directed effort to win the war and nothing else.

MURDER IN THE THEATER.

"Like a mystery story," people said when the news that a girl had been murdered as she sat in silent enjoyment at a movie show swept across the Loop. But "unlike" would have been a better word, for altho the scene and situation have been often used in fiction, the victim is generally a character whose fate does not arouse pathos. The shocking affair at the Palace contained too much horror for a mystery story.

• • •

We have read dozens of books and seen quite a few plays [titles deservedly forgotten] whose plots centered upon an assassination at a theatrical performance. In the realm of reality, however, such tragedies are rare. Deeds of gross evil can happen anywhere, but the long history of public entertainment provides relatively few examples.

• • •

About 20 years ago we came out of the La Salle theater among the last stragglers of the departing audience to learn that there had been a shooting in the lobby a few minutes earlier. A minor gangster, peacefully escorting his wife, had been under fire and escaped with slight wounds. The names of the gangsters? We'll ask Jim Doherty when he returns from his Florida vacation.

On Nov. 16, 1917, a sputtering and impotent bomb was found under a chair in the Auditorium at an opera performance. This caused newspaper excitement, but no damage. See Edward C. Moore's "Forty Years of Opera in Chicago" for the details. [No index.]

• • •

Then there was the slaying of Stanford White by Harry Thaw at a performance in the Madison Square roof garden on June 26, 1906. It formed a "story" which was first-page stuff for years.

• • •

The greatest crime in the history of the theater was Lincoln's assassination. Even more frightful, however, was an almost forgotten anarchist bombing of an audience in Barcelona in 1894. Six men were executed for that atrocity.

ALBERT PAYSON TERHUNE.

[Author and collie breeder, died Feb. 18, 1942.]

The Sunnybank collies are worried,
Restless and never quite still:
Has he gone on a walk without them—
The walk they loved to the hill?

Or do they know, collie fashion,
That this is a walk of one way—
For if just a stroll to the hill and back,
Would he leave them at home today?

Where he whistles and looks around;
And the long-ago friends come barking,
Tho a ghost dog's bark has no sound.

And ghostly tails are wagging;
They leap as happy dogs will
To nuzzle his hand, for isn't he back,
Back with them over the Hill?

Hollywood's First Movie.

Most of the newspaper items on the death of Edwin Milton Royle, veteran playwright, forgot to mention his best known drama, "The Squaw Man." First staged in 1905, it was acted all over the world, and in total performances it is in the class with "Abie's Irish Rose." Chicago saw "The Squaw Man" at Powers' theater with William Faversham in the title rôle. It became the first motion picture filmed in Hollywood.

Have you heard about the high school teacher who started his discourse with "Now take the mining industry as a whole," and couldn't understand why his class broke out laughing.

PLANTAR WARTS MAY IMITATE CALLUS.

TRADITION has it that warts come in the dark of the moon or thru the handling of garter snakes and toads. Even earthworms have been blamed. Witches were always well provided with these excrescences.

But science has destroyed these bits of folklore. The growths are the results of infection and the virus responsible can be inoculated, with a new crop in prospect.

Those which appear on the hands are of relatively little moment as they can be taken off without much difficulty. But when they attack the bottom of the feet [plantar], we are confronted with prize troublemakers. We pick up the causative agent because so many of us paddle around swimming pools, locker rooms, and shower baths in our bare feet.

Reports have been cited of epidemics among school children, altho solitary cases may arise in almost any household and in any season. Strangely enough, they are more common among women and girls than among men and boys. Perhaps the wearing of high-heeled shoes, which throws the weight forward on the ball of the foot, is a factor.

The reason we want to get rid of these annoyances is because they interfere with walking and cause pain. In time, they may become surrounded with callus and, whenever a roughened mass is ringed with horny tissue, we may well suspect the presence of one of these blemishes. They look much like ordinary corns. If the center core of the wart is exposed by careful paring, multiple small black points will be seen. These are greatly distended blood spaces.

We must not call every callus a plantar wart. Badly fitting shoes and unequal pressure on the soles will bring on the formation of protective plaques which become painful as they increase in size. All such structures are merely thickened layers of epidermis.

Because these protuberances [warts] are so annoying, removal has presented a puzzling problem to our experts. All varieties will not respond with equal facility to a single plan of treatment. Now and then they will disappear spontaneously. The whirlpool bath, which has been widely utilized, will prove curative in many instances.

The most effective procedure by far seems to be the careful use of X-rays. In order not to injure the tissues, lead plates are employed with a hole which is exactly the shape and size of the lesion. The initial dose is not repeated until at least 10 days have elapsed.

In the meantime the patient will evidence some comfort and, on examination, the mass will be found definitely contracted. The second application is somewhat less powerful than the first. In stubborn cases, several exposures may be required. If everything goes as it should there will be progressive shrinking until the bulletlike bit of tissue can be lifted out with the fingers.

Radium, likewise, has been an important aid. In one series of 218 cases, recovery was complete and in only 3 per cent were there signs of a recurring infection. This perhaps is a higher percentage of successful cures than is obtained usually with the Roentgen ray.

WANTS GIRL.

Mrs. W. writes: My husband was told that he could have children of only one sex because he suffered an attack of mumps. We now have three boys. Is it possible that we might have a girl next time?

REPLY.

The determination of sex has never been solved, coincidences to the contrary. This is a mumpish notion. According to the theory of probabilities your chances are good. In your husband's case the attack must have been average or mild.

PROLONGED.

F. H. G. writes: Why does it take so long for phlebitis to disappear?

REPLY.

Because the circulation, like a stream choked by a landslide, must establish one or more new channels. This is a slow process.

FROM A CCC MEMBER.

Mountain, Wis., Feb. 22.—I disagree on some of your points in your editorial on the CCC.

I agree with you that the pay is somewhat better in the CCC than in the army. We have some discipline in CCC's. If we didn't, then everybody would do as he liked and not as he is told to do. We have an army reserve officer in camp.

Why do you say that the CCC is a government hideaway for slackers and cowards? As yet I have seen very few fellows that refused to do their work and the ones that did were dishonorably discharged.

Have you ever seen a good forest fire? I've seen many hundreds of acres of virgin timber being destroyed by fire. I was with about 100 other fellows helping fight the Yellowstone fire in August, 1939.

We don't do any leaf raking as far as I know and I have been in quite a number of camps. We have men that do such tedious jobs as kitchen police, snip hunters, and latrine orderlies. They seem to like their jobs. They say it is work, but they like to do something or else they'll get lazy and they'll be just right for the WPA. Many of the fellows I'm talking about have got good jobs in private industry and also have become sergeants in the army.

If you are interested, make a trip out here and see if we're cowards and slackers. You would be very much surprised and interested in the work we are doing.

DEFENDS CCC.

Villa Park, Ill., Feb. 22.—May I ask if the editorial writer who wrote the three paragraphs, "Work for the CCC," in yesterday's issue is acquainted with the CCC?

Many CCC enrollees are, of course, under military age, and there are—or were—entire companies composed of indigent veterans. Enrollees of military age do not escape the draft by reason of their CCC connection. They come from needy families and with few exceptions an enrollee receives $5 a month. The remainder of his so-called "better-than-in-the-army" pay goes to his needy family.

There are a great many young men in the United States who have been deferred because they should support dependents. Are these called slackers? Not often, nor properly. No more should the CCC men be called slackers.

In some parts of the country, notably where millions of young trees have been planted and where older forests need protection, the CCC is the one organization that offers insurance against the loss of our timber supply for the present and future. Young trees do not grow to advantage without constant care. We now have many millions of them to be protected against pests, choking undergrowth, and fire.

In my humble opinion, the CCC men who faithfully perform this work under the supervision of the United States forestry service are serving Uncle Sam well indeed.

THE EYE AND EAR CLINIC.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—I am registered as a glaucoma patient at the Eye and Ear infirmary. I had occasion to be at the hospital and while there I stopped in to see the social worker. I cannot begin to say how shocked I was when I was told that she had been dismissed.

To know her has been a pleasure and a privilege and all of us who have had personal contact with her feel her absence keenly. I am in a position to know how well she is thought of because a clinic patient rubs elbows with people from all walks of life, and when such a group refers to a social worker as an "angel" you might know she is all that and more. All of the glaucoma clinic patients loved her. She knew everything about glaucoma. She was a great help to me in controling the condition of my eyes, because she taught me how to live and this is the first time in years that I have felt so well, despite the fact that I have glaucoma of a very serious nature.

As a taxpayer, I wish to protest against having political appointments interfere with the treatment of people with such a serious eye condition as glaucoma. Politics may have their place, but certainly their place is not here, where people may go blind because of unqualified personnel.

"UNION NOW" AND CASTE SYSTEMS.

New Castle, Ind., Feb. 20.—Americans are free men. Englishmen are subjects. What basis could there be for a "Union Now" between free men and subjects? When England gets rid of her caste system the subject of "Union Now" might be worthy of tentative consideration. In the meantime the starry-eyed gents who propose the plan might take up something easier—such as regulating the tides or removing the salt from the ocean.

Suppose he's in the Dismal swamp?

IT MAKES HIM MAD.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—The society page tells us "The fall of Singapore and the beginning of Lent failed to dampen the gayety of the merriest social season Washington has known."

Then followed a list of army and navy bigwigs who had attended cocktail parties.

By what right or common sense reasoning do these officers and servants of the people claim title to celebrate and remain completely oblivious to what is going on in the world? My forefathers and members of my family have fought in the armed forces of this nation in every war, including the present. They pioneered and went west with the Union Pacific. They have shed their blood for this country and it makes me just plain mad to read something like the above.

Robinson, Ill., Feb. 23.—Well, now we know what we are. We are unenlightened, according to Mrs. Roosevelt. 1. The ordinary course is to place the instrument in the hands of an attorney.

2. If you will read the printed wording you will see that it authorizes the adding of attorney's fees to the judgment.

3. Ordinarily court costs and attorney's fees are involved. It is not clear what you mean by "court fees."

4. Depends on what you mean by "settled." In the ordinary sense of that word the estate could not be regarded as settled before the debts had been paid.

5. The present Illinois period is nine months.

EXPERTS REVEAL DRAWBACKS TO GUAYULE RUBBER

Monetary Risk Involved Deters Seed Owners.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 25 [Wide World].—In a small California warehouse there is stored 11½ tons of tiny seeds, which in a few years, experts say, could make this country the world's greatest producer of natural rubber.

They are the only seeds of this particular breed on the globe—a specially developed kind of guayule, the chief native source of natural rubber.

This highly bred plant is rated as able to produce approximately as much rubber, acre for acre, on rich California valley soil as the famed Hevea plantations of Malaya and the East Indies.

The seeds would plant 40,000 acres. In two growing seasons, reports Dr. W. B. McCallum, botanist who has spent many years developing the plant, they would yield about 800 pounds of rubber to the acre and tenfold the original amount of seed, which in turn could plant another 400,000 acres, and so on.

Top Yield 1,000 Pounds.

Dr. David Spence, rubber specialist, in a report to interested congressmen, say guayule seeds have been known to yield 1,000 pounds of rubber per acre in less than a year.

When left in the field four years, they have been rated officially as producing 1,800 to 2,000 pounds of rubber per acre, an average of 450 to 500 pounds per acre per year, which corresponds roughly to the Hevea tree production of the Indies.

Guayule contains more resin, an undesirable element in most finished rubber products, than does Hevea, but Dr. McCallum says the value of the resin for other purposes probably would offset the cost of its extraction.

Once started, guayule grows without much help. It needs relatively little moisture and long, dry summers. The whole plant is harvested, finely ground, and dumped into tanks of water. The crude rubber floats and is skimmed off. After de-resination it is as good as Hevea rubber.

Risks Involve Millions.

When half the world is yelling for rubber at almost any price, the guayule business looks offhand like a gilt edged proposition. But there are angles which explain why Dr. McCallum's seeds are not guarded.

Whoever plants these seeds must have millions of dollars with which to gamble, plus tens of thousands of acres of suitable land and the services of one of the few men who know exactly how to start them growing.

So great is the economic risk that even the present owner, the multimillion dollar Intercontinental Rubber company, has hesitated to go all-out for the idea.

Intercontinental tried it back in the booming 1920s. Up to then guayule had been just a lowly desert bush which required 20 to 30 years to accumulate 15 per cent of its dry weight in rubber, enough to make its harvest worth while.

$80 an Acre to Grow.

Working for the company, Dr. MacCallum pushed it along until it would produce up to 25 per cent of its weight in rubber after four years. But the developed seed was difficult to germinate and he had to evolve a special process for that also.

In 1928 the company had several thousand acres, brought to four year maturity at a reported cost of $80 an acre for cultivation alone, near Salinas, 100 miles south of San Francisco. The company estimated it could produce rubber for 20 to 25 cents a pound, which compared favorably with the price of imports.

After the economic collapse of 1929 the import price shriveled to 3 cents a pound. By 1931, when the depression really was beginning to bear down, the Salinas guayule, 6,000 expensive acres of it, was doing fine. The company harvested 350,000 pounds of rubber which was worth only a fraction of its estimated cost.

Since then the Salinas guayule has shrunk to a few hundred acres, just enough to keep the project idling along.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

THE QUESTION.

Are you planning a war garden and what do you intend to raise?

WHERE ASKED.

Hale avenue at 103d street, Beverly Hills.

THE ANSWERS.

George A. Bonya, machinist, 10630 South Albany avenue—I am soon going to call in a man with a plow so he can get our plot of land in shape for a garden. After we add 6 or 8 inches of rich black soil we hope to grow all of our own potatoes and sweet corn. With crops like that we can get some one with a cultivator to take care of it.

Mrs. C. J. Schmitz, housewife, 1668 West 104th street—My back yard is nothing but a big block of cement, so I'm going to make my garden in boxes in the windows of the garage. I intend to have only the small table vegetables like radishes and lettuce and parsley. I know they'll grow successfully in boxes.

Anna Schuster, waitress, 10541 South May street—Right now we're looking for a place that has space for a garden. We haven't had one for four or five years and with every one talking gardens we don't want to be left out. I hope to plant many things in it.

Helen E. Kruc, clerk, 8339 Phillips avenue—There is no available space around my home, but I live only three blocks from my mother's and she's planning to make a big garden. I intend to spend much of my spare time working in her vegetable and rose gardens.

Mrs. J. A. Malooly, housewife, 10025 Hoyne avenue—Last year I had a large flower garden, but this year I intend to use a part of the space for some fresh green vegetables for the table. I will plant small green onions, radishes, and lettuce.

Mrs. L. J. Cummings, homemaker, 10345 Prospect avenue—Now that my children are grown and no longer use their fenced-in play yard, I intend to convert it into a productive plot. I'd like to grow a lot of tomatoes and beans so I'd have plenty of vegetables to can this fall.

Officer's Wife Is Named Will County Treasurer

The Will county board of supervisors yesterday appointed Mrs. Marion Bell of 203 Hunter avenue, Joliet, county treasurer to fill the unexpired term of her husband, James C. Bell. Bell, a reserve officer in the United States marines, was called to active duty Feb. 14, and no business has been transacted by his office since. The term expires next December.

JAMES A. KEARNS CANDIDACY IS A G. O. P. SURPRISE

Desires Nomination for Municipal Bailiff.

BY PERCY WOOD.

James A. Kearns, one of the best Republican vote getters in Cook county in the days when he was a leader of the faction headed by the late Sen. Charles S. Deneen, caught organization headquarters unaware yesterday by circulating petitions for bailiff of the Municipal court.

Kearns announced that he would run against Howard E. Reddy, who was approved by the county central committee on the regular slate two weeks ago. He said friends had suggested that he make the race.

"I'm too old to be of service to my country as a fighting man," Kearns said, "but I could aid in helping to give it good local government."

Only Winner in Landslide.

From 1918 to 1930 the new candidate was clerk of the Municipal court and in 1931 he was elected city treasurer—the only Republican to break the local Democratic landslide which placed the late Mayor A. J. Cermak in office and another Democrat, Peter J. Brady, in as city clerk.

Another political development of the day was the report that former Gov. John Stelle is assembling support for his old friend, Edward J. Barrett, who has filed for the Democratic nomination for state treasurer against W. D. [Don] Forsyth, who is scheduled to receive the support of the Nash-Kelly Chicago organization.

Stelle was in the city yesterday from his home in McLeansboro, but declined to say whether he was actively supporting Barrett. It was said, however, that he is heading such a movement and is being helped by several other well known downstate leaders who came to know Barrett during his 10 years in state office.

Potent Vote Getter.

Barrett broke the organization slate in 1930 by winning the treasurership nomination over M. C. Zacharias and was elected that fall. In 1923 he was the organization choice for state auditor and also won. The late Gov. Henry Horner tried to displace Barrett in 1936, but he won again.

In 1940, Barrett ran for a third term on the insurgent ticket headed by Stelle, and came within 20,000 votes of winning. His name is politically potent and his presence in the race is known to be worrying headquarters.

John T. Dempsey, Cook county Republican chairman, said yesterday that he believed the G. O. P. slate committee which picked the county ticket two weeks ago, would reconvene early next week to consider a state slate.

In this connection it was reported that Stephen A. Day, congressman at large, might be sidetracked.

Found Dead in Garage at Home in Evanston

Thomas J. Goodall, 50 years old, was found dead yesterday in the garage behind his home at 1033 Dobson street, Evanston. Goodall apparently was overcome by monoxide fumes after he had connected a battery charger to his car. Police believe his death was accidental. He was sales manager of E. F. Hauserman company, 222 North Bank drive, manufacturer of steel partitions.

Battles Burglar

DONALD MORRISON JR.

Donald Morrison Jr., 13 years old, routed a Negro burglar early yesterday after a battle in the family apartment at 6230 Kenmore avenue. The thief fled without taking a pillowcase loaded with loot.

Donald, left alone by his father, a city real estate appraiser, told police he heard some one in an adjoining bedroom, took an old and unloaded pistol, and ordered him out. The burglar, Donald said, called him a name, "So I got mad and slugged him with the revolver."

The burglar then swung at Donald with a bottle and missed, but then connected with a shoe with a wooden shoe tree in it. When Donald regained consciousness the prowler was gone. Donald suffered a slight scalp injury.

2 WEST SUBURBS DICKER TO BUY CHICAGO WATER

Officials of Melrose Park, Maywood, and the new Buick plant at Melrose Park met yesterday with W. W. Deberard, chief engineer for the city, to discuss plans for purchasing Chicago water for the two suburbs. Melrose Park wishes to buy 3½ million gallons daily, of which 1½ million would go to the Buick plant. Maywood said it probably would want 2 million gallons daily and tentatively proposed such a purchase.

Deberard was told that the Buick plant originally had intended to use only 500,000 gallons of Melrose Park water daily, but was now using 900,000, wished more, and that the increase threatened the water supplies of both suburbs. He informed the officials that Chicago would extend its mains from Austin and North avenues to Harlem and North avenues on proof that the suburbs were financially able to extend theirs to the latter point.

Suburban officials present were Mayor Andy Frenzl, Melrose Park; Mayor Earle Broberg, Maywood, and James W. Sibley Jr., supervising engineer of the Defense Plant corporation, owner of the land on which the Buick plant is built.

MARCH 16 FINAL DAY TO REGISTER FOR PRIMARIES

John S. Rusch, chief clerk of the board of election commissioners, yesterday urged that voters who have come of age, changed their names or addresses register immediately to qualify for the April 14 primary election. Rusch said that persons who have moved can qualify merely by sending a letter with their old and new addresses given. In other cases the voter must appear in person. The city hall office of the board is open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily except Sunday. March 16 is the final registration day.

CHANCE TO VOTE WILL BE GIVEN TO SERVICE MEN

Court Order to Allow Absentee Balloting.

Voting privileges for an estimated 25,000 Chicagoans in the nation's armed forces were assured yesterday in an order entered against the board of election commissioners by Judge Francis B. Allegretti of the Superior court.

The order instructs the board to mail ballots on request to service men qualified to vote, whether registered or not. The board had said provisions of the permanent registration laws would not permit this to be done.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki said requests for ballots from service men would be handled as absentee ballot requests. The applicant will be required to submit an affidavit confirming his right to vote. If the affidavit is satisfactory the ballot will be mailed.

1919 Law Still Valid.

Attorney Joseph B. Crowley, arguing for the board, asked Judge Allegretti to dismiss a suit brought by Attorney Urban Lavery on behalf of Attorney Joseph McCormack to force the board to grant voting rights to service men. Crowley said it was the legislature's duty to provide such privileges, contending that a 1919 law permitting service men to vote no longer was valid.

Judge Allegretti upheld Lavery's contention that the state law is permanent and still in effect, and entered the order after Attorney Crowley informed him that the board did not plan to file an answer to the suit.

Benjamin Adamowski, chief counsel for the commission, said the board, while clinging to its contention that the suit should have been dismissed, would not fight the order.

Three Classes Affected.

When the suit was filed Lavery, a specialist in election law, said those who would be disfranchised if the suit were dismissed included:

Those coming of age since entering service and not registered.

Those registered and unable to answer suspect notices.

Those not registered, but who would if given the chance.

FALL FATAL TO WOMAN, 79.

Miss Martha Madden, 79 years old, died yesterday in County hospital of injuries received Jan. 8 in a fall at her home, 1458 Wieland street.

NEW TREASURY PROGRAM TO BE HEARD ON W-G-N

Star Parade Broadcast at 8:45 Tonight.

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

The new Treasury Star Parade starts its march on W-G-N at 8:45 tonight. The show will be heard in transcribed form over many stations at various hours.

Lieut. Robert Montgomery of the navy will be master of ceremonies. Igor Gorin, the baritone often heard on W-G-N's Theater of the Air series, will be the soloist. He will sing Albert Hay Malotte's "Pledge of Allegiance." Maurice Evans and Judith Anderson will be heard tonight in an original drama, "Statue of Liberty," written by John Latouche. Hal Block and Malcolm Meacham, who formerly wrote for W-G-N, and La Touche will comprise the writing staff.

W-G-N will air these new patriotic programs three times a week. Other broadcasts this week are scheduled at 10:30 a. m. Friday and 11 a. m. Saturday. Starting next week there will be broadcasts at 10:30 a. m. Mondays, 8:45 p. m. Thursdays, and 11 a. m. Saturdays.

Chicago amateurs, service men, and technicians last night met at the navy radio school in the State-Lake building and heard discussions and explanations of RADAR, the navy's new secret aircraft detector. Lieut. William Eddy, in charge of the school, and Lieut. W. E. Miles, RADAR procurement officer, outlined the needs of the navy for men to operate the new device.

News and notes:

United States Sen. Wayland Brooks of Illinois will be heard over W59C, W-G-N's FM station, when he addresses the Chicago Executives' club at 1:05 p. m. tomorrow. His subject is "Strengthening Our Ideals." W-G-N will rebroadcast the address at 2 p. m.

Col. Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle, who has been missing from the airways for many months, will be the master of ceremonies for the new Ontario Show to be aired over the Blue network Fridays, starting March 20.

Philip Maxwell, who conducts the Citizens of Tomorrow program, will have something to reveal about the high school career of Donald M. Nelson, chief of the War Production board, on this youth broadcast at 1:30 p. m. Sunday over W-G-N.

Annabella

[Vandamm Photo.]

ANNABELLA.

The story of the founding of the American Red Cross by Clara Barton will be told in the drama, "Angel of the Battlefield" on W-G-N's Americans at the Ramparts program from 7 to 7:30 tonight when this series salutes nurses of the army and navy.

A guest star on the program will be Annabella, who plays the feminine lead in Noel Coward's comedy, "Blithe Spirit," at the Selwyn theater. Annabella is the wife of movie actor Tyrone Power.

Irving Berlin's song "Angels of Mercy," dedicated to the Red Cross, will be presented by the W-G-N orchestra and chorus. They also will present "America Calling," "Any Bonds Today?", and "Arms for the Love of America." Edna O'Dell, W-G-N songstress, will sing "More than You Know."

The drama will recreate the heroic story of Clara Barton's battle with government red tape to get permission to nurse soldiers on the field of battle in the Civil war. Studio guests will include employés of the Charles A. Stevens department store.

Green, and Chicago officials will join in the mass induction ceremony on Saturday of 61 young men who will make up "Chicago's Own" third and fourth naval aviation squadrons. The ceremony will be held beginning at 2:30 p. m. at the Chicago Athletic association and Gov. Green will speak as part of the program to be broadcast by station W-G-N.

Each squadron member will receive the gold winged insignia of the "Chicago's Own" unit as a presentation by the First World War Naval Aviators' committee, which coöperated with the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection board in recruiting them.

The first and second squadrons of Chicago's Own are in training at Pensacola, Fla. Four more squadrons are to be recruited.

'OLD DOC' FOUND GUILTY; LACKED PRACTICE PERMIT

Joseph Liss, with offices at 3434 Leland avenue, was found guilty by a jury in County court yesterday of practicing as a physician and a naturopath without a license, of accepting fees, and diagnosing illnesses. Acting County Judge Albert E. Isley of Newton set March 12 for hearing a motion for a new trial or for passing sentence. The jury found "Old Doc" Liss guilty after brief deliberation. The chief witness against him was Charlotte Herme, an investigator for the state department of registration and education, who testified that Liss told her in October that she had a kidney ailment and a fine chance to get Bright's disease. Liss was arrested on a similar charge while free on bond last December.

Increase Noted in Vacationers' Trek to Florida

BY JUDITH CASS.

EVERY train pulling into Chicago from Florida brings home fortunate ones who have been enjoying vacations in the sunny southland. And every train leaving our city carries on it some who are seeking rest from the hectic, anxious life that every one here ,is leading these days. Few take, or even want to take, long vacations this winter, but enough feel that they are in need of a change so the Florida resorts are far from deserted. March will be the biggest month everywhere, we hear, and many of the big hotels in the south that were practically empty in December and only sparsely filled in January took a spurt in February that will result in their being filled to capacity by early March.

Arriving at home on Monday were Mrs. James Waller Rogers and her 3 year old daughter, Hopewell, and Mrs. Robert H. Gardner and her little cousin, Michael Benn. Young Master Benn, whose father, Capt. John Benn, is fighting with the British army in Egypt, and whose mother is doing war work in London, is with the Gardners at their Winnetka home for the duration. He and Mrs. Gardner, whom he calls, Cherie, had been visiting her aunt in Fort Lauderdale for several weeks.

Mother Hasn't Seen Mike Since He Was Tiny Baby.

Mike is as American in his baby talk as any youngster here and why not, for he was brought here before he was a year old. "Sur-er" is the favorite word of this sunny-haired, blue eyed baby whose mother has not seen him since he could say a word. Any one seeing Mrs. Gardner and Mike when they were met by Mr. Gardner Monday night might have thought she was a refugee from some war zone, for she had left her coat in the south and the only wrap she had in her hand luggage was a pink sweater, which she wore over her smart black traveling frock when she alighted from the train.

Mrs. Rogers and pretty Hopie, who looks exactly like an illustration in a picture book—and incidentally, is the image of her mother—had been visiting Mrs. Rogers' mother, Mrs. James Weber Linn, who has a cottage at Delray Beach. Mr. Rogers was there earlier but came home sooner than his wife and daughter. While he was in the south he and Mrs. Rogers spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gross, who have a house in Alden road, Miami Beach, for the winter. Mr. and Mrs. Gross have joined the Surf club, where they play tennis and swim every day when the sun shines, which is almost every day in southern Florida.

Young John V. Farwells Back from Trip in South.

The young John V. Farwells were with the Grosses for a few days, too, when they were in the south. Mr. and Mrs. Farwell returned recently from an extended southern tour, which in reality was a business trip for him, but pleasure for her.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Ames arrived at home the end of last week from a holiday spent at the Hillsboro club in Pompano, about half way between Miami Beach and Palm Beach. Mr. and Mrs. J. Beach Clow left a week ago today to spend a fortnight with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace E. Newcomet, at the club. The Newcomets' son, Walborn W., and his wife, who live in Sheboygan, also are at the Hillsboro.

Mrs. Chauncey McCormick is going south next week for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Charles Deering, at Cutler, which is south of Miami. Mr. McCormick hopes to join her for a brief stay later. The McCormicks do not plan to open their house in Coconut Grove this winter. Mrs. Gustavus Babson, who has a house at Miami Beach, has two of her three granddaughters with her this winter, and she is hoping their mother, Mrs. Babson Jr., and the baby will go south from their home in Oak Park later in the season. Mr. Babson is in training at an eastern base. James Babson is with the naval intelligence.

FBI Agents Seize Two of Florida's Titled Folk.

From Miami Beach comes news that two of the titled folk who are prominent in Miami Beach and Palm Beach this season have been taken into custody by FBI agents. Prince Girolamo Rospigliosi was taken in Miami Beach and Countess Von Haacke Reimold in Palm Beach. The latter really is Mrs. A. G. H. Reimold, formerly Erica Wilhelm Eva Marie Johanna, Countess von Haacke. She and her husband have a house in Australian avenue, Palm Beach.

Prince Rospigliosi is the twice divorced husband of Marion Snowden, heiress to the oil fortune. He is a nephew of William H. Reid, who a year or two ago was married to Mrs. W. G. Pots [Jessie Shearer] of Chicago. They have a home in Collins avenue, Miami Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Wirtz are expected at home on Sunday from a stay in Miami Beach, where they are at the Versailles to be with the Dan Toppings [Sonja Heine]. The popular figure skater and movie star is of great interest to all who see her at the resort and every one is impressed by how slender and much more gracious she has become since her marriage.

Dan Topping's sister-in-law, Mrs. Henry J. Topping Jr. [Gloria Baker], often drives down from Palm Beach to spend a few days at the Versailles.

Knitters Again Urged by War Department to Curb Their Zeal

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 [Special].—The war department again today requested knitters to let their patriotic zeal be guided by the present needs of the army rather than their memories of unlimited production during the last war. It asked that they first learn from Red Cross branches the needs for various articles.

This notice, following by 11 days a similar plea, was occasioned by the fact that many women's groups apparently are unaware of the wool shortage or of the completeness of modern army equipment.

Men on duty in cold climates are provided with wind-proof and water-repellent garments, fur parkas, and mittens, it was pointed out. To duplicate them with hand knit products, the war department said, would be a waste of wool. Scarfs and helmets are the principal items needed at present.

Joe E. Brown Is Flying Baseballs and Sense of Humor to Alaska

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 25 (AP).—Comedian Joe E. Brown is flying to Alaska with a bride, a load of baseball equipment, and a sense of humor for soldiers in the United States' far north outposts.

Edith Richards, Brown's 23 year old secretary, will become the bride of Lieut. Artie Reichle at Anchorage. Reichle asked Joe for some baseball equipment, so Miss Richards decided to go along for the wedding.

The comedian is taking a dozen bats, three dozen balls, three complete catchers' sets—and a head full of jokes to entertain the soldiers on his three-week trip.

Chicago Fund for Red Cross at 87% of Goal

BY JUANITA DALY

Montgomery Ward and its employés donated $45,343 to the Chicago Red Cross war relief fund yesterday, James B. Forgan, general chairman, reported. This large sum and several contributions ranging from $500 to $2,000 brought the grand total to $3,258,924, or 87 per cent of the $3,750,000 quota, he announced.

The Montgomery Ward gift was made up of $23,343 from employés and $22,000 allocated to Chicago from the company's $75,000 contribution toward the 65 million dollar national goal. The furniture and home furnishings group in the industrial division, headed by J. A. Schram, went "over the top" with subscriptions of $4,045. It was the 17th of 58 groups to exceed their goal, 10 others are past 90 per cent and all except eight are over 50 per cent, it was announced.

B. B. Gragg, director of sales for United Air Lines, has reported that the company and its employés have contributed $20,000 to the Red Cross, the company matching the employé quota of $10,000. Proportionate amounts were allocated to Red Cross chapters in those cities where the employés are based.

Chicago Chinese, thru the Chinese Benevolent association, donated $2,900. The check was presented by W. S. Lee, secretary, to Red Cross motor corps members at a ceremony in the association headquarters, 216 West 22d place.

Patients at Edward Hines Jr. Memorial hospital who served in the last war have donated $224 to aid the new defenders of the nation. The gift was accompanied by $2,920 subscribed by employés at the hospital. WPA employés sent in $763.

Other gifts from companies and employés included: $2,372, L. Fish Furniture company; $2,289, Eastman Kodak company; $872, Illinois Agricultural association and affiliates; $850, Wilson-Jones company; $806, Rhumba Casino, Inc.; $676, National Candy company, and $625, H. and E. Balaban corporation.

Columbia Broadcasting system employés gave $1,114, Veribrite Factory employés, $651, and the Jensen Radio Manufacturing company employés, $546. Donations from companies, exclusive of employé gifts, were: $2,500 from Chicago Extruded Metals company; $1,700 from Felt and Tarrant Manufacturing company; $1,000 each from Schenley Distributors and Republic Flow Meters company, and $500 each from the Richardson company, Manhattan Brewing company, Soper Lumber company, and International Workers' Order.

The Censoritas.

Alfred Shaw, Chicago architect just back from Bermuda where he is doing the army base, reports it to be the bottleneck of the universe. As the cross-roads of the allied world, it is a welter of diplomats, businessmen, army and navy men and diverse wartime celebrities who tumble off every plane for a brief pause before continuing east or west. Americans, fascinated by the many British girls and women, 600 or so, who work there as volunteer censors, call them censoritas and report them to be nice, pleasant, affable and very businesslike. One day Mr. Shaw undertook conversation with one, a girl named Bridget Caillard, her name being relayed purely because it is euphonically interesting.

"You must have a wonderful time here," he suggested, "with all these attractive Americans."

"Well, you know, Mr. Shaw," she replied, "it would be all right if so many Americans didn't think the censors were part of the lend-lease act."

Flag of the Valiants.

Quietly and with proud dignity a mighty flag, 40 by 60 feet in size, was unfurled Monday in the south rotunda of Marshall Field & Co. to hang there, a drop of three stories, for the duration of World War II. It is a magnificent thing with a red border and 607 blue stars and one gold star on its field of white. Each blue star denotes an employé in America's armed forces. The single gold star is for Lieut. James J. Orr, a former parking attendant at the Oak Park store, who was killed on New Year's day when the army bomber in which he and four others were flying on the east coast, lost altitude. They could have regained it by dropping their load of bombs, but rather than imperil the life of any one below, he tried to make a forced landing and struck a high tension wire. In 10 days the service flag will have to come down—400 more employés will be in the services by then, and 400 more blue stars must be sewed on.

Metropolitan Mosaic.

The thin veil of snow dropping over Chicago each morning, slow, separate pear-shaped flakes, phantom tears congealing as they fall . . . The lone Scot, in trousers rather than kilts, skirling his gay bagpipes thru the quiet morning of the near north side. . . . Ramon Novarro, dark and intent, playing chess with Edgar Cameron, Chicago painter, after lunch each day last week at the Cliff Dwellers club. . . . Ted Shawn, his lithe dancing grace apparent even in street clothes, and Irene Castle, her walk as delicate and proud as that of an antelope, chatting during intermission at the Barton Mumaw recital. . . . Connie Bennett, her husband, Gilbert Roland, and the aloof Sir Cedric Hardwicke raising their united voices in pure barber shop harmony for Russian War relief at the Joseph Davies-Mme. Litvinov rally, and announcement there of a gift of $2,000 from a pianist. His name, Horowitz. . . . Mary Pickford, amazingly immune to the years, in a chanticleer hat of crushed taupe velvet, its wings lined with ruby velvet, rubies glinting on her taupe wool dress, lunching at the Drake with her niece, Gwynne Pickford Ernst. And her request, startling from one who has been photographed steadily for a minimum of three decades, "Could I have one of those pictures when they're finished? I'd like to send it to my husband."

Signs of the Times or Return of an Era.

Doris Williams, purchasing agent for the Drake, has placed fat pincushions, scarlet, green and pink, in the offices of the hotel's executives.

"We're supposed to save pins," she says in explanation, "but men won't put pins in with paperclips because they prick their fingers. So I said, 'If I have pincushions made, will you use them?' And they said, 'Why, certainly.'"

Beauty of New Silk Prints Rivaled Only by Their Price

BY REA SEEGER.

Your eyes don't deceive you . . . some of the new silks by the yard have stratospheric prices . . . prices that certainly shock and sometimes stagger any well-established shopping equilibrium. But some of the new designs are so exciting and so different and so beautiful that you gulp and from there on in forget the matter of cash. In one new collection or showing, and these words are really the right ones for such a breath-taking assortment of color and gay new designs.

The big apple print, for instance, in red, in green, or the russet varieties, with a realistic pair of small green leaves spaced about 18 inches apart on a dull black background makes one of the most stunning dress patterns we've ever yearned to own. A vermilion print has old fashioned garden pinks equally wide spaced . . . the pinks in green, gray, and deep blue. There's a cool white shantung print with quarter size dots of red and black. There's an exceptional green background print with henna and white designs; a stunning black and white with a scarlet poppy; unusual prints that are hand-painted on cool white for evening and dinner gowns.

All of them are museum pieces because of originality and color contrast and very different designs. These are prints for spring and summer dresses, for dress and wool coat ensembles, and for dresses of vivid charm to wear right away under fur coats or for evening. It's a significant showing for all those who make their own clothes as it is a collection of silks representing the last supply till after all this mess is over!

Rev. O'Donnell to Give K. of C. Banquet Speech

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C. S. C., president of the University of Notre Dame, will be a principal speaker at a banquet Sunday night at the Palmer House following the exemplification of the fourth degree of the Knights of Columbus. Philip C. Nilles, master of the fourth or patriotic degree of the order will initiate several hundred candidates in the presence of army and navy officials and other dignitaries.

Other banquet speakers include Leo M. Flynn, state deputy of the order, and Timothy P. Gavin, Hammond, Ind., supreme master of the fourth degree. Judge Victor A. Zuris of the Municipal court will deliver "The Impressions of the Day" address, and Judge John F. Bolton of the Superior court will eulogize the late master of the degree, Joseph A. McMahon.

Dr. Harrison Ray Anderson of the Fourth Presbyterian church announced yesterday that the Rt. Rev. James Hutchison Cockburn, moderator of the Church of Scotland and minister of Dunblane cathedral, Dunblane, Scotland, will be the special preacher at morning and vesper services, Sunday, March 8. Dr. Cockburn is a lecturer at St. Andrew's university. He has been moderator of the Scottish church since last year.

Members of the Jewish Youth leagues of the city will commemorate the festival of Purim Sunday night in Bialik hall, Consumers building. The festival, commemorating the overthrow of Haman, prime minister of the ancient king of Persia, who had plotted the destruction of the Jews as told in the Book of Esther in the Bible, falls this year on March 3 but begins at sundown of the previous day. Some synagogues will hold Purim festivals beginning Saturday night.

Two chaplains of the nation's armed forces will be preachers next week at Episcopal Noonday Lenten services in Kimball hall. They are Lieut. Glen A. Blackburn of Camp Grant, Monday's speaker, and Capt. Frank A. Lash of the Great Lakes Naval Training station, Friday's speaker. A layman has been named a speaker at this series for the first time in its long history. He will be Dr. Clark G. Kuebler of Northwestern university, to talk on Tuesday. Dr. Dudley Scott Stark of St. Chrysostom's church will speak on Thursday, and Dr. G. Carlton Story of the Church of the Mediator on Friday.

Dr. Preston Bradley of the People's church will address the Brotherhood luncheon today of the Chicago Round Table of Christians and Jews at the Sherman hotel. "United Differences" will be his subject.

The Salvation Army thruout the country observes March 1 as annual "Prison Sunday," when 1,500 jails, prisons, and correctional institutions are visited by officers, bands, and choruses. Lieut. Col. H. E. Burtonshaw, prison secretary of the central states area, said 260 institutions in 11 states will be visited. Lieutenant Commissioner John J. Allan, head of the area, will conduct services at Joliet; Lieut. Col. Bertram Rodda at Pontiac, and Sergt. Willette Zack of area headquarters at Cook county jail and the House of Correction.

A campaign for 225,000 new members of Holy Name societies in the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago during 1942 has been called by the Rev. Edward J. Kelly, executive director of the Holy Name union. He said there are 400,000 possible members of the society in the archdiocese.

The Rev. Alvaro Carino from the Philippine Islands will be the preacher Sunday afternoon at the Lutheran vespers in Kimball hall.

Women in War Work

[The Women in War Work department reports on women's activities in war and defense work and will answer questions of women wishing to take part in these activities.]

"Prostitution is everybody's concern—particularly in wartime," Mrs. Janet Burgoon, district supervisor for the division of social protection of the office of defense health and welfare, told the Chicago Woman's club yesterday. In a discussion of the "Objectives of the Federal Office of Social Protection in War," Mrs. Burgoon said that the United States cannot afford the loss of man hours in defense industries and the services which venereal diseases cause.

"Twenty-three divisions of time were lost in the last war thru social diseases spread by prostitution," Mrs. Burgoon asserted. "Citizens should make it clear to their city authorities that they want a clean city and should assist in the drive against prostitution."

Mrs. Burgoon suggested that the reasons for a girl entering this "unhealthful business" should be discovered and eliminated at their root. A survey completed in New York in December listed four categories of prostitution. These include: Young girls with illegitimate children, girls dissatisfied with the high school routine and seeking new excitement, unskilled workers who need money, and antisocial girls who have had no "decent life" and prefer underworld society and pursuits.

Only girls in the latter classification are hopeless, Mrs. Burgoon said. By studying one's neighbors as individuals, discovering just where and how young people "play," providing room registries for out of town youth, and maintaining decent wage levels the causes of prostitution largely may be eliminated, Mrs. Burgoon said.

"We must provide hospital attention rather than jail attention to prevent the spread of venereal diseases," she asserted. "Infection must be traced and all persons concerned treated." She believes these aims largely may be accomplished thru the coöperation of PTA's, clubs, and other organizations with the government agencies.

Substitutes for foods which probably will be rationed will be suggested by Mrs. Clara Gebhard Snyder, director of the food and nutrition department of the Wheat Flour institute, at a nutrition meeting at the Northwestern settlement, 1400 Augusta boulevard, at 10 o'clock this morning. This discussion and demonstration are one in a series on nutrition being given at the settlement house.

Mrs. W. Carol Wilson Alton.

The Evanston Hospital auxiliary is planning a bridge party and fashion show to raise money to defray the expenses of providing the hospital with blackout curtains, auxiliary lighting equipment, and other things necessary for any emergency that might arise. Mrs. E. Robbins Kimball Jr. is chairman of the committee making the arrangements for the party, which will be given on March 17 in Patten hall, Northwestern university, Evanston. Mrs. W. Carol Alton is president of the auxiliary.

Older women soon will have a new field for war work if a plan being drawn up by the Women's Economic Foundation is carried out. In a drive for food conservation the foundation plans to purchase bruised fruits and vegetables which are not marketable and preserve them. Women over 40 will be employed to do the canning, and the finished products will be given to pensioned women to help defray their room and board costs in private homes and institutions.

As an impetus to this plan the foundation is sponsoring seven performances by the American Opera company in Kimball hall, the first, "Carmen," to be presented on Saturday, March 7. At present the Women's Economic Foundation has offices at 30 North La Salle street and may be reached by calling State 2819. Reservations for the operas will be taken at Kimball hall, Webster 3712, or at the American Opera company, Buckingham 6707.

Miss Eilene C. Van Guilder is president and founder of the Women's Economic Foundation. Dr. Susan Slakis is vice president and Mrs. Margaret Vignes is treasurer. Among the board members are Dr. Vida Latham, Mrs. Florence Brown, and Dr. Albertine Rea.

"My children have been getting defense stamps as gifts for some time now, but they keep losing their stamp books," we heard a young mother say at luncheon the other day. "My youngsters lost several books, too," another mother replied, "but now we tell them that the stamps are 'eaglet candies,' and you just can't get the books away from them." The children have been told that the "eaglet candies" are their treats for the skymen who are helping win the war. "A book filled with stamps bought with candy allowances is the equivalent of a whole box of candy for the aviators," this mother told her children.

Some Tips for Dancers from Professionals

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

If you're not getting along well on the dance floor, and there are moments during the music when you wish you had come with some one else, perhaps the following tips from the dancing partners, Mary Raye and Mario Naldi, will prove of help.

They say to the young men:

Don't hold your partner so tightly. It may cramp her freer style of dancing. Besides, it may not look well from the sidelines and the girl senses the raised eyebrows.

Don't stiffen and remain stiff, especially when it comes to a "dip."

Don't pull your partner about as if you were controling a marionette.

Don't harshly set the dance tempo so that your partner can't correct you if you're wrong.

And don't jerk your partner around. Concentrate on graceful motion.

To the women:

Don't try to lead. Yours to follow and not question why.

Don't hang on to your partner.

Don't criticize your partner while on the floor. Tell him how to better his dancing while you are relaxing at a table, if you feel you MUST tell him.

Don't dance if your mind's made up you won't enjoy it. A man gets your reaction immediately.

To couples:

Don't try to steal the show on the dance floor. If you're that good, your audience won't have to be shown. If you're just being show-off, cute, or rowdy, your act is poor, deserving the lack of applause it gets.

Good Morning!

"Nice, isn't it?" he asks of an old lady who has paused to follow the direction of his gaze. . . . She replies hesitatingly:

"Yes. But it has no hands." The gentleman raises his brows.

EEK!

We're off on a new whodunnit!

Exciting little number, too. Well played and engagingly mystifying.

The honeymoon of Private Detective Campbell—who has just married a missing person he'd been detailed to find—is interrupted by the bridegroom's boss, who begs that Mr. Campbell will for just two hours—and a mink coat for his bride—aid in a search for the son of the richest man in Nevada, who is supposed to have been kidnaped. . . . While a-hunting the kidnapee and kidnapers, Detective Campbell stumbles—literally—upon the body of a murdered girl. . . . From here on things move fast, I can tell you. . . .

Sunny bits of comedy lighten the action.

Such nice, dependable players in the cast—every last one of them! And, among them, James Kirkwood of the silents! It's been many a long day since I've run across him in a movie!

See you soon.

3 SCIENTIFICALLY CORRECT GRINDS

Naturally, all coffee roasters—including ourselves—would like to put up a single "all-purpose" grind. But clever women know different coffee-making methods call for different grinds.

Therefore, Maxwell House offers 3 accurately correct grinds. Each is ground uniformly by precision grinders. This eliminates crushing, unevenness and waiting involved in store grinding.

Not only do you get better coffee by using the right Maxwell House grind for your coffee-making method, but you may also save money. As the directions on the cans show, Drip and Glass-Maker grinds give you the same richness with substantially less coffee than if you used Regular grind for these methods.

Hull House Group to Pay Tribute to Mrs. Bowen.

Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, whose long life has been one of service, won't miss her daily visit to Hull House today even for an 83d birthday celebration. Now starting her 50th year on the board of Hull House, Mrs. Bowen drops in every morning at 11:30 o'clock to watch the progress of the settlement of which she has been president since the death of its founder, Miss Jane Addams. Today a group of preschool children in the Hull House nursery will sing "Happy Birthday" to the beloved matriarch, and members of the staff and representatives of neighborhood clubs have been invited to add their best wishes. Another young group will give an impromptu dramatization of two scenes from Mrs. Bowen's book, "Growing Up with the City."

Mrs. Bowen will cut her family birthday cake at dinner tonight in the home of her daughter, Mrs. De Koven Phelps. Her other two children, Mrs. William McCormick Blair and Joseph T. Bowen Jr., also are in Chicago, but several of the Bowen grandchildren will have to send their greetings from distant points. William McCormick Blair Jr. left yesterday to enter the army. White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MACKAY.

Traveler.

His name is Skipper. He's a Staffordshire terrier—a valentine gift three years ago. His owner is a cosmetic manufacturer who travels a great many miles on business in her car. Skipper travels, too, and is as well known to hotel clerks in Texas as in North Dakota. He follows his mistress to the desk of a hotel, only glancing behind to make sure the bellhop has her luggage and his bed. Skipper is very particular about that. None of these bumpy hotel mattresses for him.

On the road this way, Skipper picks up a lot of tricks the stay-at-home would never know. Once in a while he gets homesick, that is, when he hears barn dance music. It reminds him of their most pleasant stop, when they take a day or two to see his owner's folks. There's a lively old gentleman in the family called "Gramp" whose greatest enthusiasms are Skipper . . . and barn dance music. Any program on the radio with a bit of fiddlin' is sufficient to make Skipper pretty dog-gone homesick for Gramp.

But, generally speaking, Skipper thrives on the life of a traveling man. Not long ago, some prankster gave the dog a sip of beer and a taste of limburger cheese. That was Skipper's high moment. Altho moderate in his taste, he still begs for cheese and an occasional beer. Nothing like it after a hard day of calling on the customers!

Doctor's Secretary.

A secretary to an established woman physician lists these duties as being part of her office routine:

She buys all office supplies.

She is a graduate of an art course, also a course in anatomy, consequently she makes many drawings for illustrated articles and records.

She does various personal errands—takes shoes to be repaired, etc.

She attends the switchboard.

She supervises the magazines, the plants, and the equipment in the reception room and office and sees that the regular cleaning is done.

She makes hundreds of suggestions [when asked] by patients for ideas as to what they can give the doctor for Christmas.

She sends out all bills; takes dictation and types.

She keeps track of all appointments and reminds the doctor at the end of each day of her earliest morning appointment.

And Paid It.

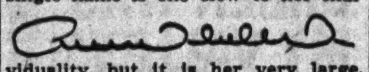
Your Handwriting

BY SHIRLEY SPENCER.

Annabella is a strongly independent individualist, according to her handwriting. The fact that she uses a single name is one clew to her individuality, but it is her very large, well spread, upright writing which tells the whole story. It's bold, simple, and definite.



In the heavy downstroke, which she uses on such letters as "y," "f," and "p," we can see the reflection of her stubborn resistance to change. She loves comfort—make no mistake about that.

When the pen pressure is unusually heavy you can count on the five senses being keenly alive to color, luxury, ease, beauty. It is the creative force which bears down on the pen.

Professor to Speak.

Prof. Aloysius Hodapp of Loyola university will speak on "The Rôle of the Civilian in This War" before the Chicago Woman's aid tomorrow morning.

Baby Specialist Advises Trip to Dentist at 2

Your youngster should be no more than 2 years old when he makes the acquaintance of the dentist. At this meeting the dentist will examine the deciduous [baby] teeth and explain how to care for them. There will be no pain and the youngster, therefore, will have no fear of dentists in after life.

This was the advice given yesterday by Dr. Philip Rosenblum, Chicago child specialist, speaking before the 78th midwinter meeting of the Chicago Dental society at the Palmer House. More than 7,000 dentists, dental surgeons, and physicians are attending from all parts of the United States.

Dr. Rosenblum also urged closer coöperation between the dentist and the child specialist. This is particularly necessary in such nutritional diseases as scurvy and rickets and infections such as syphilis, he asserted.

The nutritional aspects of dentistry were discussed by Dr. John C. Brauer of the University of Iowa college of dentistry. Malnutrition, as a cause of dental ill health, plays no favorites between rich and poor, he declared.

"It is known that families with a steady, above average income have selected no better dietary programs than some families with less income," said Dr. Brauer. "This is caused largely by the long standing American indifference to the science of nutrition."

Introducing case histories of children, he warned that growth of hard and soft tissues of the mouth will be impaired unless a well balanced diet is followed. Gums suffer, teeth are late in appearing, and the calcification [enamel] development is slow, he added.

"Acute scurvy, the result of vitamin C deficiency, usually is seen in children less than 2 years old, because after that age the average child receives a more mixed diet," Dr. Brauer concluded.

A vital rôle in dentistry for sulfanilamide was disclosed by Dr. Joseph A. Hopkins of St. Anthony's hospital, Rockford. Thru its use, dentists now may extract teeth of patients suffering from valvular heart disease without the danger of causing subacute bacterial endocarditis—an ailment almost 100 per cent fatal.

"We give all known or suspected heart patients a prophylactic dose of sulfanilamide before extractions," said Dr. Hopkins. "The drug destroys streptococcus viridans, the germ causing bacterial endocarditis.

"Streptococcus viridans is present in the mouths and throats of even healthy persons and extractions release it into the blood stream.

"This virulent germ then establishes itself on vulnerable areas in the vascular system, congenital heart lesions, or areas damaged from other causes."

Children's Memorial Hospital Report for Year Given to Board

The Children's Memorial hospital, 707 West Fullerton avenue, spent $494,421.82 in 1941 and gave 50,822 days' hospitalization to 4,324 children, with 61,686 clinic calls, according to a report on the 1942 program submitted by Miss Mabel W. Binner, superintendent, to the new board of directors yesterday.

Income did not meet expenses, since nearly 90 per cent of the hospital's services are free, but it is expected that more funds will be available this year because of the importance of hospital work in the maintenance of the nation's health. The directors are:

John P. Wilson, president; Stanley Field, Albert H. Wetten and A. A. Sprague, vice presidents; Frederick S. Booth, secretary; N. M. Symonds, treasurer, and John P. Wilson Jr. Mrs. James C. Hutchins was named president of the women's auxiliary board; Mrs. Donald B. Douglas, Mrs. William O. Hunt, and Mrs. D. Mark Cummings, vice presidents; Mrs. A. Harris Whiting, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frederic McLaughlin II., recording secretary, and Mrs. George A. Ranney, finance committee chairman.

plan for PAINLESS REDUCING!

1. This simple method

Every day, eat less than usual.

(Don't starve yourself. Just cut down enough to cause your body gradually to "burn up" its excess fat. Your scales will tell you when this is happening.)

Plus:

2. Drinking KNOX GELATINE

Drink 1 envelope Knox in water or unsweetened fruit juice, 1 hour before lunch; again 1 hour before dinner.

(This helps stave off hunger pangs. You come to the table without that "all-gone," starved feeling. It also helps supply part of your daily protein requirement.)

Directions for drinking Knox in every package

Stop feeling "washed out" from reducing. Tide yourself over those empty hours between meals...keep from wanting to load up at the table by following the plan above. You see, Knox is all protein...has no sugar and only 28 calories an envelope. It contains 7 of the 10 essential protein parts...an easy way to help get the liberal protein intake that aids in keeping up stamina! Tuck Knox in your purse or pocket. "Pursuit of a Parcel"

By Patricia Wentworth Turnbull

(Copyright: 1942: By Patricia Wentworth Turnbull)

INSTALMENT XLVI.

THREAT.

Delia began to feel very confused. She had had nothing but a cup of broth for 24 hours, and now that she had slept off the effects of the chloroform she was dreadfully empty. She didn't know what she ought to do. It was very confusing indeed. She stuck to the one thing she was sure about and said:

"There wasn't any cylinder."

Barend Roos said: "That is a lie."

The color came up into her cheeks, hot and angry. No one had ever spoken to her like that before. But he did not give her time to speak.

"What is the use of telling lies? You opened the parcel."

"There wasn't any cylinder."

He made an angry sound of triumph.

"Ah! One lie is gone at least! You admit that you opened the parcel."

"There wasn't any cylinder," said Delia in a childish whispering voice.

He got no farther than that with her. She went on saying it, and when he came to shouting his questions and thrusting his big white face close to hers, she stopped answering at all and slipped into a faint.

Her pallor frightened him, and he called Ina Long.

"Get her round! Give her brandy—anything you've got!"

Ina looked at him sideways like an animal that would snap if it dared.

"She doesn't want brandy—she wants food, and to be let alone till she's got over the shock. What are you in such a hurry for? You can't do anything until it's dark."

The afternoon was of an interminable length. Jimmy Nash found a bottle of whisky and drank a good deal of it. A remonstrance evoked a Jimmy whom Barend did not know, a Jimmy fed to the teeth and ripe for mutiny and desertion. Threats fell off him like water off a duck's back. He wanted whisky and he was going to have it, and if he couldn't get it he'd just as soon be dead.

All this ornamented with some very fancy language. He got this whisky, because the one thing Barend could not afford was a row. People had the most extraordinarily quick ears for a row. A shout, a scream, a bit of furniture knocked over, and some miserable errand boy, some meddling old woman, would go away with the story that there was something wrong at the Acacias.

The telephone bell rang a good deal. Barend made Ina Long answer it. By standing at her elbow he could catch what was said. He could even feel a faint amusement at her nervous discomfort.

The calls were monotonously alike. Dr. Long appeared to be a popular man. Every one wanted to know how he was. "I'm sure he's been quite a hero," and, "He's getting on well? You must have been terribly worried. He will want you when he gets out of the hospital."

There had been three like that, but when the bell rang for the fourth time there was a man's voice asking: "Can you take a message for my friend Mr. Brown? Is he perhaps at your house?"

Barend snatched the receiver from Ina's hand. He nodded toward the door, and she went out shutting it behind her, and then stood against it listening. What were they going to do now? First the car, then the house, and now the telephone. Ernest would be ruined, and it would be she who had ruined him. There wasn't anything she could do—that was the dreadful part.

If she slipped out of the house now it wouldn't save him. She could run in next door and telephone to the police. It would save the girl upstairs, but it wouldn't save Ernest. It would all come out about her helping them, and about the car, and there would be headlines in the papers. Ernest would be ruined, and she would have killed Clara.

She leaned against the door in an agony and listened. Barend was saying.

"The house was bombed. You know that, of course—such terrible destruction. Can you perhaps tell me whether the occupants escaped? . . . Yes, two of them. . . . What—killed? That is very unfortunate. It makes my plans very difficult. I do not like to be a burden to my friends, but I must have somewhere to go." His voice left off.

"Yes, very unfortunate. Can't you stay where you are until you've finished your business?"

"Not very well."

"Going all right?"

Barend repeated the same phrase. "Not very well.

"You'd better hurry things up. Quite definitely there's nothing in the house. A thoro search has been made without any result . . ."

Barend said, "What do you suggest?"

"Well—let's see—we'd better meet. Same place as last time—say 9 o'clock. I shall be alone, but with three of you we shall be just right for a pleasant party."

"I am to bring the others?"

"Of course, my dear fellow! I wouldn't leave them out for the world. Au revoir."

As the receiver clicked, Ina ran noiselessly back to the stairs. The opening door showed her on the third step from the bottom, apparently coming down. Barend came out, looking at his watch. A quarter to 7. . . . No use starting for more than an hour yet—say an hour and a half. He had made up his mind to leave Delia alone until then. Get her away from houses, and people, and a sentimental fool like Ina Long, and she could be made to talk easily enough. But not here when you couldn't risk a scream.

"Well, how is she? Have you given her something to eat?"

She gave him that sidelong look again.

"Well, I am going to. There is good news for you! And soon after 8 o'clock I shall take her away and you will not be troubled any more. Are you not pleased?"

She came right up to him and said in a terrified whisper:

"What are you going to do with her?"

She wasn't looking at him or she might have been still more terrified. There was the look in his eyes which had frightened Delia, but hers were cast down and half blinded with tears. His hand came down on her shoulder.

"That has nothing to do with you—do you hear? I shall take her away and we shall be gone. You will not see us again—you will not hear of us. You will be quite safe, quite free—as long as you hold your tongue. You can say to yourself that it was a bad dream from which you have waked up. Your husband will come home and all will be well. Unless you are such a foolish woman that you talk.

"Then you will ruin your sister, who will go to a concentration camp, and your husband, who will lose his practice, and yourself, because he will separate himself from you, and you are so fond of him that that will break you up.

You do not wish all this ruin, do you? Then you have only to hold your tongue. One word to your husband, to your best friend, and the ruin is there. Do not cry about it afterward. Then it is too late. No one will be able to help you then, but now you can help yourself. You can keep back the words that would ruin you.

"You can be silent, and you can begin by not asking questions. It is your business to feed Miss Merridew and get her strong enough to go with me. I cannot drug her again, so I shall be obliged to put a gag in her mouth. You will tell her this beforehand and advise her not to resist. I do not want her to struggle and perhaps to faint again. Tell her it is just a precaution, and that she must tell us what we want to know and then she will be quite safe."

Ina jerked up her head and stared at him. Her tears had ceased. She said with a kind of desperate courage:

"Would that be true?"

His face did not change at all. He stared back at her contemptuously.

"Why shouldn't it be true?" he said.

Ina Long did as she was told. She went upstairs looking like a ghost. She sat down on the end of the bed and showed Delia a white, frightened face.

"They're going to take you away," she said in a whisper.

Delia said: "When?"

She had put on her skirt and jumper, and her shoes and stockings. Her big coat lay in a heap on the ottoman. Any one might think that the other things were still there, concealed by its folds. She had had a good meal and she was feeling a good deal more equal to coping with Barend Roos, and quite, quite determined not to tell him anything that he wanted to know.

Ina sniffed miserably and said:

"Some time after 8. It's nearly 7 now."

One of the wonders of the age: The transformation of favored fingers from pretty because useless things into hands of strength, efficiency, usefulness and beautiful with the new beauty of service.

It's interesting to note that, in the selection of the most beautiful hands in the country by the New York State Hairdressers' and Cosmetologists' association, in recent conclave, altho selections were made on the basis of hand structure and finger suppleness, all the women selected are active in volunteer service work of one kind or another. The manicurists added: "This disproves the old contention that beautiful hands must necessarily be idle hands!"

You hear people say today: "Her hands ought to be beautiful. She never does a tap of work!" Or, "Why shouldn't they be beautiful, with help to do everything for her?" But that type of comment is outmoded and so is the type of hand beauty implied. And out of the convention came a ban on the long mandarin like fingernails, they being dubbed "as obsolete as the pencil thin eyebrow." They don't belong in the picture of service to country. Fingernails should now extend, it is ruled, "no more than a quarter of an inch beyond the edge of the finger tip, and the tips should be worn broad and slightly square to form a firm base against breakage."

The Teen Age Child Often Seems 'Cold'

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1942: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

We were talking in a recent article about the heartache that is caused to parents [and to children, too] when there is a rift between them and their teen age sons and daughters or, to be more exact, about the parents who resentfully complain of the lack of affection, respect, and courtesy shown them by their young people. And we went on to say that that unhappy situation probably wouldn't exist if they would, in warmth and the openness of their words and ways, give their children the chance to love them, and admire them.

But let us suppose that you have acted in a way to keep the love and friendship and admiration of your children, but that you're disappointed not to have them express these emotions to you frequently in words or deeds or demonstrativeness. You may even feel this more keenly because you've been in homes where the children do so, or because you yourself are naturally free in showing your affection or giving voice to approval or admiration. If you're bothered about this, let me tell you a few things I've noticed.

One is that children are not likely to talk about such things. Also, they take for granted that you know the warmth of their affection or the depth of their admiration. "My mother is the best mother in the world," a woman heard her undemonstrative son remark one day. "Gosh, Jake, you're awful proud of your old man, aren't you?" surprised an unwittingly eaves dropping father whose quiet son gave no inkling of this admiration. In some unexpected way you will often find these things out; and especially you will if you don't take too much for granted yourself, or are not too shy to give an occasional hug or kiss or loving pat.

One more thing., You can't necessarily expect to hold your teen age children close to you in the way you did when they were little. Then they were close physically, their world was limited, and their little cuddles and endearments of word and action [and yours] were frequent. Now their world has expanded and their interests multiplied. Also, adolescence is a time of self-absorption. You and they can still be close to each, but the form of expression of this feeling will usually be different.

[Copyright: 1942: By Ely Culbertson.]

As a general rule, the defenders are completely helpless against a well executed strip-and-throw-in play. Many times, however, the position of the cards is such that the defenders, by being alert and recognizing what is going on, can destroy the best laid plans.

West opened the diamond king and East followed with the three spot. Obviously, had West shifted to the heart jack, the contract would have been defeated on the spot, but with the hearts in sight in dummy, West could not be criticized for his fear of a heart shift. As a matter of fact, had he shifted at all, a club shift would have been much more attractive. Actually, he decided to ignore partner's signal, and continued with the diamond ace. Declarer ruffed, cashed the ace and king of spades and three top clubs, discarding dummy's last diamond, then led a low heart.

The average player sitting in West's position would, I fear, automatically put in the deuce of hearts at this point. But this particular West had been paying attention. Obviously, neither dummy nor declarer had any more clubs or diamonds. The defenders had taken only one trick up to this point. If declarer had no high hearts he would simply duck this present lead in dummy and East would be compelled to return either a heart, establishing the king, or another suit that would permit a ruff and discard. Rather than allow this, West made the excellent play of putting up the heart jack, second hand. He did not expect any great result. East would need the ace, queen, and ten to make the jack play effective, but surely it was better to hope for a miracle than to "give up" entirely.

As may be seen, after West's play of the heart jack, declarer was helpless to avoid the loss of three heart tricks and, with them, his contract.

Good old bacon fills an important place in American meals. The ideal breakfast has bacon in it, as well as eggs, and this cured, smoked meat ranks not too far below the noble onion as a seasoner of other foods.

When we hack away at our menu plans, in an attempt to make them less expensive, bacon usually gets a trimming. We don't want to eliminate it entirely, because bacon is an excellent food, and bacon fat has many good cooking uses. We'll perhaps have just one strip at breakfast, instead of the usual two or three. And we'll save pennies by buying bacon by the slab or square and slicing it ourselves with a good sharp knife.

We can cut off the rind and use it to flavor dishes such as baked beans or split pea soup. There's a lot of good taste left in a bacon rind, and we may as well get every bit of it.

There's a right and there's a wrong way to cook bacon. Frying is wrong. Panbroiling is right. When you fry a food you cook it in grease. When bacon cooks in its own grease it isn't a very appetizing product. We want to pour off the grease as it accumulates, or spoon it out of the skillet from time to time during the cooking. Only in this way will we obtain crisp bacon.

Bacon may be broiled or baked in a moderate oven if a rack is provided to keep it out of the drippings. Slow, even cooking gives best results.

If you have more bacon fat than you can use for cooking, strain it, pack it into your empty coffee cans, and take it to your meat dealer, who will pay you a few cents for each pound. And you'll be doing a patriotic act, too, for all our excess fats are vitally needed.

HOW TO USE BACON OR HAM DRIPPINGS.

1. Use them for seasoning vegetables especially the green vegetables, such as green beans, lima beans, asparagus, broccoli, kohlrabi, Brussels sprouts. But don't make the mistake of dousing any vegetable in bacon grease. Use only one or two tablespoonfuls for an average panful of cooked green vegetable, enough for five or six servings.
2. Use these fats as the shortening in muffins, cornbread, waffles, pancakes, doughnuts, baking powder biscuits. You may use part bacon fat in many cookies, too, with excellent results. Oatmeal cookies are a good example.
3. Use the fats for cooking other meats which are to be fried or browned before braising.
4. Use it for browning boiled potatoes, whole cooked parsnips.
5. Use it as the fat in making white sauces for creaming meats, fish, vegetables, thickening soups, even in the thick white sauce you use for croquettes.
6. Use it in any salad dressing to be served hot, hot potato salad, and wilted greens, for example.

The Housewife

An easy way to clean painted or varnished woodwork is to use a creamy white liquid that cleans, waxes, and polishes all in one operation. You apply it with a clean cloth and it dissolves the dirt, smoke, finger marks, and surface grime. Wipe off the excess and it leaves a transparent film which helps to protect the finish. No hard rubbing is necessary with this liquid wax. It can be used also on linoleum, porcelain, refrigerators, and stoves.

TODAY'S PRIZE RECIPE

Here's a pie that doesn't draw too heavily on your sugar bin. Marshmallows take care of part of the sweetening. The recipe wins today's $5 prize for Mrs. T. Saetveit, 1420 Rascher avenue, Chicago. The crust is simple enough for a child to make successfully, but you may prefer a regular pie crust, in which case raise the oven temperature to 450 degrees for the first 10 minutes of baking.

Victory Pumpkin Pie.
[One 9 inch pie.]

1½ cups milk
10 marshmallows
1 cup canned sieved pumpkin
¾ cup flour
⅓ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon cinnamon
⅓ cup orange juice
2 well beaten eggs
2 teaspoons lard
1 or 2 tablespoons corn meal

Heat milk and marshmallows together in top of double boiler until marshmallows are soft. Set aside to cool slightly. Combine pumpkin, flour, sugar, salt, and spices, mixing thoroly. Add orange juice and fold in well beaten eggs. Add milk mixture, folding in well. Coat pie plate generously with cold lard, then coat with cornmeal by tipping pan from side to side. Pour in pumpkin mixture and bake in moderate [350 degrees] oven for 35 to 45 minutes, or until firm. Let stand until cold before cutting. Serve with whipped cream or sprinkle with coconut during last 10 minutes of baking.

Your pet recipe also may win a prize. Select some family favorite, an economy dish, your own concoction, or any other interesting recipe you have cherished. Write it in standard form, listing ingredients in order of use, giving complete directions and accurate information as to time and temperature. Tell something about the recipe, if it has an interesting background, for example. Send it to the Mary Meade Recipe Contest, CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

Burton Holmes Talks Despite Motor Mishap

BY CECIL SMITH.

A week ago Burton Holmes began his 49th season of travelogs by entering the Orchestra hall stage from the far side and walking confidently across its full width without the aid of a cane, in order to demonstrate to his audience that he had quite recovered from the injuries which had crippled him temporarily. Last night, in contrast, the second lecture of the series began a few minutes late, and Mr. Holmes approached his chair from the nearest door in somewhat gingerly fashion, with the aid of two canes.

On his way to Orchestra hall, he explained, his taxicab had been forced to stop abruptly in order to avoid hitting a recklessly driven private car. Mr. Holmes was thrown to the floor of the cab, and altho he was not seriously injured it was apparent that he felt rather shaky.

A seasoned trouper, he quickly warmed to his agreeable task of revealing the scenic splendors and the ways of life in Alaska and the Yukon territory. Within five minutes his voice regained its accustomed poise and security, and if he suffered any discomfort from his accident, he did not give his hearers any hint of that fact.

The Alaskan pictures are given over largely to mountains, glaciers, and rivers. Superb tho many of the views are, a good share of the material lacked the human interest which is typical of his best travel sequences.

The lecture does, however, provide a comprehensive impression of the grandeur and the potential richness of the great Alaskan region. Some of the most interesting passages were flashbacks to pictures taken in the more primitive days of the territory, in earlier visits in 1903 and 1917.

The lecture will be repeated Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. Next week's subject, the third in the series, will be the Canadian Rockies. For the fifth and final lecture on March 18, 20, and 21, Mr. Holmes will present pictures of Russia instead of the originally announced "Captive Capitals."

Stage Note

The Boston Comic Opera company, which was to have opened a four weeks' session of Gilbert and Sullivan performances at the Studebaker theater on March 9, has postponed its Chicago engagement indefinitely. No specific reason for the action was given, but the troupe's unusual success in New York is believed to have brought an extension of its eastern run.

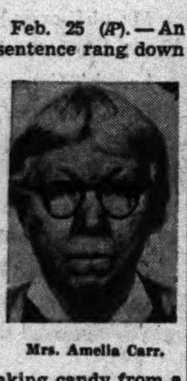
PIOUS SWINDLER GETS 8-12 YEARS FOR HER FRAUDS

Greets Churchwomen with "Hello, Hypocrites."

Newark, N. J., Feb. 25 (AP).—An eight year prison sentence rang down the curtain today on one of the most fantastic stories ever unfolded in the Essex county courthouse, that of Mrs. Amelia Everts Carr, "petticoat Ponzi."



Mrs. Amelia Carr.

The court psychiatrist reported "she played her part without much subtlety . . . almost like taking candy from a baby," but the county prosecutor estimated her methods had mulcted a million dollars from persons coast to coast.

Seeking to satisfy her vanity, Mrs. Carr kidded others so long and successfully that she grew to believe her own stories, the mental expert said. Mrs. Carr epitomized her attitude when she greeted in the courtroom a group of fellow church workers who had come to hear her sentenced.

"Hello, Hypocrites."

"Hello, you old hypocrites," said the smiling Mrs. Carr.

Mrs. Carr was brought into court for sentence on eight charges of obtaining money under false pretenses. Directly involved was $11,242, of which $4,700 was fleeced from another woman church worker and $3,800 from a banker. She had pleaded no defense.

Her husband, J. Clarence Carr, 70 years old, chairman of the board of trustees at Roseville Methodist church, was not in court today tho he vainly attempted to visit her in jail yesterday. Upon her arrest he told police he knew her only as a "noble, loyal and good woman" who had nursed him devotedly thru three serious illnesses in their five years of marriage.

After her arrest Carr announced he would seek an annulment of their marriage, but later said he would not.

Day Is 66th Birthday.

"Apparently during the better part of your lifetime," Judge Daniel J. Brennan told her, in passing sentence, "behind the mask of pietistic pretense you have hidden an incredible and almost grotesque duplicity and destroyed the confidence of decent, trusting people wherever you went."

The court sentenced her to serve terms of two to three years at hard labor on each count, with four of them to run consecutively.

This made her prison sentence equivalent to 8 to 12 years, starting at the age of 66. Today was her birthday.

Trail Crossed Continent.

Since the state prison has no quarters for women, the white haired, bespectacled Mrs. Carr will serve her term at Clinton reformatory, where the honor system takes the place of walls and armed guards.

While the first complaint was filed, officials scarcely believed the respected church worker could be guilty. But thread entangled thread until the snarled skein of evidence led across the continent, mingled among half a dozen aliases, countless victims, several husbands, and prisons from New Jersey to Walla Walla, Wash.

A drab childhood and desire for wealth started Mrs. Carr on her course, said Dr. Mieczyslaw Openchowski, the court psychiatrist. Her acquisitions, and thru them her largesse, fed her vanity, he said.

Friend of the Yanks

BY CLAY GOWRAN.

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer draft and military service questions, both in the daily columns and personally if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

TRAINING FOR DEFENSE WORK.

The Friend of the Yanks department receives many inquiries from persons seeking information about free training courses designed to qualify men for positions in defense work.

Dozens of such training courses now are under way in public high schools and National Youth administration work experience centers in Chicago. The defense training project is financed by the federal government, but operated by the Chicago board of education. Courses are open only to men.

List of Subjects Offered.

Following is a partial list of subjects offered: Machine shop, machine tool operation, welding, automotive mechanics, various sheet metal courses, blue print reading, various electrical courses, aircraft welding, aircraft sheet metal work, ship construction, and marine drafting.

Courses are divided into two general groups: Preëmployment courses for men unemployed, employed only part time, or temporarily employed, and supplemental courses for men already employed in similar lines who wish further training. The preëmployment courses are from 8 to 12 weeks long, with 30 to 40 hours' training each week. Supplemental courses are 8 to 10 weeks long and from 6 to 20 hours a week. Both day and evening courses are offered.

Applications May Be Made.

At present most classes are filled to a maximum. However, applications are being accepted for training in coming months.

Applicants should go to the office of the United States Employment service in their own community and register there for training. [The location of these employment offices may be obtained by telephoning Delaware 4100.] Employment officials will then notify registrants when they can be accepted for training.

[Tomorrow: Lowered Vision Requirements.]

QUESTIONS.

Mrs. K. J. Z. writes: "Why isn't a man like my husband drafted? He is 6 feet 2 inches tall and in perfect health. He has never worked more than three months steadily since we have been married; and I've had to work and earn our living. If Uncle Sam can't use him, I'm sure he could use Uncle Sam to make a man of him. Where can I appeal to show that he's not supporting me?"

ANSWER: Go to your husband's local draft board and explain to officials there that, altho your husband has claimed you as his dependent, he actually is not supporting you, but rather you are supporting him. Then sit back and watch Uncle Sam go to work.

Mrs. P. N. C. asks: "Is it true that a man with hay fever will not be drafted for military service?"

ANSWER: Hay fever is not a cause for deferment unless the ailment is unusually severe. If so, the registrant is placed in class 1-B [physically fit for limited service].

J. P. L. writes: "I am classified as 3-A. Have a wife, but no children. I would like to know if there is anything definite regarding the drafting of men like myself? You see, we have planned to buy a home this coming spring."

ANSWER: I would like to advise you to go ahead with your plans, but I can't honestly. It seems probable that married men without children may find themselves being called for military service at some time

BABY CAPTURES WINDOW SLAYING TRIAL SPOTLIGHT

Maid Tells About Mrs. Payne's Roomer.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 25.—Another of Mrs. Caroline Payne's former maids today popped out of the figurative closet to rattle a few innuendoes at her former boss' trial on a charge of murdering Charles O. Mattingly.

Robert F. McCrea, deputy prosecuting attorney, added a touch to the maid's testimony by demanding: "What about that target practice in the basement?"

"I suppose it was target practice," the maid replied. "I didn't see it. I just heard the shots." The prosecutor did not pursue the subject.

The maid had said that the gun, with which the state charges Mrs. Payne shot Mattingly, always was lying around the house, along with the other weapon that also is in the state's exhibits.

But the maid, Mrs. Edith Lucas, had to share the spotlight with Baby Charlayne Mattingly, two months old, Mattingly's posthumous daughter. Charlayne drove the gloom from the Monroe county Circuit courtroom and stole the show from witnesses and lawyers.

Identifies Male Visitor.

Mrs. Lucas took up the story where her predecessor as maid, Mrs. Ivy Jones, left off yesterday when defense objections stopped the state's effort to make the tall dark defendant's life an open book. Mrs. Jones had mentioned a man visitor in the Payne home.

Mrs. Lucas identified the visitor as a roomer under questioning by McCrea. Then she went on to make a few observations that individually appeared quite harmless.

The roomer, she said, was the late Don Skirvin, a young man who she said spent most of his time in a rosy glow listening to the music of a radio.

There were, she said, two bedrooms in Mrs. Payne's second floor apartment. Skirvin occupied one; she and Mrs. Payne shared the other.

Tell Pursuit of Mattingly.

Men who worked with Mattingly when he was counsel for the Indiana Public Service commission came from Indianapolis today to testify that Mrs. Payne had visited his office, and theirs, and telephoned them after Mattingly had ended his 17 year romance with her.

Charles R. Swaim, an Indiana state highway commission attorney, testified when questioned by Prosecuting Attorney Sylvan Tackitt that Mrs. Payne had threatened to kill Mattingly if she found he was in love with another woman. This was before Mattingly married his former secretary.

ISSUE WARRANTS IN GOON ASSAULT ON MEAT DEALER

2 Union Business Agents Are Named.

Warrants were issued yesterday by Judge Charles S. Dougherty in the Felony court blaming two union business agents for the goon assault on a meat dealer last Monday. The men are Walter O'Brien and Michael Healy of local 710 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters [AFL].

The victim of the assault is Oakley Lester, 38 years old, Elgin meat dealer, who is in a hospital there. He suffered a fractured jaw and nose and severe cuts and bruises in the assault, which occurred at 224 North Peoria street. Physicians say the assailants must have used brass knuckles.

Awaits Victim's Recovery.

After the warrants, charging assault with intent to commit mayhem, had been issued by Judge Dougherty, Wilbert F. Crowley, first assistant state's attorney, assigned Prosecutor Alex Napoli to take the case before the grand jury as soon as Lester's condition permits him to testify. Conviction on the charge carries a penalty of 1 to 14 years in prison.

The warrants were obtained on information given the court by Sergt. George Barnes, head of the police labor detail. Barnes said he has four witnesses to the assault who will identify the two union agents.

Dispute Over Holiday.

The Elgin meat dealer was beaten up outside the place of M. Rothschild and Sons, wholesale dealers at the Peoria street address, when he tried to take out a load of meat on a day which the union had declared a holiday [the day after Washington's birthday]. Lester has said he was following the government's suggestion that it would be patriotic to work over the holiday.

Squads from the state's attorney's office, the police labor detail, and the Des Plaines street station were sent out to arrest the business agents. O'Brien is a brother of John [Sandy] O'Brien, secretary-treasurer and head of the local.

ARREST LAWYER, EX-PROSECUTOR, IN CHECK CASE

Cornelius A. Berens, a former assistant state's attorney, was arrested yesterday on a charge of having passed a bogus check for $10. The complainant is Gus Casaccio, owner of a fruit market at 5125 Chicago avenue.

Berens last night admitted this charge, saying: "I guess I was drunk." He denied charges that he took money on promises to obtain state, county, and sanitary district civil service jobs.

Assistant State's Attorney Leslie V. Curtis said he has been searching for Berens for a month. Curtis said he has a dozen confidence game complaints against Berens and that the latter is accused of having collected $3,000 in five months by offering to get jobs for prices ranging from $5 to $400. Berens, who passed his bar examination in 1926 with one of the highest averages in Cook county, will be arraigned on the check charge today. He is a graduate of Loyola university.

DROP CELL PLANS FOR BEDROOMS IN NEW SCHOOL UNIT

Changes to Delay Start of Construction Work.

Final plans for the No. 2 unit of the prison type branch of the Illinois State Training School for Boys near Sheridan, Ill., were made public yesterday by the state architect's office here.

The plans, which do away with virtually all the interior security devices such as were built into the first Sheridan unit, and which had been drawn into specifications for the No. 2 unit, were evolved at a meeting of the Gunning legislative commission on Feb. 11 at Springfield.

The No. 2 unit will contain bedrooms accommodating from 6 to 16 prisoners instead of cells, the theory being that when an incorrigible inmate who has been sent from the school near St. Charles to a cell in the No. 1 unit shows signs of tractability, he may be allowed to mingle with his fellows in No. 2.

See Construction Delay.

Revision of the plans—which were presented for approval to the commission at its meeting here Jan. 22—is expected to result in considerable delay in erection of the new unit, which is to contain four workshops and a hospital. Russell W. Ballard, managing officer of the main school, near St. Charles, has said the Sheridan plant will be useless until the shops are installed, providing something for the incorrigible inmates to do. Construction work may not begin until July.

Building, however, is expected to require less time than did the No. 1 unit with its steel bars, steel doored cells, gun turrets, bullet proof glass, and protected visiting room. All these features have been eliminated from the plans for the new unit.

The first floor sleeping quarters will contain two large rooms, for six inmates each, and 13 individual rooms. These will be separated by light partitions that may be removed at will. The rooms will have ordinary wooden doors. On the floor above there will be two bedrooms, each for six youths, and one larger chamber containing 16 beds.

Contend Safeguards Retained.

Members of the commission insist that none of the safeguards for keeping the inmates in the building itself has been dropped. They also said that the inmates would be constantly under the eyes of guards. It was agreed, however, that the new plan might enable the young hoodlums to gang up and overpower the guards.

At the Springfield meeting where the changes were decided upon, State Sen. Thomas P. Gunning [R., Princeton] held out for making unit No. 2 like No. 1 with cells and all the other safeguards. He was opposed chiefly by Prof. Harrison Dobbs of the University of Chicago who is author of a psychiatric, sociological "treatment" plan inaugurated recently at the state school.

About the appliances we advertise nowadays

The appliances we are now advertising are limited to those we have on hand, or those that are made available without interference with war production.

They have all been selected because their normal operation in the home comes at a time of day when our electrical facilities are more than adequate to meet present power requirements for both war production and civilian use.

Furthermore, we believe that their use in most cases will conserve energy and tend to release home labor for helpful wartime activities.

Electric water heater

Right out of bed and under a warm shower! No monkeying with any old-fashioned hot water devices, either. This is the way to start the day right... I can keep my mind on important things!

My wife does plenty of extra work these days... so the least I can do is get modern equipment for her. Our electric water heater gives her hot water whenever she needs it—just by turning the tap!

Look at that! A whole month of hot water convenience, and it cost only a few cents a day on the low electric rate for heating water! Why didn't we install an electric water heater long ago?

Hot water always on tap... at low cost

You can't blame Mr. Burton for bragging. His Electric Water Heater means a lot to him, and to his family. They all save time and effort for more important things, while their water heater continues to supply plenty of hot water for all uses, at a very small cost.

Come in now... see for yourself how much a new Electric Water Heater can add to the joy of living in your home!

BURNHAM NAMED PURDUE FOOTBALL COACH

WINNERS CLASH IN STADIUM FOR TITLES MARCH 6

Burns, 1941 Intercity Captain, Triumphs.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

The Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions is ended. From 23 states they came—304 strong—and for three nights they fought under the white lights that blazed down on three Chicago Stadium rings.

They were farmer boys and shipping clerks, steel workers and college athletes, all with one aim. Each boy wanted to show that he could lick anything of his weight. Out of that starting field of more than 300, all but 32 have failed—but even those who failed went out fighting. The 32—four in each weight division—stand up unbeaten after coming thru one of the most rigorous tests in amateur sport.

The 32 survivors follow:

118 POUNDS—Andy Duncan, Peoria, Ill.; Jack Graves, Minneapolis, Minn.; Tommy Burns, Fort Wayne, Ind.; Charles Riley, St. Louis, Mo.

HEAVYWEIGHT—George Roscoe, Cleveland; Hubert Hood, Chicago; James Olcott Philips, Ft. Worth; Bill Johnson, Camp Polk.

Two Chicagoans Left.

Chicago goes into the semi-finals with two representatives. Hubert Hood, this city's heavyweight, gave a tremendous exhibition of hitting power and boxing skill to knock out both of his opponents. Harry Stephens of Kenosha, who represents Chicago in the middleweight class, advanced to the quarter-finals with a decision by an overwhelming margin and followed up by scoring a quick knockout over his next adversary.

Seldom has this town had a Golden Gloves heavyweight who could display the combination of cleverness and power that Hood put out last night. In both of his bouts, his opponents had an advantage of height and reach. This was particularly true in the case of his quarter-final opponent, Ray Lovelace of Evansville, who was of gigantic stature. But Hood did the same thing to him that he had done to John Campbell of Camp Livingston, La., in his previous engagement. He doubled up the soldier with mighty body punches, straightened him out with blows to the jaw—and when he had him softened up enough, knocked him out.

Stephens Far Superior.

Stephens, who has demonstrated his gameness on several previous occasions, didn't need that quality last night because his smashing punches earned him such a wide margin over both of his rivals.

Tho his first opponent, John Leon of Fort Wayne, had too tight a defense for Harry to put over a knockout punch, the decision never was in doubt. Then in his quarter-final match Harry knocked out Al Derrickson of Danville in the first round.

The 32 quarter-finalists will return to fight again a week from tomorrow—March 6—under the sponsorship of the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., in the semi-finals and finals with Golden Gloves championships at stake.

Minnesotan Whips Dade.

The crowd which cheered thru an evening replete with sensational moments saw two former champions defeated last night. These were Harold Dade of Chicago and Tommy Camp-

Golden Glovers Give-and-Take-It

Tommy Lemmon, Milwaukee lightweight, caught the crowd's fancy in disposing of the defending champion, Tommy Campbell of Moline. Here he is after the bout seated with Fred P. Kalivoda.

Golden Gloves Hero? Why, It's Tom Lemmon

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The Tournament of Champions' fans didn't have to wait long to pick out a favorite in last night's third round of punching in the Stadium. They found him in Tommy Lemmon, a 19 year old, blue eyed, red headed Irishman from Milwaukee. The knowing ones were moved to feel a mite sorry for Thomas, for he was up against one of the cleverest lightweights in Golden Gloves history—Tommy Campbell of Moline, Ill., who was defending the title he won last year.

It looked like Campbell's experience would prove too much for young Lemmon, but the Milwaukeean more than made up for his lack of it with another quality—courage. He bounced off of the floor, where Campbell had dropped him momentarily in the first round, and proceeded to take the best that the champion could deal out for the remainder of the round. In the second, Lemmon was the aggressor and pressed his slight advantage in the final round.

Lemmon, who is unemployed, was making his Chicago debut in Golden Gloves competition. His victory proved just the tonic needed for his Milwaukee teammates, for two more Badgers delivered within less than 20 minutes. Welterweight Joe Krulitz won a toe-to-toe thriller from the talented Lou Amayo of Kansas City, and Forrest Gee, colored middleweight, followed with a one round knockout of Dale Brittain of Gary.

Among those at the ringside were Lieut. Jim McMillen of Navy pier, former Illinois and Chicago Bears' football star, and Jerry Glynn and Jerry Cooke, golf professionals, respectively, at the Knollwood and Edgewater clubs.

Mary Hardwick, England's international tennis star, was an enthusiastic witness to the bouts. She was accompanied by Charles Hare, former English Davis cup player. It was Miss Hardwick's first visit to a boxing match. She said that she was more impressed by the footwork of the fighters, notably the colored boys, than she was by the punching.

Jack Graves, the Minneapolis bantamweight who was making his second appearance in Golden Gloves competition, traveled one of the hardest roads of all in earning his place in the finals. Monday night, he beat a good boy in Walter Ryder of Nashville. Last evening, he rallied to win a close decision from the highly touted Chuck Hunter of Cleveland, then climaxed the night's work with a convincing decision over Harold Dade, Chicagoland flyweight champion these last two years. Graves is 22 years old, married, and the father of a child. He was eliminated in the first round of the flyweight warfare last year. Jack is a southpaw and is employed on a railroad section crew in Austin, Minn.

For the first time in the history of Golden Gloves two brothers entered

FRESHMAN RULE TOPIC FOR BIG 10 SPECIAL MEETING

Faculty representatives of the Western conference will meet in special session in Chicago next week, coincidentally with the regular meetings of the conference athletic directors, March 5, 6, and 7, and the Big Ten indoor track meet at the University of Chicago.

Wartime policies for the conduct of conference athletics will be the concern of both groups. Policies affecting existing rules and regulations must be passed upon by the faculty representatives, governing body of the conference.

Specific problems which will present themselves include consideration of the residence rule, which bars freshmen from intercollegiate competition on varsity teams, and the revision of schedule restrictions to permit contests with service teams. Schedule policies for the period of summer terms, whose enrollments will be increased by accelerations in the academic program at many institutions, also will be considered.

Arguments on behalf of a suspension of the residence rule, despite its application in the conference since 1906 as a fundamental safeguard in the conduct of intercollegiate athletics, revolve about the extension of the benefits of intercollegiate competition to a greater number during the emergency period. Precedent for the extension of schedules, notably in football, to allow competition with service teams, has been established in the extension of the 1941-'42 basketball schedule to permit contests with Great Lakes and Chanute field teams.

JIMMIE DYKES AND CALIFORNIA: SOX ARE COMIN'

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 25.—Twelve playing members of the White Sox, flanked by the customary coaches, trainer, baseball reporters, and a traveling secretary who in this case is Uncle Joe Barry, rolled speedily this evening toward the club's tenth annual spring trip to the Pasadena, Cal. training camp.

On arrival there Friday morning, they'll join up with other first squad enrollees, as well as Mr. James J. Dykes, the manager, who probably will meet the train. The depot is only half a block from the club's hotel so Dykes will be able to make the trip without wheel chair assistance for the gnarled legs that forced him off the active list or his seven celebrated gall stones.

Once a Ball Player, Always—

The stainless steel Chief was hardly out of the Dearborn street station before the little band of hopefuls proved that over the years baseball players don't change except in looks. The good fibbers immediately started telling of winter experiences and those without such talent simply went to work on a deck of cards.

Taft Wright was conceded the liar's prize before the streamliner had passed Joliet. Taft told one about driving 700 miles from some place in Florida to his home in the Carolinas. He stopped for gas here and there, but never shut off the motor. Once he spotted thru his rear vision mirror a motorcycle cop taking off in his dust. The portly right fielder, according to his story, simply looked at his speedometer and laughed. He was doing 105 miles an hour. With this claim all contestants withdrew.

Misery Loves Company.

Wright never did get around to telling how he moved into the extra week of free board and lodging. Of course, he was invited and he suspects that the person responsible is his boss, Mr. Dykes. It was suggested to Wright that maybe it was because Mr. Dykes loves to watch runners even of the two legged variety. When running was mentioned, Wright looked across the aisle to Eddie Smith, another round man, and both tried to grin. They know they are in for it starting Friday afternoon.

With due respect for Wright, who claims he is much thinner, and Smith, who looks in good shape but says nothing, the heavyweight honors must be conceded to Mike Tresh, the first string catcher. Mike wasn't proud of his beef trust jowls and readily admitted he was about eight pounds over a year ago, which isn't much for a fellow who hasn't quit growing.

Ruel Has Some Company.

The first few minutes of the journey revealed another pipe smoker among the coaches. The addition to Muddy Ruel is Bing Miller, who took Monty Stratton's place.

In the midst of smoke and fumes from their briars the two fellows spent the afternoon in confessions, Ruel pointing out the White Sox weaker points and Miller doing the same about the Detroit Tigers and Boston Red Sox by whom he was employed in the years since he quit chasing fly balls for Connie Mack. Miller also wanted to talk about that 1929 world series with the Cubs, but nobody aboard knew anything about the event.

Dreams Do Come True.

The lands we read of seemed remote,
As distant as the moon—
Sumatra and of Java
Of Burma and Rangoon.

The maps we scanned were colored,
The countries lined with ink,
Of green and yellow, purple, orange,
And Tokio was pink.

And as we looked, you laughed and said
"When I have made my gold,
I'll take a trip around the world—
Before I grow too old."

"Before I grow too old" you said,
Yet scarce a month went by
When you had donned a uniform
And told us all good-by.

The lands you knew in picture books
Have come alive for you—
You'll see them all—and know them all
Before your job is thru.

Thus for your little boy you'll gain,
The right to dream—and say
"I'll take a trip—like daddy did—
Around the world, some day."

One more ship off the coast is sunk;
While our congressmen pension problems pore,
The enemy walks into Singapore;
While we're wrangling about a Hollywood star,
MacArthur's brave band strains its gaze afar,
What is that sound of distant humming,
Is it the help so sorely needed that's coming?

I'm afraid, alas, that that buzzing you hear
Is not the help that you prayed was near,
It's the far-off echo of talk, talk, talk,
Interspersed now and then with a pointless squawk;
Nero upon the walls of Rome
Strummed on his lyre as ruin crept home;
Are we a nation of babbling Neroes
With nothing but chatter to back up our heroes?

Let's have done straightway with these picayune trifles
That the mind of its sense of proportion rifles,
Let's not be so busy with swatting the fly
That we can't see the dragon crouching close by!

MACKEY MADE BOILERMAKER ATHLETIC HEAD

Two Staff Veterans Succeed Elward.

On W-G-N Tonight

GUY [RED] MACKEY and Elmer Burnham, Purdue's new athletic director and head football coach, respectively, will be guests of Bob Elson on the W-G-N sports review at 6:15 o'clock tonight.

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 25 [Special].—Guy [Red] Mackey is Purdue's new athletic director.

Elmer Burnham is Purdue's new football coach.

These appointments, effective March 1, were announced this evening by Dr. E. C. Elliott, Purdue president, after they had been approved earlier in the day by the university's board of trustees.

Mackey and Burnham, both veterans of Purdue's coaching staff, will fill the two posts formerly held by Mal Elward, who recently resigned to apply for reinstatement in the United States navy, in which he served as a lieutenant during the first World war. The naming of Mackey and Burnham was predicted several days ago in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE's Wake of the News column.

ELMER BURNHAM.

Another Boost for Mackey.

Mackey's elevation to the athletic directorship marks another step up the ladder for the 37 year old, popular redhead. An indefatigable worker, he has literally grown with athletics at Purdue and is thoroly familiar with administrative details of the division of physical education for men as well as coaching problems.

Mackey, a native of New Albany, Ind., was graduated from the Purdue school of agriculture in 1929 and is in the midst of his 13th year as a member of the Boilermakers' athletic staff. His present post is administrative assistant and assistant varsity football coach.

Mackey was an outstanding defensive end on Purdue teams of 1926, 1927, and 1928. He became assistant freshman coach in 1929, and was promoted to assistant varsity coach in 1932. He became administrative aid to Elward slightly more than a year ago.

Produced Strong Teams.

Burnham, who is 45, has been head frosh coach at Purdue since 1935. Before that he coached Central High school in South Bend for 16 seasons, his teams winning 118 games, losing 30, and tying 8. Central scored 1,083 points to the opposition's 181 during Burnham's last five years at the helm. During the same period his teams won 42, lost 6, and tied 6 games, including a winning streak of 23. Central won Northern Indiana conference football titles in 1931, 1933, and 1934.

GUY (RED) MACKEY.

Burnham developed a number of outstanding stars in South Bend. In the 1936 college All-Star game five of his former Central stars were members of the collegiate squad—Clem Woltman and Marty Schreyer, Purdue; Sammy Wegner and Johnny Austin High school's junior basketball team qualified for the Public School league play-offs next week by defeating Tuley, 42 to 18, in Austin gymnasium yesterday. It was the seventh victory in nine games for the west siders and the triumph gave them third place in the west section. Pete Jansen starred for Austin with six field goals and five free throws.

Marshall's senior quintet completed its sectional schedule with a 55 to 40 triumph over Medill on the latter's floor. Marty Tuchow led the attack with 12 baskets and one free throw. Marshall still has a mathematical chance to gain the playoffs, but it depends upon the outcome of the games between Crane Tech and Tuley and Kelvyn Park and Medill.

Soldiers and Sailors Enjoy a Good Fight

Several hundred soldiers and sailors again were guests at last night's Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions bouts in the Stadium. The men from both services cheered lustily thruout, adding a special note when soldier representatives of Camp Polk and Camp Livingston were in the ring. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

32 REACH GOLDEN GLOVES FINALS; DADE IS DEFEATED

bell of Moline. Dade, who had advanced from the flyweight to the bantamweight class to seek his third Golden Gloves title, was conquered by Jack Graves of Minneapolis. Campbell lost to Tommy Lemmon of Milwaukee. Dade's defeat came in the quarter-finals after Campbell had gone out in the third round.

Graves gained recognition as a standout by scoring victories over two of the most highly regarded bantamweights in the entire draw. Before hooking up with Dade, he had whipped Chuck Hunter, whom the Clevelands fans considered their strongest fighter.

Dade Goes Down Twice.

Two punches, one in the second round and another in the third, were decisive factors in Graves' victory over Dade. The first of these was a cross to the jaw which dropped the Chicago boy momentarily. Harold was up without a count and charged in to try to make up for his disadvantage.

In the third round the Chicagoan was pressing so much in an effort to penetrate Graves' guard that again the Minneapolis boy shot over a quick one that caught Harold just below the left shoulder and sent him down again. Once more Harold was up immediately, but he wasn't able to get thru his opponent's tight defense.

Campbell, defending his 135 pound title, rocked Lemmon repeatedly in the first round and it seemed as tho he had the fight won when he put his opponent on the floor with a hard right. Lemmon bounced up, however, and weathered a barrage of blows until the bell. In the second round the Milwaukee boy made an amazing comeback, slinging rights and lefts at the champion. Lemmon continued his attack in the third.

Burns Is Double Winner.

Bob Burns, captain of last season's intercity Golden Gloves team, pounded his way into the semi-finals with two hard won victories. He dealt Minneapolis its first defeat of the tournament by whipping over enough hard, straight punches to whip Billy Marshall. Then he came back to whip Chicago's welterweight representative, Thomas James.

The last of the three former champions was eliminated when Roy Lewis of Muncie, Ind., joined Dade and Campbell in defeat. Lewis, who held the featherweight title in 1940, lost a brisk boxing match to another veteran of Golden Gloves competition, Morris Corona of Fort Worth, Tex. The bout was in the lightweight class.

GOLDEN GLOVES FAVORITE OF '42: TOMMY LEMMON!

the finals of the Golden Gloves. They were Welterweight Bob Burns and his brother Tommy, a bantamweight. The two represent the Fort Wayne, Ind., Journal-Gazette. Bob last year won the Barney Ross trophy for sportsmanship.

One of the most interesting competitors in the Tournament of Champions is James Olcott Phillips, heavyweight from Fort Worth, and an artilleryman at Camp Bowie, Brownswood, Tex. There are soldiers aplenty in this show in this year of 1942, but there are few soldier-lawyers, and that's what the talented James is. An honor student at Rice institute for three years, he also was in the National Guard and was called to duty more than a year ago. A few weeks before the call, however, he passed all of his legal exams and was admitted to the Texas bar. He never had a chance to practice, however, for the army call came soon after he became Lawyer Phillips.

As for boxing, Phillips never took it up seriously until his outfit was on maneuvers in Louisiana. His artillery detail would drive around at night and choose up sides against any soldier rivals they could find, often marking out a ring on the ground and using the same sets of gloves. He entered the regimental tournament at Camp Bowie, but first called up his sweetheart, a student at the University of Texas, and promised her he would visit her in Austin as soon as his first bout was over. He wound up winning the tournament. The call and the promise were repeated before the district and state tournaments, but Jim kept on winning, and the young lady finally had to come up to Fort Worth for the date herself.

CUBS' PITCHERS, BATTERS TO OPEN UP IN DRILL TODAY

Best Conditioned Hurler? He's Big Bill Lee.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., Feb. 25.—Manager Jimmy Wilson's pain-racked Cubs were given the afternoon off today and may rest their blisters, bruises, and backaches until tomorrow afternoon. Tomorrow batting practice begins.

Thus tomorrow launches a great project. Few teams in Cub history have needed batting practice so much as this one probably will—basing this crack on last year's records of those who probably will be this year's regulars.

It also marks the start of hard throwing by the pitchers. While it will be another week before the pitchers try to put something on the ball, tomorrow's action will enable Wilson to get a line on the physical condition of his several stars.

Lee Determined—and in Shape.

Even before the pitching for batting practice starts there is a pretty good hunch that Big Bill Lee, now veteran of the pitching staff, is ahead of all the others, thus carrying on the tradition of the former pappy of the staff, Charley Root.

Lee missed all the spring training and exhibition period last season, and tho he reported at Wrigley field in remarkable shape as a result of home conducted training, he had some tough breaks in his early games and misfortune became frequently recurrent. It is said Bill was penalized $2,500 for missing spring training last year.

So Bill came to camp this year determined there will be no excuse for $2,500 raids on his wallet. Never has he been so lean, never so grimly determined.

When batting practice starts tomorrow Lee will be the No. 1 pitcher, pitching first to his roomie, pal, and fellow Cub veterans, Stan Hack.

Arrange Batting Orders.

Coach Dick Spalding, who carries the ball bag in one hand and a portable typewriter in the other when he is about his diamond chores, had the typewriter singing today as he set down the pitching and batting orders which will be in effect tomorrow.

The batting orders, incidentally, are an indication as to the personnel of the first and second teams to be employed not only in the intraclub games but also in the A and B exhibition games after the squad returns to the mainland March 12. Here are the two batting squads as typed by Coach Spalding:

FIRST SQUAD—Hack, Charley Gilbert, Phil Cavarretta, Bill Nicholson, Dom Dallessandro, Babe Dahlgren, Lou Stringer, Clyde McCullough, Bob Sheffing, Bobby Sturgeon.

Twenty-one pitchers are on the list of those expected to take five minute turns tomorrow.

Joliet, Wilson Fives Win in State Tourney

Joliet, which drew a first round bye, started the defense of its Illinois state junior college basketball championship by defeating Morgan Park, 59 to 25, at Joliet last night.

Joe Blum and Frank Vercellotti, with 13 and 12 points respectively, led the assault. Joliet held a halftime lead of 28 to 10.

Springfield played both first and second rounders winning from Elgin, 57 to 36, and then losing to Wilson, 63 to 30. In the latter contest Irving Ward was the sharpshooter, getting nine field goals. The Chicagoans rolled up a 33 to 13 edge at the half.

In the other game yesterday Morton defeated La Salle, 34 to 21, in the first round.

Wright will meet Aeronautical U. and Herzl plays Morton in second round games tonight. Lineup:

Tuning In on California

Varipapa to Open Bowling School Monday

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

Andy Varipapa, bowling star, trick shot expert, now even better known as the game's foremost schoolmaster, is concluding his Michigan and Indiana schedule this week preparatory to what he anticipates will be his biggest job in eight years of teaching, his work with Chicago's bowlers in The Chicago Tribune free school.

Andy opens The Tribune school Monday at Ted Lyons' recreation center, 71st street at Jeffery avenue. He will work there three afternoons and each night will bowl single game matches against opponents named by the house. Andy always winds up his daily program with his trick shot program, acknowledged to be the best in the game.

Lyons'—Then Congress Arcade.

After working at Lyons' center on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday Andy will move over to Congress Arcade, 2047 Milwaukee avenue, Thursday. Friday, Saturday, and Monday, March 6, 7, and 9, he will be at Lawrence Bowl, 1820 Lawrence avenue. There he will be working in conjunction with the establishment's instructor, Tess Morris.

The schedule will take Andy to Schalk's Evergreen Towers Tuesday, March 10. That center is located on 95th street, two blocks west of Western avenue. There he will assist late morning and early afternoon leagues, and he will again be back for his trick shots late at night. He also will appear in the loop, Congress recreation, at 31 East Congress street, Wednesday, March 11.

They Want to See Andy.

Great interest in Andy's appearance has been shown by the hundreds of bowlers who roll their games on the 32 alleys at Lyons' recreation, according to Gene Tobin, manager of the establishment.

"We've had a great many inquiries, not only from our regulars but as well from persons who have watched our bowlers, become interested and would like expert instruction in getting started," is Tobin's comment. "I haven't any doubt that we'll fill our place every afternoon and evening. Our show is to start at 1:30 each afternoon, and we figure on Andy's being with us long enough to help every bowler on the lanes who wants a few pointers."

ELMER BURNHAM, RED MACKEY GET PURDUE POSTS

Kovatch, Northwestern, and Joe Ruetz, Notre Dame.

Burnham, who was born in West Newbury, Mass., on Sept. 8, 1896, attended West Newbury High school and Springfield college, from which he was graduated in 1916. A basketball and baseball star in high school, he also played football and tennis at Springfield. During his coaching career at South Bend, he took additional scholastic work at Notre Dame and received the bachelor of science degree there in 1935.

Served With First AEF.

Burnham signed at Central in 1916 as athletic director and coach of all sports. He enlisted in the artillery in 1917 and served overseas for a year with trench mortar battery 309, being honorably discharged as a sergeant in Feb., 1919.

In the fall of 1919, Burnham returned to Central, but at the conclusion of the year, following his marriage, resigned to enter the dairy business with his father in West Newbury, Mass. The young coach returned to Central in 1921, remaining there for 14 consecutive years.

Headed Recreation Work.

In 1927 he was made director of physical education and recreation for the city of South Bend, working jointly with the school and park boards, and held that position until he came to Purdue.

Burnham was a close personal friend of the late Noble E. Kizer, former Purdue athletic director and head football coach, who was responsible for bringing the Central high school coach to Lafayette.

Prior to Kizer's entrance to Notre Dame, Burnham and Kizer were teammates on the South Bend YMCA basketball quintet in the 1919-'20 season which won 39 out of 40 games.

OUR HAWKS SEEK TO REVERSE TIDE; MEET CANADIENS

Chicagoans Crippled for Tonight's Battle.

Games Tonight

Montreal at Chicago.
Detroit at New York Rangers.

The youthful Montreal Canadiens, who are making good their boast that they may well be the hockey team of next season, if any, will battle the battered Blackhawks this evening on the Chicago Stadium ice in the last regularly scheduled game of the present campaign between the two. The contest should serve to break up the score between the pair, which finds each with three victories, with the seventh game resulting in a tie. The Hawks hold the edge in goals scored, with 28 against Montreal's 21.

Dick Irvin, the whilom Blackhawk star who is now in charge of the Canadiens, indicated at the outset of the season that he would seek to assemble a young team which ultimately would match the once great combination of Howie Morenz, Aurel Joliat, Pit Lepine, and George Hainsworth. His main hopes were Elmer Lach, whom Irvin considered the find of last year, and Tony Demers, rated one of the hardest shots in the league.

Injuries Take Two Stars.

Lach suffered a painful shoulder and elbow injury which cost his services for the season. A short time later Demers was lost thru injuries sustained in an automobile accident.

The Canadiens promptly recovered from these reverses by calling in the youthful line of Pete Morin, left wing; Buddy O'Connor, center, and Jerry Heffernan, right wing. The Reardon brothers, Ken at defense and Terry at center, also began to click, and Paul Bibeault, youthful goal tender, has been delivering nicely.

Morin, who weighs 135 pounds and stands 5 feet 8 inches, is moving the Montreal public to liken him to Joliat; and Heffernan and O'Connor, his associates in the amateur leagues, are working with Pete as of yore.

Montreal comes here not only to beat the Hawks but also to try and pass the sixth place Americans and earn a place in the Stanley cup playoffs. A victory tonight would accomplish that, since the Americans are only a half game ahead and are idle this evening.

Hawks Crippled.

The Hawks, who experienced a disastrous record of three defeats on the recent road trip after having won the preceding three, can blame all of their troubles on injuries. Bill Mosienko, the brilliant rookie wing, probably will be unavailable for duty until a week from Sunday. Doug Bentley also will be out of uniform and Art Wiebe and Cully Dahlstrom are still recovering. George [Wingy] Johnston, who has been called up from the Kansas City farm, will have his chance tonight on a line with Bob Carse and Mush March.

DE PAUL RALLY HALTED; SETON HALL WINS, 36-33

South Orange, N. J., Feb. 25 (AP).—Seton Hall college staved off a last half rally by De Paul university to score a 36 to 33 victory tonight over the Chicagoans before a capacity crowd of 6,200. Seton Hall led 17 to 12 at the half. Lineup:

Schlitz bowlers pulled three games away from Pabst Blue Ribbon and led the Wednesday division of the Classic league by bowling 3,153 in last night's matches at Faetz & Son Recreation. The Schlitzes won two games from Blatz. James Keating of Schlitz fired a 740 series and had a middle game of 279.

Higbe Capitulates—Even Rides a Plane to Join the Dodgers

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 25 (AP).—Pitcher Kirby Higbe, who remained in Miami, Fla., when the Brooklyn Dodgers flew to their spring training camp here last week, ended his one man revolt and arrived by plane today—accompanied by his wife. But Mrs. Higbe came only for the ride. She was expected to return to Miami on an evening plane. Altho a club rule banned players' wives on the Havana trip, Higbe declared it was his dislike for Cuban food, not the rule, that prompted his revolt.

The Dodgers, preparing for the first exhibition game of the year with the New York Giants here this week-end, held a two hour workout at Tropical field today. Manager Leo Durocher said he would use no regular pitchers in the two game series Saturday and Sunday. Ed Head, Bob Chipman, Chester Kehn, Tom Drake, Ed Albosta, Lee Webber, and Larry French, will be among his selections.

TIGERS START HITTING.

Lakeland, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP).—The Detroit Tigers got down today to the most interesting phase of the game to ball players—batting—and Rookie Murray Franklin, who hopes to win the shortstop job, became the first to blast the ball out of the park.

While Franklin's 350 foot drive over the left field wall was the first, it was by no means the last. Before Manager Del Baker called quits Walter [Hoot] Evers had two circuit clouts, Donald Ross one, and Franklin got another.

INDIAN SQUAD REPORTS.

Clearwater, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP).—The Cleveland Indians' second squad of players reported to Manager Lou Boudreau today. Regular morning calisthenics were omitted in favor of a club meeting, but Boudreau ordered every one out for a long afternoon session at the park. Joe Heving, 37 year old relief pitcher, agreed to terms today and probably will arrive before the week-end.

CHASE, HUGHSON REPORT.

Sarasota, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP).—Pitchers Ken Chase and Tex Hughson were unexpected arrivals in the Red Sox training camp tonight, for neither had bothered to return his signed contract. When they turned the documents over to Manager Joe Cronin, both explained they had been too busy attending to their farm chores to make special trips to their postoffices.

YANKS GET STAINBACK.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 25 [Special].—The Yankees today acquired Outfielder Tuck Stainback from their Kansas City farm in exchange for Frenchy Bordagaray, utility outfielder, and Pitcher George Washburn. Stainback, who has been here for several days, promptly signed a contract and engaged in his first workout with the world champions. Thirty years old, married, and the father of a 3 year old daughter, Stainback promises insurance against the possibility of Tommy Henrich's being drafted.

ROOKIE IS GIANTS' STAR.

RELIES ON HUDSON.

Orlando, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP).—Manager Bucky Harris predicted today that Sid Hudson, the Senators' 25 year old right hander, would have his most successful season this year.

"Sid has a swell fast ball, but he's been depending on it too much," Harris said. "He could stand a better curve. He must develop that change of peace to become a really fine pitcher.

"We're going to have several chats down here and I'm confident he'll absorb what I have to tell him. Batters have realized what's coming, but this season Sid should show them a better mixture."

TOE INJURY BENCHES ROOKIE.

El Centro, Cal., Feb. 25 (AP).—Donn Kerr, rookie right hander from Baltimore trying out with the Pittsburgh Pirates, believes his right toe is jinxed. He loosened the big toe nail on that foot a week ago while skating and injured it again with a foul tip from his bat in the first workout, now is benched for a time. Babe Phelps, Pitcher Hank Gornicki, and Johnny Barrett, outfielder and best looking rookie in camp, each blasted balls over the right field fence, 400 feet from home plate, today.

GOODMAN GOES TO WORK.

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP).—Outfielder Ival Goodman donned uniform at the Cincinnati Reds' training camp today and surprised all with some portside heaving. Goodman said he has been practicing left hand throwing but would rely upon his right arm for return shots from his right field post. General Manager Warren C. Giles was expected from Cincinnati, with indications Infielder Eddie Joost would sign immediately.

MIKE KREEVICH SIGNS.

Anaheim, Cal., Feb. 25 (AP).—Outfielder Mike Kreevich handed his signed contract to Connie Mack today, leaving the Athletics with only two holdouts—First Baseman Dick Siebert and Outfielder Bob Johnson. The Athletics acquired Kreevich from the Chicago White Sox last year in a trade for Wally Moses.

BRAVES SIGN SALVO.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 25 (AP).—The Boston Braves today announced the signing of Manny Salvo, right hand pitcher who had a 7 to 16 record with the club last season, and Al Montgomery, rookie catcher from the Texas league.

Motisi Ready for Fight with Fritzie Zivic

Tony Motisi, who competed in Golden Gloves as a featherweight in 1935, as a lightweight in 1936, and as a welterweight in 1937, but failed to reach his championship goal, is marking time for his biggest opportunity as a professional—his 10 round bout with Fritzie Zivic in the Coliseum tomorrow.

Motisi, who was born in Chicago 23 years ago, gained the assignment against the former world welterweight title holder by scoring four straight victories, triumphs over Willie Joyce, George Nyberg, Harvey Dubs, and George Silvasey. Probably none of these boxers is comparable to the skillful, hard hitting Zivic, but if Tony boxes as well against Zivic as he has against the aforementioned quartet, Fritz will have a merry time of it.

After Motisi ended training in Catholic Youth organization center gymnasium yesterday afternoon, Trainer Paddy Kane predicted Tony would outpoint Zivic. However, his prediction includes an "if." If Tony survives the first four rounds, the trainer said, he will win.

Despite Tony's fine form in his last four fights, Zivic's final boxing session yesterday in Trafton's gymnasium was so impressive his backers said he probably would knock out Motisi.

MRS. BROWN'S 97 TAKES 1ST PLACE IN CASTING MEET

BY BOB BECKER.

Mrs. Joseph Wilson, 758 Jackson boulevard, won her second major casting title last night by scoring 97 in the women's event in The Tribune casting tournament in the International amphitheater. Mrs. Wilson won the Illinois state women's championship in 1940, and, altho she has been competing in The Tribune tournament for several years, she could do no better than third place until last night's successful effort.

Mrs. Charles Stewart of Gary, Ind., was second with a mark of 95, and Mrs. Howard Chatt third with 94.

A Change in Schedule.

The first section of the skish event will be held tonight in the north wing of the amphitheater. The event will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock. The two high scorers will receive Tribune trophies and the 10 high scorers will qualify for the finals Saturday.

One change has been made in the tournament schedule. Because of the large number of entries in the team casting event to be held Sunday afternoon, competition will start at 1:30 instead of 2:30 o'clock. This will allow no time for advance practice. But each team will be allowed two minutes for practice before starting to cast. Out of town teams may arrive at the casting pool as late as 3 o'clock.

It's Illinois Day.

Illinois day will be observed today. Livingston E. Osborne, state director of conservation, will speak to the amphitheater crowd this evening in the absence of Gov. Green. Osborne will stress the importance of conservation in the nation's war effort.

769 Indiana Prep Fives Open Title Quest Tonight

South Bend, Ind., Feb. 25 [Special].—A field of 7,690 players representing 769 schools will open play tomorrow night in 64 sectional tournament centers in the first of four week-ends of elimination meets to determine Indiana's high school 1941-1942 basketball champions. By Saturday night 640 of the original field will remain undefeated.

Between tomorrow night and until the final gun sounds on tournament play in Butler fieldhouse on March 21, Indiana will be steeped in its famous "Hoosier hysteria."

Six teams stand head and shoulders over the field on pretournament rating, one being Washington, the defending champion, backed by townspeople there and elsewhere to repeat. Horace Mann of Gary, Madison, Richmond, Evansville Central, and Fort Wayne Central are the remaining teams listed in their respective sections as prospective champions.

The 64 sectional winners will be broken down into 16 regional meets on March 7; those winners into four semi-final meets on March 14, and the four finalists will go into Butler fieldhouse on March 21.

LIFT MARCH TIRE QUOTAS, BUT FEW MAY BUY THEM

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25.—March quotas for new and retread tires were announced today by Price Administrator Leon Henderson. The quantity is larger than in January and February but the average motorist won't benefit due to a rigorous restriction on qualifications to purchase. Also barred from buying new rubber are many to whom an automobile is a vocational vehicle—taxicab drivers, traveling salesmen, farmers, and industrial and construction workers residing remote from their jobs.

For passenger cars, light trucks, and motorcycles, March quotas provide 104,701 new tires and 87,635 new tubes, compared with 80,784 new tires and 67,616 new tubes in February. Eligible buyers are limited to doctors, nurses, ministers of the gospel, and to public services including fire and health protection and mail distribution.

No Passenger Car Retreads.

No retreaded passenger car tires will be available in March and possibly not in April.

March quotas for heavy vehicles of first preference rating total 256,385 new tires and 288,149 new tubes, compared with the February quotas of 156,029 new tires and 267,562 new tubes. Retreaded and recapped tires for eligible heavy vehicles total 110,225. The rationing of renovated truck tires began Feb. 19.

The Illinois allotment for next month for passenger cars, motorcycles and light trucks is 5,724 new casings and 4,791 new tubes, compared with February quotas of 4,274 and 3,578. For heavy trucks and buses, the March quotas are 14,539 new casings, 16,341 new tubes, and 6,257 retreads. The comparable February figures were 8,387 for casings, 14,383 for tubes, and 4,407 for recaps.

The heavy vehicles eligible for new tires include buses, common carriers, ice and fuel trucks, garbage, waste and scrap collectors, and haulers of farm produce and industrial materials, finished and raw. A deferred list, which can obtain retreads only if the quota is in excess of requirements for the preferred list, includes newspaper trucks.

Consider Weather in Quotas.

Weather was also a factor in determining the allotments as among the states, according to the OPA. Tires wear more rapidly in higher temperatures. California is given 7,617 new passenger car casings compared with Illinois' 5,724. The list of quotas for the five Chicagoland states follows:

Indiana	2,929	2,452	7,450	8,373	3,206
Iowa	2,351	1,968	5,933	6,668	2,553
Michigan	4,230	3,541	9,717	10,923	4,183

State and national reserves have been deducted from these published quotas. The national reserve is, in effect, a pool that permits adjustments between states and territories, while the state reserves are used for the same purpose among counties.

RENT, BOOSTING AGENTS FACING LICENSE LOSS

Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th], chairman of the committee on rents and prices of the Chicago Commission on National Defense, warned yesterday that Mayor Kelly will be asked to revoke licenses of real estate agents who refuse to coöperate with the committee in keeping rent increases at a fair level. Lindell said 99 per cent of the complaints about rent boosts are justified, and that only one-third of the replies from landlords in answer to complaints are satisfactory. Lindell addressed members of the Chicago Real Estate board and warned that if Chicago should lose national defense orders a rent reduction would follow, since many apartments would remain vacant.

An inventory of the estate of Edward A. Cudahy Sr., founder and head of the Cudahy Packing company, was filed yesterday with Frank Lyman, Probate court clerk, and admitted to probate by Judge John F. O'Connell. The estate, valued at approximately 1 million dollars, consists mainly of packing company shares. The bulk of it, under terms of Mr. Cudahy's will, is left equally to a son and four daughters. Mr. Cudahy died in Chicago last October.

REPORT PLANTING OF 145 MILLION TREES DURING '41

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 [Special].—The planting of 145,000,000 trees on 151,337 acres last year has "boosted the area of man made timber stores within the national forests to 1,157,500 acres," according to a statement today by the agriculture department.

This reforestation work has averaged less than $12 an acre over the last five years, including the costs of CCC and relief labor and materials employed in growing the trees in nurseries.

Eighty-two per cent of last year's plantings were in the forests of the lake states and the south. It is in these regions that the forest service has been carrying out its heaviest program for restoration of timber crops on cutover and burned forest lands.

Report Former Policeman Indicted in $5,055 Theft

George J. Weber, a former policeman, 51 years old, was reported named by the grand jury yesterday in a true bill charging embezzlement of $5,055 from the Chicago Patrolmen's Federal Credit union, of which he once was a vice president and assistant treasurer.

GUARDS ESCORT STEEL WORKERS TO JOBS IN GARY

Take Them Thru CIO Dues Picket Line

More than 100 members of the CIO Steel Workers' Organizing committee picketed the main gates of the Carnegie Illinois Steel corporation in Gary last night for the purpose of preventing members who are behind in their dues from working.

The picket blockade was not wholly effective. For the first time in recent Gary history, armed company guards were at the gates, and they saw to it that employés who wanted to work, with or without paid up credentials, reached their jobs.

Guards at Gates.

More than 50 guards stood at the two main entrances, and escorted workers between the picket lines and thru the gates. There were no demonstrations. Only one incident occurred—that when a picket stepped out of line and tried to stop an approaching worker. A lieutenant of guards pushed the picket to one side and led the worker thru the gate.

The picket lines were formed outside the gates on company property. The pickets made no effort to circumvent company guards by extending their lines beyond the company property to Gary city streets a mile away. Mayor Ernst L. Schaible had warned that police would break up any attempt to interfere with traffic by picketing on city streets. Gary police were at the company gates, but took no part in the action.

SWOC Wins Election.

On another industrial front in Gary yesterday the SWOC apparently won the election at the American Bridge company plant for the right to be sole bargaining agent for the employés. The unofficial results showed 1,030 votes for the SWOC as against 66 for an independent union. The election was supervised by the National Labor Relations board. The 24 hour strike of 34 finishers at the Standard Steel Spring company ended when the men returned to work, apparently having compromised or otherwise settled their demands for a 30 per cent bonus.

ELEVATED LINES AUTHORIZED TO BUY EQUIPMENT

The elevated lines yesterday were authorized by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe to spend $135,210 to equip their 455 all-steel cars for operation in the State street subway. The money will be used to install "track trips" to stop trains in case of emergency, for emergency lights powered by storage batteries, and for improved draw bars, the links between the cars.

Attorney David Watts for the elevated system told Judge Igoe the "L" lines will operate the State street subway, probably starting late in 1942, whether the proposed plan for unifying all transit facilities is in effect by then or not.

Bell, Boyd, and Marshall, attorneys for the trustees of the "L" lines, petitioned the court for fees totaling $14,142 for the period from Oct. 1, 1941 to Jan. 31, 1942. The petition was taken under advisement.

DIES FEW HOURS AFTER HIS AUTO HITS LAMP POST

Cyrus W. Edwards, 50 years old, 7631 South Ridgeland avenue, died in his home yesterday a few hours after his automobile crashed into a lamp post at 107th street and Doty avenue. He was branch manager of a tool firm.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 123 persons had been killed in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 97 died in Chicago, where 3,141 were injured during the same period.

Honest Drivers
A young lady had given a cab driver what she thought was a dollar bill, telling him to keep the change. Later the driver discovered it was ten dollars, and immediately sought her out and refunded nine dollars. In mentioning the incident the patron said she was "tickled to death there are still honest drivers."

MINING LEADER DIES, SERVED COLORADO AS UNELECTED GOVERNOR

Denver, Colo., Feb. 25 (AP).—Jesse F. McDonald, 83 years old, mining leader who served a two year term as Colorado's governor without being elected to the office, died today.

McDonald took the oath March 16, 1905, in an extraordinary political incident which made him the state's third chief executive in 24 hours.

A Republican, McDonald was elected lieutenant governor in the bitter 1904 elections. Alva Adams, a Democrat and father of the late United States senator, was declared winner over James H. Peabody, Republican, in the governorship race.

Adams was inaugurated but the general assembly, with McDonald presiding, decided a contest over the vote in Peabody's favor. Peabody was sworn in as governor but the next day he resigned. McDonald, as lieutenant governor, then succeeded to the office.

HORSES INJURE THEIR DRIVER IN LOOP RUNAWAY

Veteran policemen were taken back to the turn of the century yesterday by an entry in the complaint book of the second district station at 11th and State streets.

"Man injured by horses at Randolph and Wells street," said the complaint book. "Horses ran into the rear of a south bound truck at Monroe and Franklin streets. One of the horses was injured and destroyed."

The horses were hitched to a pie wagon, pressed into service by the rubber shortage. Henry Halverson, 40 years old, of 2440 North Lawndale avenue, the driver, was knocked down by a flying hoof when he tried to quiet the horses which became frightened. At Henrotin hospital he was found to have a possible skull fracture.

One of the horses suffered a broken leg when the team galloped to Franklin and Monroe streets where they crashed into a truck.

WOMAN'S SLAYER AND COMPANION BACK IN CHICAGO

John T. Ballard, crippled ex-convict, was brought back to Chicago from Detroit, Mich., last night to face a charge of murdering his former employer, Miss Elizabeth Connor, 76 years old, in her rooming house at 32 Bellevue place a year ago.

Returned with him was Dorothy Stewart, 27, held as a material witness. They were seized in Detroit two weeks ago. Ballard, 36, confessed, and named the woman as his accomplice, an accusation she denied. Both waived extradition and were returned in custody of Sergt. Frank Byrnes and Policewoman Mary Powers.

Locked up at the detective bureau Ballard readily admitted killing Miss Connor, but pleaded he "didn't mean to do it." She was strangled in the basement of her home Feb. 5, last year. Ballard had been her janitor. After the slaying, Ballard fled, accompanied by the Stewart woman.

STORES TO CUT DELIVERIES TO THRICE WEEKLY

Officials of the Cook County Retail council, made up of 200 large stores, pronounced curtailment of deliveries to save tires successful yesterday after 20 days' trial.

So well has the experiment worked, said Wilbur C. Munnecke, chairman of the retailers' war policy committee, that further curtailment will be put into effect within 10 days. This proposed move will cut to thrice weekly deliveries in the area where trucks now go daily.

This area embraces Cook county to the western limits of Palatine; Du Page county to the western limits of Wheaton, and in Deerfield, Highland Park, Bannockburn, Lake Forest, Fort Sheridan, and Lake Bluff in Lake county.

Munnecke said that miles traveled by delivery trucks have been reduced by 30 per cent, and customers are carrying twice as many parcels as they did before the rubber shortage brought tire restrictions. He said few complaints have been reported.

DECLARES UNPAID TAXES ADD 22% TO LOCAL LEVIES

Cook county residents are assessed 22 per cent more in local taxes because of a tax delinquency which has reached 523 million dollars since 1928, A. R. Kaiser said yesterday at a luncheon of the Garfield Park Business Men's association in the Midwest Athletic club. Kaiser is manager of the tax department of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and chairman of the taxation committee of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

He described the Illinois tax structure as the most antiquated of any state in the union and declared:

"Elimination of nonessential spending must be extended to cover all units of government—not just federal but every state body, every local body, right down to the smallest township—if we are to meet the staggering financial responsibility entailed by the war."

ALLISON PLANE ENGINE OUTPUT ON MASS BASIS

Liquid Cooled Unit Steadily Improved.

BY WAYNE THOMIS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 25.—The only liquid cooled aero engine of original American design now in mass production is manufactured in an "ideal" 390,000 square foot factory on the outskirts of this city. It is the Allison V-12 motor that provides power for North American Curtiss, Bell, and Lockheed pursuit plane models that in turn form the largest proportion of the army air corps' new fighter squadrons.

This plant which rose in 1939 from a corn field has been tightly corked against all visitors by army red tape until a few days ago. There still are many parts of the plant where none except army and Allison engineers may gather, but permission was obtained to take Tribune observers thru the assembly lines, engine test cells and busy shipping departments today.

Reaches Mass Production.

The Allison plant is important at this time primarily because it has its 1,325 horse power basic engine in mass production. This term is not loosely applied. Army regulations forbid a statement of the actual production figures, but they are high; high enough to have eliminated a threatened bottleneck in this type of motor, and to provide plenty of engines for all the fighter planes that four different plane manufacturers are able to turn out.

In the aviation industry there has been criticism of the Allison engine, which for airplane engines is still a new unit. The first models were criticized for mechanical difficulties that arose in the field. Some of these unquestionably were due to ignorance of the engine operators and maintenance crews. Lately the criticism has been that the engine does not deliver sufficient power and that it is not supercharged for the extreme altitudes at which British, German, and some American air-cooled motors perform.

Constantly Improving.

Any shortcomings in the motor are better known to Allison engineers than even the pilots who fly them. Improvements and changes constantly are being made, and there is a steady trend toward more horse power. In fact the plant is preparing for future production of a 24 cylinder Double Allison that will deliver 2,650 horse power for take-off.

This Double Allison motor has been running for two years and is about ready for production if the army calls for it. Fundamentally it is two of the V-12s placed side by side and linked by the same crankcase. Their two crankshafts are geared to a single propeller shaft thus allowing use of about 95 per cent of the same parts as in the single Allison. When it is delivered it probably will be the most powerful liquid cooled unit in the world, and its teething troubles will be behind it.

Typically American Engine.

The Allison is a typically American engine; that is, it was designed for mass production. It has a minimum number of different parts—only 700 compared with 2,300 in a Rolls-Royce Merlin motor of about the same piston capacity and power. It is the most flexible liquid cooled motor in the world in that the motor and radiator need not be together as in the case of both British and German liquid cooled motors.

These points are important. In England and Germany large quantity production of aero motors was achieved by having many manufacturers build them by old time hand methods. Parts from one motor could not be utilized in others. This applies to the British Rolls engines and the German Daimler-Benz and Junkers. But the Allison's parts are so nearly identical that pistons, crankshaft, connecting rods and valve assembly from one engine can be interchanged with those of another—an important feature of field service.

Flexibility Is Explained.

Flexibility is shown by the fact that Allison motors are available as either "pushers" or "pullers" on aircraft, or they can be buried deep in a fuselage and drive propellers by long extension shafts as in the case of the Bell Airacobra. Propellers can be turned either right or left as desired, so that torque on multimotored planes can be counteracted.

Development of the Allison started in 1930 when Norman Gilman was head of the Allison Engineering organization. At that time the company was specializing in precision motor work and was an infant firm with one small factory building and fewer than 50 employés. The company previously had worked on army Liberty engines.

First step toward today's Allison motor was perfection of steel-backed leaded bronze bearings that could withstand loads required for a modern military engine's power output. Such bearings are almost standard in aero engines thruout the world. These bearings were used in the first Allison V-1710-A motor built in 1931 for the navy. It developed 750 horse power at 2,400 r. p. m.

Second step was development of an ethyleneglycol cooling system—anti-

Housing Chief

John B. Blandford Jr., named to head superagency for government housing, as he studied a model house in Washington yesterday.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—John B. Blandford Jr., appointed by President Roosevelt to be national housing administrator, today began streamlining and consolidating nearly a score of federal housing agencies to fit their activities and personnel into the war program. He is commissioned to blend the agencies into a new National Housing agency.

Blandford, an engineer, 44 years old, was general manager of the Tennessee Valley authority at 38 and has been assistant director of the budget for the last three years. He is a native of Brooklyn, N. Y. During the World war he was a navy aviation cadet.

When confirmed by the senate he will draw $12,000 a year and will rank next to cabinet members in Washington precedence.

May Order Oil Users to Turn Plants to Coal

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—Deputy Petroleum Coördinator Ralph K. Davies disclosed to a congressional committee today that orders for the conversion of industrial oil burning equipment to coal, gas, and other fuels, wherever feasible, have been submitted to the War Production board for approval.

Testifying before the house interstate commerce committee investigating the oil situation, Davies said the action was prompted by what he described as a growing petroleum shortage along the eastern seaboard and in the Pacific northwest.

Recent new discoveries of crude oil, Davies said, have not been encouraging, and "demand is now seriously pressing supply."

Extend Washer Quotas.

The WPB extended current quotas on electric washing machine and ironer output until March 15. Industry conferences will be held before that date to discuss further restrictions which informed officials predicted would mean complete conversion to arms production.

The industry's February quotas limit production to between 60 and 95 per cent of a company's average monthly sales during the 12 months ended last June 30, depending upon the size of the plant. The same production rate will be permitted during the first half of next month.

The washer and ironer industry is equipped to manufacture approximately 17 items of armament.

Limit Plumbing Parts.

Another WPB order today requires simplification as of March 1 of plumbing pipe fittings from 8,500 varieties to less than 3,000, in order to save iron, brass and bronze. The action gave legal force to specifications previously set forth as recommendations by the bureau of standards.

The 3,000 approved types of fittings will satisfy 92 to 94 per cent of all demand, the WPB plumbing and heating branch estimated.

An informed source said that the WPB was considering advisability of lifting the ban on new installations of equipment for burning liquefied petroleum gas, used extensively in suburban and rural areas for cooking and heating purposes.

Railroad Executives Will Discuss Equipment Needs

Top executives of the nation's railroads will meet in the Stevens hotel tomorrow to discuss war developments affecting rail transportation. The meeting is a special one called by the Association of American Railroads to discuss such problems as that of getting new equipment. Concentration of manufacturers on war materials has delayed delivery of a considerable amount of railroad equipment.

BARS PREMIUM ON DEBENTURES OF UNITED LIGHT

SEC Cancels Rights in Liquidation.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—In a precedent setting ruling, the Securities and Exchange commission decided today that the United Light and Power company could redeem $15,093,000 of debentures on May 1 without paying a 9 per cent premium. The company's plan is one in a series submitted under a program of compliance with a commission order that United Light be liquidated and dissolved to meet requirements of the holding company act.

The debentures were issued in 1923, 1924, and 1925, were to mature in 50 years and pay interest at 6, 6½, and 6 per cent respectively. The New York Trust company, trustee for the debentures, appeared on behalf of the holders and contended that under the terms of the securities a 9 per cent premium must be paid as provided in the case of a voluntary liquidation.

SEC Rejects Contention.

Rejecting that contention, the commission said "there is no question of free choice or election" by the company to liquidate because "by virtue of congressional mandate, it is to terminate its existence."

The SEC said "there is no basis for awarding the debenture holders more than that [the face amount of the debentures and accrued interest to May 1] at the expense of stockholders, whose investment in the company as a going concern is also being terminated."

The commission rejected also a contention that the liquidation amounted to a merger, inasmuch as stockholders of United Light would receive in liquidation principally the common stock of the United Light and Railways company.

Questions Participation.

The SEC asserted that it was "not yet clear whether all of the classes of stockholders of power will be entitled to participate in the distribution of its assets after liquidation of its indebtedness, or if they do, what the extent of such participation will be."

"We are impelled to the conclusion," the commission said, "that the terms of the debentures and the covering agreement create no contractual obligation to pay a redemption premium and no right on behalf of the debenture holders to receive such premium. We further conclude that no such obligation or right exists by virtue of any other recognized legal or equitable principle."

TAX EXEMPTIONS URGED TO CUT COST-PLUS FEES

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—Rep. John J. Cochran [D., Mo.], said today that savings of more than a billion dollars a year might be effected by the federal government if tangible personal property and services used in performing cost-plus-fixed-fee war contracts were exempt from state, territorial, and local taxes.

"Based on estimates of total expenditures of 13 billion dollars," Cochran said in connection with his bill to provide for such tax exemptions, "the attorney general has estimated that the tax exemptions might save the government as much as 137 million dollars for the fiscal year 1942 alone.

"I have been advised by the army and navy that expenditures will run 10 times that amount and it appears to those departments that the savings to be effected will amount to over a billion dollars."

The Beloit [Wis.] works of Fairbanks, Morse & Co. will be expanded to a size that will enable it to produce six times the present output of Diesel engines and auxiliary equipment for the navy, Col. Robert R. Morse, president, disclosed yesterday. He said the navy has announced its intention to spend $15,600,000 on the plant which will make the increased output possible.

Morse announced that the company will proceed at once to meet the navy's requirements. The $15,600,000 allocation includes the original $6,000,000 expansion announced several months ago. Shortly afterward this amount was increased by $800,000.

The program will include construction of several new buildings and expansion of a huge structure now under construction.

Want to buy, lease or operate manufacturing facilities

Would therefore like to buy, lease or take over on an operating agreement a firm having facilities available for manufacturing mechanical equipment. All propositions offered will be considered.

Ancient Machine Tools Shape Weapons in 4th War Service

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 [Special].—Ancient, dust laden machine tools are being rehabilitated and used in war production. Shops which had no remote relation to arms are producing implements of war. These developments were reported today by the War Production board in reviewing industry's accomplishments in getting war jobs done quickly.

The WPB disclosed that a large planer in a Providence, R. I., shop is engaged in its fourth war effort. It was used to smooth deck plates for the Monitor, ironclad war boat of the Civil war that was the precursor of the modern battleship. Other machine tools employed in making engines for the Monitor also are being used today.

Working for Navy Now.

At Allentown, Pa., a vertical boring mill built in 1865, is planing gate castings for a navy dry dock. It is being operated 40 hours a week despite its age. The machine made parts for pumps used in the Civil war, and was employed during the Spanish and first World wars.

WPB engineers explained that most of the old time machine tools cannot do the fine precision work expected of modern tools, but they can be used for rough machining which releases new units for the more precise finishing jobs.

Another veteran of the Civil war is a steam hammer being used in Milwaukee. It is pounding out steel forgings for the navy.

An electric company in Lynn, Mass., recalled into service a planer that had been exhibited at the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893. It had been abandoned and retired to a forgotten corner.

Eighteen months ago, according to the WPB, the company was ready to market its new dispenser. However, its president anticipated the need for war materials and converted his small shop and 12 employés to war work.

The pay roll has increased to 75. New machinery has been installed. Employés in their 50s and 60s are working the machines and training newcomers. Because of its experience in the last war, the company has a million dollars of government orders on its books, the WPB said.

Plan Dealers' Aid

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—The senate small business committee proposed today that the government assist retail dealers of rationed articles by authorizing the Reconstruction Finance corporation to purchase their frozen inventories or lend them money to help them carry their investments.

Committee Chairman James E. Murray [D., Mont.] said that 500,000 or more new automobiles and trucks may be frozen for many months during which dealers would have to pay storage, insurance, and other costs. "It is unfair to ask these dealers to bear the entire expense," he said.

'SEA OTTER' PROVES DISAPPOINTMENT AS MASS OUTPUT SHIP

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 [Special].—The revolutionary type of ocean freighter known as the "Sea Otter" probably will not be constructed beyond the one experimental ship now undergoing tests, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox indicated today. He said that both President Roosevelt and himself were disappointed in the ship.

The Sea Otter was heralded several months ago as one probable answer to mass production of freighters without the use of materials critically needed for other operations. The ship was planned with very low silhouette and driven by means of a vertical shaft attached to a propeller under the hull, and powered by about a dozen gasoline engines.

Knox said the ship cost about $400,000, instead of $100,000, as planned, and did not give as much usable tonnage as a standard vessel costing as much. Difficulty in installing the propellers, he said, forced the draught to a depth of 20 or 21 feet, defeating the purpose of building a shallow-draft ship adaptable to coastal operations.

RETAILERS URGE FEDERAL TAX ON CONSUMER SALES

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—Seventy-eight per cent of the members of the National Retail Dry Goods association favor a federal retail sales tax, the business organization announced today.

The support, it explained, was on the basis of a "pass-on" provision by which the tax would be listed as a separate item and paid by the consumer, and would be in lieu of manufacturers' and retailers' excise taxes levied in the revenue act of 1941.

RETAILER SALES OF BILLION IN BONDS PLEDGED

New York, Feb. 25 [Special].—Retailers thruout the United States, from newsboys to store executives, are pledged to sell 1 billion 72 million dollars in defense stamps and bonds this year, it was announced today at a regional meeting of the retail advisory committee to the United States treasury.

The pledge represents 2 per cent of total 1941 retail sales, estimated by the department of commerce at 53 billion 600 million dollars.

J. Hudson Huffard, chairman of the quota committee of the retail advisory committee, said the Illinois quota, one of the five largest state quotas, was $72,900,000.

RUBBER LACK NOT MY FAULT: JONES

Denies It Was His Job to Fix Nation's Needs.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones today irately disclaimed responsibility for the rubber shortage and declared that neither he nor any one else "expected we would lose entire control of the Pacific."

He told the house interstate commerce committee that the country had about 650,000 tons of raw rubber in storage and that the nation would be producing a maximum of 500,000 tons of synthetic rubber by the end of 1943—four-fifths of it in plants to be built under contracts let this year.

Enough for War Needs.

"I am convinced," he said, "that if we use what we have carefully and sparingly, we will have enough to supply our necessary war demands and have some for essential civilian needs." He estimated that a "modest" amount—anywhere from 10,000 to 60,000 tons—would come in from Brazil.

He flatly described as "willful" any criticism directed at him which is based upon the contention that the responsibility for building up the supply was his.

"Was it any of your responsibility to determine the nation's needs?" inquired Chairman Clarence F. Lea [D., Cal.].

Answers Query with Another.

Earlier, pressed by Rep. Charles A. Wolverton [R., N. J.], ranking minority member of the committee, as to why greater production of synthetic rubber had not been undertaken prior to the attack on Pearl Harbor, Jones said:

"Hold up your hand and tell me if any of you gentlemen knew that Singapore would fall and that we would lose our supply from the Dutch East Indies."

There were no hands raised.

Wolverton demanded to know whether the responsibility for shortage of rubber necessitating rationing was "chargeable to the war council, the war department, to you or to whom?"

"Well," retorted Jones, "congress might take the responsibility if it wanted to. I don't think it started very early."

Wickard Says Hog Price Rise Must Be Halted

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard said today recent advances in prices of hogs and beef cattle brought the government face to face with the necessity of invoking price controls.

"Prices of these farm products are high enough," he told a press conference.

Wickard said the question of placing ceilings on prices of hogs and cattle, as authorized under the recently enacted price control law, had been discussed with Price Administrator Leon Henderson. Any decision, he said, would be made by the price administrator.

Minimum ceilings under the law have been estimated as about $11.54 for hogs and $9.40 for cattle at the farm.

HOG PRICES RISE MORE

Lighter receipts, further sharp advances in fresh pork at wholesale, and rumors that lend-lease buyers may raise the price ceilings on pork bought for England caused a sharp rise in the market for hogs at the stockyards yesterday. Advances of 25 cents were general, with some of the heaviest butchers and sows up 30 to 40 cents.

Packers paid an average of $12.95 a hundred pounds, up 25 cents, for the day's supply. This was within 5 cents of the 22 year February peak established last week. Top loads soared 25 cents to $13.25, equaling last week's best price.

Offer Less for Lend-Lease.

Packers are said to be offering less pork to the government at prices lend-lease buyers are willing to pay as a result of the continued high cost of the live animals.

Pork costs to butcher shop owners in wholesale channels soared 50 cents to $1 a hundred pounds. Top light loins reached $27.00, compared with $25.00 at the close of last week and with $20.50 the last day of January.

Best steers and yearlings ruled stronger. Steady bids bought heifers, bulls, and calves. Cows, canners, and cutters were weaker. Fat lambs advanced 15 to 25 cents, with top loads at $12.40.

DEVISE ALLOY TO REPLACE TIN IN TUBE PACKAGES

A new metal alloy for collapsible tubes which is said to conserve such critical metals as tin was announced yesterday by Thomas C. Sheffield, western district manager of the New England Collapsible Tube company, New London, Conn. The company has a warehouse at 3132 South Canal street.

Sheffield said the alloy is a satisfactory alternative for metals normally used in the manufacture of tubes and is being used to package tooth paste, shaving cream, and pharmaceuticals. The alloy is compounded by a secret process which blends several metals and tempers and toughens them into a pliable material, he said. Special coatings are applied to the alloy as protection when strong alkaline or acid ingredients are to be packaged.

Standard Oil (Ind.) Makes Special 'Blackout' Candle

The Standard Oil Company of Indiana yesterday announced that its candle shops are making special white candles which measure 5 inches high and 1¼ inches in diameter to be used in blackouts or for other emergency needs. Each will burn nine hours, it was said.

RAILS ASK RIGHT TO DROP TRAINS WITHOUT NOTICE

Termed Necessary to War Operation.

The railroads of Illinois yesterday asked the Illinois Commerce commission for authority to discontinue train operation over any route or to change passenger train schedules without giving the commission 30 days' notice as is now required. Joseph H. Wright, attorney for the railroads, said the request was being made to expedite war operations.

Wright argued a great deal of time could be saved in military operations if the railroads were granted authority to make the changes. He said the roads will have to change passenger schedules in order to release equipment for military purposes during the war emergency. To go before the commission each time such a change must be made would consume considerable time, he added.

Opposed by Brotherhoods.

The roads were opposed by T. S. Roe, legislative representative for the Order of Railway Conductors, who acted as spokesman for all the railroad brotherhoods.

"The brotherhoods stand ready to join with the railroads and release all trains if necessary, but we don't think it is necessary," Roe said. "There have been petitions filed during 1940 and 1941 involving three-quarters of a million of passenger train miles. In some instances the trains on which they wish to suspend service are the only trains left serving their communities. Cities and villages have asked the brotherhoods to help them save this much needed service.

"If the trains are cut off in the face of tire and automobile rationing there will be no means of travel."

Set Hearing for March 25.

Roe said that so far the railroads have moved the troops without material disruption of service. In the 12 months preceding the Japanese attack, he said, they moved 1,500,000 troops and in six weeks after that event they moved about 600,000 troops and their equipment.

The commission gave Wright 10 days in which to file a brief outlining the case for the railroads and the brotherhoods were given 10 days to reply. It set a hearing for March 25. William Parrillo acted as chairman of the commission at yesterday's session.

The commission also set March 11 for hearing on the petitions of 14 railroads seeking 10 per cent increases in suburban commutation fares. It suspended commutation, excursion, and miscellaneous fare increases sought by the railroads in a new schedule, largely affecting week-end and special fares.

Station Wagons Brought Under Rationing Control

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—The Office of Price administration issued orders today bringing all types of station wagons under rationing control, along with ambulances, hearses, and other types of motor car bodies. The amendment to rationing rules revises the definition of "new passenger automobiles" to include any 1942 model car having a seating capacity of not more than 10 persons. Previously only cars carrying up to 8 persons were included. The rationing program begins March 2.

LIGHT SELLING ERASES STOCKS' GAIN OF TUESDAY

Douglas Aircraft Counters Trend, Up 3 Points.

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—Moderate selling put the majority of stocks in slightly lower territory today but there were some wide swings in various issues touched by the news.

A marked exception to the faltering action was Douglas Aircraft which climbed 3⅛ points at the best on the appearance of the company's report showing profits equal to $30.29 a share for the fiscal year ended Nov. 30 compared with $18.05 a share in the preceding year.

Coca-Cola Shares Drop.

Certain of the sugar and soft drink shares fell hard as trade circles heard that industrial consumers might not receive more than 50 per cent of the sugar used in February last year. Coca-Cola dipped 3⅛ to a new 1941-'42 low and Coca-Cola International, a holding concern for Coca-Cola shares, on a transfer of 20 shares dropped $243.50 from the last previous sale on July 16 to $470, the lowest since 1934.

CHICAGO PRICES SOFT.

Declines outnumbered advances on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in transactions involving 85 issues and 14,000 shares. Sterling Brewers, volume leader with 1,100 shares traded, rose ⅛ to 1. Of other active stocks, Swift & Co. advanced ⅛, Athey Trust Wheel advanced ⅛, Commonwealth Edison declined ¼ and General Finance preferred was unchanged. In the half hour after the close in New York Borg-Warner gained ⅛.

With the authorization of a 50 cent dividend on common stock, W. J. Murray Jr., president of McKesson and Robbins, Inc., announced yesterday that future payments on the issue would be made semi-annually instead of quarterly. The 50 cent dividend is the second on common stock since the company emerged from reorganization, 25 cents having been paid last Dec. 20.

DOUGLAS WARNS PROFIT MARGIN WILL BE SLENDER

Army Contracts Provide Fee of 5 Per Cent.

Donald W. Douglas, president of the Douglas Aircraft company, told stockholders yesterday that the company will operate on a slender profit margin in 1942.

Donald W. Douglas.

Virtually all its production, he said, will consist of military aircraft turned out under contract for the government.

"The Douglas company," he said in his report to stockholders, "pioneered the fixed-fee contract, because it considered it fair to both the goverment and the manufacturer. Recently, the company voluntarily accepted reduction in the fee from 6 to 5 per cent on several major army contracts in the new victory program."

Foreign Orders Nearly Filled.

Douglas emphasized the basis on which its government work is handled in releasing figures on the company's earnings for 1941. Profit for the year was $18,176,691, equal to $30.29 a share. This compared with $10,831,971 or $18.05 a share in the preceding year.

Eighty-eight per cent of the 1941 profit, Douglas said, was derived from foreign military orders. The foreign orders which made possible such profits have been virtually completed. Source of remaining profit in 1941 was $1,117,514 from commercial business and $1,136,123 from United States army and naval contracts.

"At the time of their execution, contracts with foreign governments involved great financial risks and many other uncertainties over which the company had no control," Douglas said. "Foreign military orders, begun in the critical latter months of 1939, developed production capacity which is now an invaluable military facility, benefited the government thru taxes, and strengthened the company's position in meeting the needs of our own nation at war.

Explains Profit Retention.

"All but a minute fraction of the Douglas company now will be for military aircraft for the United States government at a profit percentage which the company is as anxious as the government to keep at a reasonable minimum."

Douglas explained to stockholders that only 3 million dollars of the $18,177,000 profit last year was paid out in dividends.

"The management," he said, "considers it the company's duty to remain financially strong enough to carry out the exacting tasks of increased and ever increasing war production. The old definition of profit as a tangible financial achievement gives way before war industry conditions which make earnings an added resource for serving the nation."

Helps to Finance Research.

By adding to the surplus, Douglas said, the company assures its ability to carry on costly research and technical development.

Sales of the company trebled in 1941. Total sales and billings on fixed fee contracts were $180,940,110, compared with $60,970,774 in 1940. Direct taxes, charged to operations, were $25,399,520, which was equivalent to 14 per cent of sales and 140 per cent of net profits. Its 1940 taxes were $4,221,757.

Conversion of the DC-4 air transports, designed for commercial flying, into military aircraft was accomplished at a cost to the company of $2,000,000. Another item of expense absorbed by the company was $2,643,888 for development and construction of the world's biggest bomber, the Douglas B-19.

SANTA FE ROAD'S OPERATIONS NET SOARS IN MONTH

Reflecting the heavy transcontinental wartime traffic, the Santa Fe railway in January had a net operating income of $4,262,226, compared with $1,814,350 in January, 1941, E. J. Engel, president, reported yesterday.

Engel said that the road's gross revenues in January totaled $22,350,879, compared with $14,319,983 in January, 1941—an increase of 56 per cent. Operating expenses totaled $15,113,213, a 37 per cent increase.

NORTH AMERICAN PROFIT SLIGHTLY BELOW '40 LEVEL

Quadrupled Tax Bill Cuts National Lead Income.

North American company earned almost as much last year as in 1940, but a quadrupled federal tax bill brought about a substantial decline in profits of the National Lead company, their annual reports disclosed yesterday. Several Chicago area companies reported improvement for recent periods.

A preliminary report of North American company, large midwest utility holding company with headquarters in New York, showed earnings available for common stock were $16,451,737, compared with $16,495,100 in 1940. In each year profits equaled $1.92 a share.

National Lead, of New York, announced its 1941 net income was $5,375,685, equal to $1.10 a common share, against $6,102,702, or $1.34 a share, the year before. Provision for federal income and excess profits taxes totaled $10,015,669, compared with $2,521,531 in 1940.

Foundry Earnings Gain.

Continental Roll and Steel Foundry company, East Chicago, Ind., reported its earnings in the 11 months ended Nov. 30 were $1,449,638, equal to $3.72 a share. The company, which has changed its fiscal year to end Nov. 30 instead of Dec. 31, earned $812,454, or $1.79 a share, in all of 1940.

Truax-Traer Coal company, Chicago organization which has extensive mining properties in the midwest and Canada, reported its earnings for the quarter ended Jan. 31 were $350,165, equal to 78 cents a share, against $344,790, or 76 cents a share, in the corresponding period a year ago.

Truax-Traer's production in the January quarter totaled 1,384,540 tons, against 1,155,775 a year before, an increase of 19 per cent.

Union Oil Company of California reported consolidated 1941 net profit of $6,239,232, equal to $1.34 a share, against $4,606,790, or 99 cents a share, in 1940.

Oil Sales at Peak.

Last year's sales of the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky were the largest on record at $101,726,967. Net income was $3,671,220, against $3,818,408 in 1940, equal to $1.41 and $1.47 a share in the respective years.

Securities Registrations with SEC Up for 1941

The Securities and Exchange commission reports that registrations of new securities totaled $2,787,153,000 last year, an increase of $662,724,000 over 1940, and highest since 1937. Of this amount, $1,976,754,000, an increase of $289,769,000, was intended for sale by the issuers. A fourth of this, or $501,460,000, was to be used for new money purposes, such as new plants and equipment and expansion of working capital.

Iron Age Says Half of Year's Steel Output Will Be for War

Five major groups of consumers this year will take more than 43 million tons of steel ingots for direct war purposes—about half the annual capacity of the steel mills—Iron Age estimated yesterday. This huge amount of steel has been earmarked for the shipbuilding and railroad industries, the shell steel and tank manufacturers and lend-lease.

Industry sources said that the direct war requirements are so heavy that regardless of how successfully the government distributes steel thru the priority system, it appears likely that certain "indirect" war requirements as well as essential civilian steel requirements cannot be met.

High Ratings Cover All Output.

Many steel mills are reported to be scheduled for months ahead on steel ratings carrying A-1-j or better, with some mills unable to promise delivery on anything less than A-1-a for weeks to come.

Indicating the huge demand for steel, the automobile and automobile body manufacturers have been informed by the director of industry operations of the War Production board that they are not to ship steel from their stocks without orders bearing specified high preference ratings.

Restrictions also have been imposed on steel supplied to the petroleum industry.

Meantime operations in the mills continue at record levels. Plants in the Chicago district eased their production somewhat to 101 per cent of theoretical capacity. The Pittsburgh rate was unchanged at 97 per cent, the Youngstown rate rose a point to 96 per cent and Cleveland dropped to 94 per cent from last week's revised rate of 96 per cent.

Whether the mills can maintain these high rates indefinitely without losses resulting from labor troubles is a perplexing question, Iron Age commented.

"Again the War Labor board is face to face with the demand for the closed shop and the dues checkoff," the magazine said. "Should it grant the demands of the Steel Workers Organizing committee for a wage increase and closed shop it would set a precedent to cover not only the steel industry but industry generally."

VOTE TARIFF REMOVAL.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—House approval sent to the senate today a bill to suspend during the war the present 75 cents a ton tariff duty on imported iron and steel scrap. Sponsors said the nation had inadequate supplies and the measure would permit the War Production board to obtain available scrap from outside continental United States.

EAST COAST FUEL OIL STOCKS OFF MORE LAST WEEK

New York, Feb. 25 (AP).—East coast stocks of fuel oil, subject to stiff restrictions on delivery, declined further in the week ended Feb. 21, the American Petroleum institute reported today.

Supplies of heavy or residual fuel oil dropped to 7,590,000 barrels from 8,586,000 barrels a week earlier, and compared with 9,326,000 barrels a year earlier. Stocks of light heating oil dropped to 9,053,000 barrels from 10,328,000 the week before, and compared with 12,150,000 at the same date of 1941.

The east coast's store of gasoline was up somewhat at 19,492,000 barrels, against 19,317,000 the week before, and compared with 20,381,000 in 1941. Total gasoline stocks in the United States were 104,312,000 barrels, against 101,769,000 a week ago, and 94,706,000 a year earlier.

AGREE TO SETTLE 2 SUITS AGAINST GEORGE A. BALL

Terms Withheld; Eight Millions Was Sought.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 25 (AP).—Settlement of two suits asking a total of 8 million dollars from George A. Ball, Muncie, Ind., industrialist, in connection with his sale of control of the Van Sweringen railroad empire, was announced today by opposing attorneys.

Patrick J. Mulligan of Cleveland, representing Ball, announced before Special Master Albert Ward, who this week began taking testimony preparatory to trial of the suits in federal court, that "we have reached and found a basis of oral understanding which will be reduced to writing within a day or two."

Plan to Seek Dismissal.

Frank M. McHale, attorney for the plaintiffs—Robert R. Young, Allan P. Kirby and the Seaboard Company, Ltd., said:

"We concur in what Mr. Mulligan has said and the proper dismissal will be filed."

Mulligan said no announcement would be made "at this time" as to the terms of the settlement.

In one suit Young, Kirby and the Seaboard company asked 5 million dollars in damages based on the allegation that Ball, thru market manipulations, had increased the securities of the Alleghany corporation, top holding company in the Van Sweringen empire, above their actual worth.

Receivership Was Sought.

The other suit, for 3 millions, was based on a similar allegation and also asked a receivership for the George and Frances Ball Foundation.

The suits were the first major civil actions brought under section 9 of the securities act of 1934, which prohibits market manipulations. The securities involved carried control of the Van Swergingen properties, principal of which is the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. Ball purchased control of the empire in 1935 and sold it to Young and Kirby, eastern financiers, and the Seaboard company in 1937.

GRAINS DECLINE ON OPPOSITION TO FARM BLOC BILL

Wheat and Soy Beans Dip a Cent or More.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

Grain and soy bean prices declined around a cent or more a bushel yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade as administration leaders fought to defeat legislation that would prohibit sales of government owned farm commodities at less than parity.

Wheat finished 1⅛ cents lower, with May contracts at $1.28⅝ a bushel. Corn declined ¾ to a cent; oats, ½ to a cent; rye, 1⅜ to 1½ cents, and soy beans, ⅝ to 1⅝ cents a bushel. Lard was unchanged to 2½ cents per hundredweight higher, borrowing strength from the higher hog market.

Final Prices Compared.

A comparison of the closing prices on the May contracts for grains and soy beans on the Board of Trade:

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Year ago.
Wheat	$1.28⅝	$1.29⅝	$ .83⅜
Corn	.86½	.87¼	.60⅝
Oats	.57	.57⅞	.35⅝
Rye	.85½	.87	.42⅜
Soy beans	1.96¼	1.97⅝	.93⅝

The already sagging markets dipped further when President Roosevelt sent a message to senate leaders urging that the farm bloc's measure be defeated. The bill was passed, however, and sent to the house.

The grain men said that the final outcome of the battle on the legislation likely would determine the future trend of the grain markets. Currently, the government's farm loan program acts as a floor under the markets while the price at which it will sell its wheat or corn, according to the grain men, determines the market's ceiling.

Farm Prices Under Parity.

With wheat returning the farmers only 82 per cent of parity on Jan. 15, the last time the department of agriculture revised parity prices, the grain dealers foresee the possibility of sharp advances in grain prices if the measure passes. Corn was selling on the farms at only 78 per cent of parity, rye at 62 per cent and oats at 86 per cent on Jan. 15, according to the department of agriculture.

Pit traders said part of the weakness in the corn market resulted from withdrawal by some of the processing interests from the cash grain markets. The processors said they were momentarily flooded with corn, recent purchases from private interests and the government stocks arriving at their plants all at once.

SPREADING IT OUT.

Can you tell me if the income tax laws provide any relief for a person in my situation? I worked for a company for a number of years, but received virtually no salary because of poor business conditions. If I had received my salary when it was due, I would have paid only a small tax each year. In 1941, however, I received all my back salary and, as a consequence, am liable for a tax much greater than the sum of the taxes in prior years, which I would have paid under normal circumstances.—H. A.

Answer: If an individual or member of a partnership receives compensation for personal services covering a period of five calendar years or more from the beginning to the completion of the services he is allowed to make an income tax adjustment. This adjustment requires him to pay only an amount of tax which shall not exceed the total of taxes which would have been paid had the compensation been received in equal portions in each of the years of the period. This provision, contained in the 1939 revenue act, does not apply unless at least 95 per cent of the compensation was received at the completion of the work and unless the services covered a period of five calendar years or more.

NOT A DEALER.

Is it necessary for a person to be classified as a dealer in securities before he is exempt from the "wash sales" restrictions of the revenue laws? I am not a dealer, but at the same time I consider my business to be that of trading securities.—E. E. G.

Answer: You do not have to be classed as a securities dealer to be exempt. An individual "engaged in the trade or business of buying and selling securities" is not subject to "wash sales" restrictions.

SECURING EMPLOYMENT.

Answer: Such fees are deductible under a general ruling which permits deduction for fees paid to secure employment.

ALL MUST FILE.

Answer: No one is exempt from income tax because of his official position. The President, Vice President, congressmen, and federal judges are required to file returns.

ARRANGE DIRECT EXPORT OF MEAT, FIRST IN WEEKS

Chicago Packers Plan Big Sale to Sweden.

Chicago meat packers yesterday reported their first direct export trade in several weeks as arrangements were made for the sale of an estimated 2 million pounds of salt pork to Sweden. Meanwhile, they revealed they are shipping a trainload of lend-lease products daily.

Permission from the United States and British governments is required to complete the transaction with Sweden, and the meat is to be shipped as soon as space is made available, packers said.

Sale By Two Large Firms.

The sale was arranged by two of the larger packing companies. While they did not announce prices, trade sources said this type of meat is selling for around 14¼ cents a pound. The packers' spokesmen said Sweden probably will be in the market for additional quantities if the necessary shipping permission is obtained.

The list reported export sales outside of lend-lease transactions were in mid-January when shipments were made to Russia and Mexico.

Minute By Comparison.

Agricultural Marketing service officials said that lend-lease shipments for Russia from Chicago so far are minute in comparison with those for England. The service is inspecting 1¾ to 2 million pounds of meat a day.

Packing company officials said that because of increased demands for refrigerator cars, 2½ to 3 times as much meat is being packed in each car as formerly. The packers are loading about 80,000 pounds to a car.

Lend-lease lard and meat shipments from Chicago were said to average 60 to 70 cars a day.

VALUE ILLINOIS OIL OUTPUT AT 170 MILLION PEAK

Centralia, Ill., Feb. 25 (AP).—The value of Illinois oil production last year was estimated at 170 million dollars in a report today of the Independent Petroleum Association of America. The estimate was based on production of 134 million barrels at an average price of $1.27 a barrel.

The 1941 yield was less than the state's output during 1940, but the price of crude oil was several cents higher, pushing the value of the 1941 production to an all-time peak.

Illinois ranked fourth in wealth of production among the 18 principal oil states last year. Texas topped the list with 505,400,000 barrels worth 570 million dollars. California was second and Oklahoma third.

A tabulation by the Independent Petroleum association showed 392 new oil fields were discovered in the nation last year. Illinois was credited with 46 new fields.

COAL MERCHANTS TOLD TO REPORT OR LOSE PERMITS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 25 (AP).—More than 400 individuals and companies, including 20 in Chicago, have been ordered to explain to the bituminous coal division by April 1 why they should continue to be registered as distributors of coal. Failure to explain would be considered admission of ineligibility, the division said, and revocation of permits might be ordered.

The division said they had failed to respond to an order of last June 13 requiring all registered distributors to report details of their purchases and sales for the eight months beginning Oct. 1, 1940.

Registered distributors under division regulations must actively and continuously engage in the purchase and resale of coal in not less than cargo or railroad car lots.

ALLISON PLANE ENGINE OUTPUT ON MASS BASIS

Liquid Cooled Unit Is Much Improved.

freeze ingredients — for the motor. Water cooled engines had top temperatures of 160 degrees, but the chemical coolant that boiled at 357 degrees permitted engines to run at 250 degrees and develop more power. The latest Allisons are to run above 300 degrees and this rate may go higher.

The army contracted for an Allison in 1933. In that year a C model engine weighing 1,122 pounds was sent to Wright field. It delivered 800 horse power at 2,400 r. p. m. Two years later an improved model was rated 1,000 horse power at 2,650 r. p. m. This was test flown in a Consolidated PB-2 fighter, but no production orders were forthcoming because of minor imperfections.

Late in 1935 Gilman decided on a complete redesign of the engine. Ronald M. Hazen, who had been working on the engine for four years, did the job in three months. On June 13, 1936, the first new model was delivered to the army. A disappointing series of minor troubles—a crack in the head of one cylinder bank, failure of cylinder hold down studs—delayed passing the air corps 150 hour type approval test until 1937.

More Refinements Made.

This was the C8 model. Refinements continued apace. The next step was an increase in take-off power to 1,150 horsepower at 2,950 r. p. m. With this came changes that helped engine reliability and extended overhaul periods. The motor's lubrication system was altered to permit the crankshaft to turn 3,500 r. p. m. in dives without injury. Then came the geared and shafted engines.

The first army quantity order was for the C-13 engine and it came three months before war began in Europe. Problems then changed. There were 7,000 items in assembling the V-12 [altho only 700 different kinds of pieces]. There were 62 different specifications of metal in a single engine.

F. C. Kroeger and O. T. Kreusser, trusted General Motors men, were put in charge of developing a mass production factory. A hundred men a day were hired until the force now stands at 11,000 men. Almost all were trained by Allison, and as Kreusser says, they included "former soda jerkers, high school boys who never before had worked, white collar workers, and a few former WPA shovel men."

Subcontracting Is Increased.

Subcontracting was raised to a new high level, for only 20 per cent of the engine is machined and finished at Indianapolis. The remaining 80 per cent is prepared by 104 subcontractors in 60 cities [including other General Motors branches].

Even with all the production pressure improvements have not stopped. Currently Allison is on its model F—or sixth type with major changes—engine. This is 30 pounds lighter than the preceding E engine, has 10 per cent less frontal area, is 10 inches shorter and 175 horse power stronger. This is the 1,325 horse power motor. At the moment the company is driving toward 1,500 horse power for take-off coupled with long trouble-free periods of operation.

BUTTER AND EGG FUTURES FALL TO TWO MONTH LOWS

Butter and eggs sold off in an accelerated trade to the lowest levels in about two months on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday. Butter futures closed .15 to .25 cent lower and slightly below government support levels. The March storage standard contract was 32.95 cents a pound at the close.

The Dairy Production Marketing association purchased 170,000 pounds of butter in Chicago and 108,000 in New York to support markets.

Egg futures closed .05 cent higher to .25 cent lower, with some October refrigerator contracts closed at 31.35 cents a dozen. The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation purchased 939,330 dozen eggs Tuesday, its largest purchase of shell eggs in six weeks.

NORTH WESTERN NOTES SOLD TO BANKING GROUP

A syndicate headed by the First Boston corporation was the successful bidder yesterday for $3,750,000 Chicago and North Western railway 2½ per cent equipment trust certificates maturing serially from 1943 to 1952. The certificates were offered publicly at prices to yield 0.85 to 2.80 per cent.

The Minneapolis-Honeywell Regulator company filed with the Securities and Exchange commission a registration statement covering 25,000 shares of $100 par cumulative preferred stock, series C, to be underwritten and offered to the public by a group headed by the Union Securities corporation.

NEW YORK CURB EXCHANGE SHOWS LOSS FOR YEAR

New York, Feb. 25 [Special].—Operations of the New York Curb exchange last year resulted in a net loss of $93,461, altho income exceeded operating expenses. Before depreciation of $104,949 and amortization of other items amounting to $8,233, the Curb showed an operating profit of $57,311, against $5,514 in the preceding fiscal year.

The decline of $93,461 in members' equities included a "house cleaning" in the books. The institution wrote off $18,226 on its $25,000 investment in bonds of the New York World's fair, $6,287 on uncollectible membership dues and $2,825 on provision for insurance reserve.

It also wrote off $10,457, its share of the cost of buying and retiring 21 memberships last year. Among ordinary expenses it wrote off $3,539 for organization expense of the Curb Clearing corporation. Annual dues dropped $21,000 owing to retirements of seats.

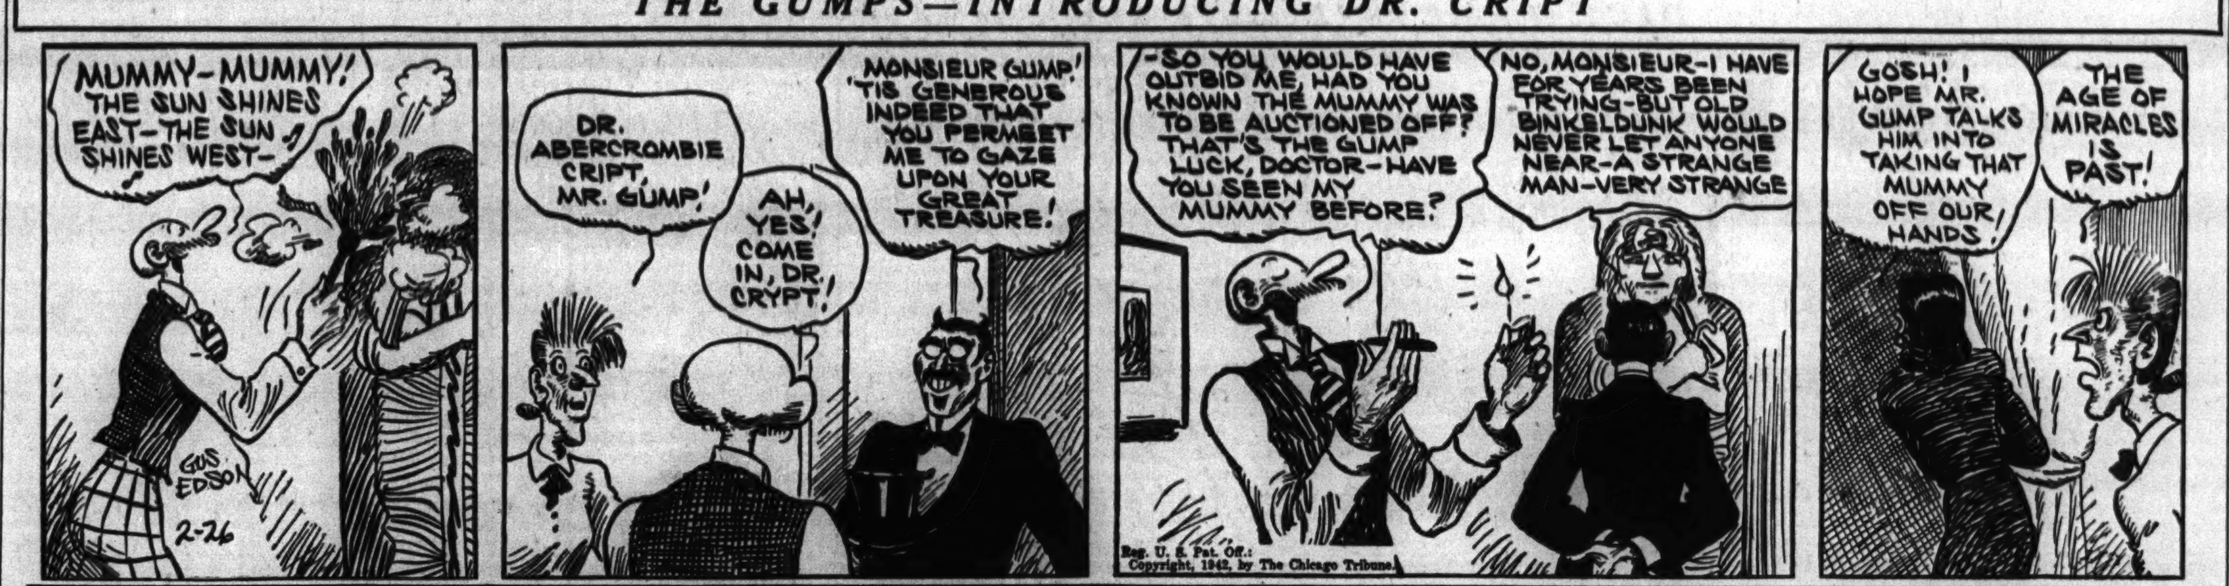
THE GUMPS—INTRODUCING DR. CRIPT



MUMMY-MUMMY! THE SUN SHINES EAST—THE SUN SHINES WEST—
GUS EDSON
DR. ABERCROMBIE CRIPT, MR. GUMP!
AH, YES! COME IN, DR. CRIPT.
MONSIEUR GUMP! 'TIS GENEROUS INDEED THAT YOU PERMIT ME TO GAZE UPON YOUR GREAT TREASURE!
—SO YOU WOULD HAVE OUTBID ME, HAD YOU KNOWN THE MUMMY WAS TO BE AUCTIONED OFF? THAT'S THE GUMP LUCK, DOCTOR—HAVE YOU SEEN MY MUMMY BEFORE?
NO, MONSIEUR—I HAVE FOR YEARS BEEN TRYING—BUT OLD BINKELDUNK WOULD NEVER LET ANYONE NEAR—A STRANGE MAN—VERY STRANGE
GOSH! I HOPE MR. GUMP TALKS HIM INTO TAKING THAT MUMMY OFF OUR HANDS!
THE AGE OF MIRACLES IS PAST!

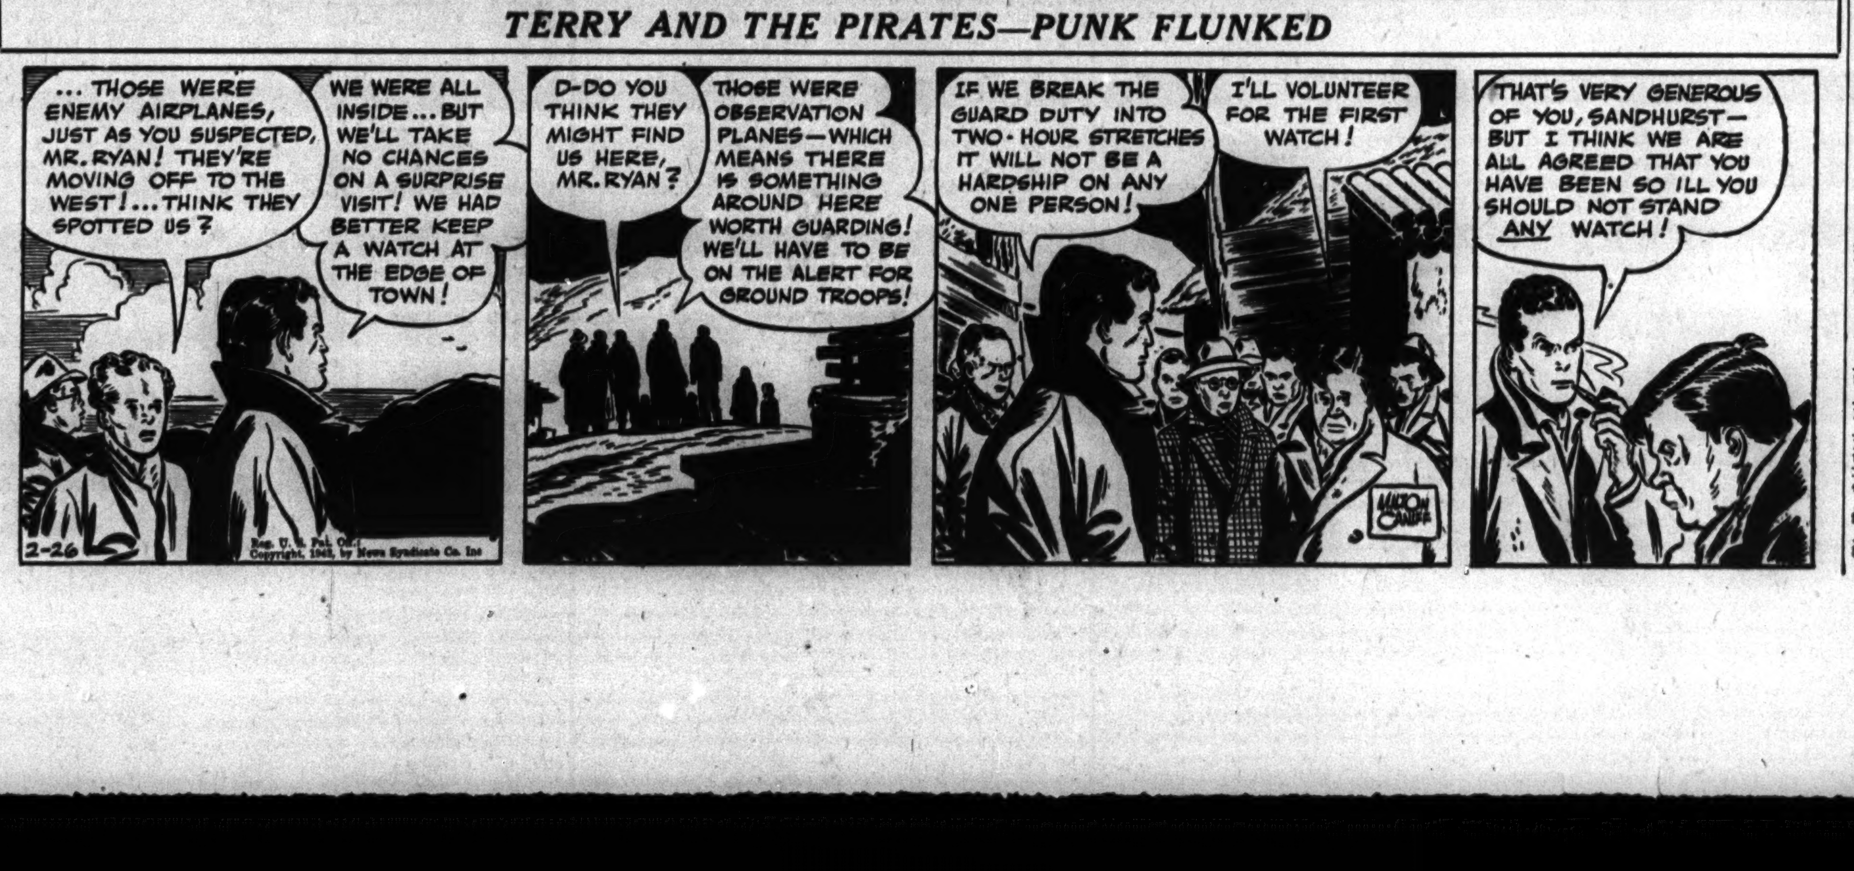
TERRY AND THE PIRATES—PUNK FLUNKED



... THOSE WERE ENEMY AIRPLANES, JUST AS YOU SUSPECTED, MR. RYAN! THEY'RE MOVING OFF TO THE WEST! ... THINK THEY SPOTTED US?
WE WERE ALL INSIDE ... BUT WE'LL TAKE NO CHANCES ON A SURPRISE VISIT! WE HAD BETTER KEEP A WATCH AT THE EDGE OF TOWN!
D-DO YOU THINK THEY MIGHT FIND US HERE, MR. RYAN?
THOSE WERE OBSERVATION PLANES—WHICH MEANS THERE IS SOMETHING AROUND HERE WORTH GUARDING! WE'LL HAVE TO BE ON THE ALERT FOR GROUND TROOPS!
IF WE BREAK THE GUARD DUTY INTO TWO-HOUR STRETCHES IT WILL NOT BE A HARDSHIP ON ANY ONE PERSON!
I'LL VOLUNTEER FOR THE FIRST WATCH!
THAT'S VERY GENEROUS OF YOU, SANDHURST—BUT I THINK WE ARE ALL AGREED THAT YOU HAVE BEEN SO ILL YOU SHOULD NOT STAND ANY WATCH!

This is an enlargement of a color cartoon by Carey Orr which appeared in a recent issue of The Tribune. It is reproduced here in poster form and by popular request so that it may be hung in conspicuous places to serve as an inspiration to all those on the home front who are eager to do their part toward the defeat of the enemy.
